Joseph L. Richards, of Ayr township, left at this office a pictorial chart of the Andersonville Prison, where so many of the brave men of the Union army were confined during the Rebellion, and the chart which now hangs in this office has been examined with much interest by the many court people who have been in the News office during the week. The chart is 3 x 5 feet, and depicts the horrors of confinement in that terrible pen. Mr. Richards spent the time from August 1865 until January 1866 in the prison, having been detailed there to assist in superintending the reburial of the Union soldiers whose bodies had been so carelessly buried there during the war.
