She Sews For Bachelors.

How much money an uneducated woman, without a cent of capital, can make by conducting as a business what many other women have long made a makeshift of is shown by the success met by a certain wagon driver's widow who is visiting every young bachelor business man she hears of with the offer to wash, iron, and sew buttons on all his clothing for the sum of $1 a

From the day she gets a man's business she washes his solled clothes so immaculately, knits up the rents so neatly, sews on the buttons so firmly, and brings each week's consignment back so promptly that her many customers now look back on their slovenly public laundry days as a nightmare. The woman began soon after her husband's death with only one cus-tomer, and struggled on for a long time with only a few. Then she got the entree into one of the big Young Men's Christian Association buildings, and by doing perfect work came out victorious in a competition with the basement barber, who gets a commission as agent for an un-usually vicious laundry in the neigh-barboad borhood.

Now the woman's son is busy all day making collections and deliverher neighbor's eldest daughter is employed as her assistant, the family income is about twice as large as when the woman's husband was alive, and the woman herself de-votes her energies to getting new business in other Young Men's Chris-tlan Associations and bachelor apartments and boarding houses .- New

THE WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Methods Used in the Campaign of Education in New York.

Were a war in the United States to take off every year 150,000 persons we would be horrifled beyond measure. Yet this is the estimate of the American loss from tuberculosis.

A feature of the State campaign has been a kind of tuberculosis revival meeting, a mass meeting at which the citizens are stimulated by speakers of experience and wide reputation to an awakened social conscience. Recently the New York committee distributed among the Italian tenement house population 10,000 colored pictures of a canal in Venice. On the borders of the hanging picture are printed simple instructions about the care and prevention of the dis-

Only five years ago the committee on the prevention of tuberculosis of the Charlty Organization Society of the city of New York was appointed. What has this committee done?

The handbook and the directory of organizations, sanatoria and hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis in the United States not only have been of great assistance to pioneers in tuberculosis work, but have had a direct influence in forming public opinion and creating a general interest in preventive measures all over the country. The "don't" card, which in aimple innguage gives suggestions regarding the prevention of tuberculosis, has become a standard form of literature for general didactic use. Its circulation has literally run up into the millions. Lectures on tuberculosis, mainly stereopticon, given during the five years under the auspices of the committee, have reached an audience of some 150,000 persons. The traveling tuberculosis exhibition, containing models, photographs, charts, etc., has been shown in many places in New York City to probably half a million people.

In the summer of 1907 the committee resurrected for day camp purposes an old city ferry boat, and proved in one summer that at relalively small cost increased weight, good color and a lasting appreciation of fresh air and cleanlinces can be gained by consumptive "stay at lomes."

Especially important has been the establishment of ten special tuberculosis clinics and the organization of a system of distinct dispensaries, which prevent overlapping and duplication of effort and look toward the altimate dispensary control of tubersulosis .- Review of Reviews.

Division of Time.

Though the fundamental division of time, the day, appears intuitive to most persons, it is well to remember that in the arctic regions the marking of this division is by no means easy. During several successive months the sun is either always below or always above the horizon, and the only method-a very uncertain one - of listinguishing between day and night is to observe the times of high and low tide. Division of time into months comes from the motions of the moon. Malays, Polynesians and Australian aborigines reckon time exclusively by months and days.

That greater unit of time, the year. sharacterized by the regular succestion of the seasons, has presented the greatest difficulties to exact determination, partly because the seasons are not sharply distinguished in some re gions, partly because of the universal desire to establish among the year. month and day simple relations which find no support in the facts of astronomy
