Could Not Smell Nor Hear. Mrs. A. L. Wetzel, 1023 Ohio St., Terre Haute. Ind., writes:

"When I began to take your medicine I could not smell, nor hear a church beliring. Now I can both smell and hear.

"When I began your treatment my head was terrible. I had buzzing and chirping noises in my head.

"I followed your advice faithfully and took Peruna as you told me. Now I might say I am well.

"I want to go and visit my mother and see the doctor who said I was not long for this world. I will tell him it was Peruna that cured me."

Begged His Way To Riches.

A beggar who admits that he is worth $150,000 and says he owns property in three cities is a patient at the City Hospital. He says he made his money by playing upon the sympathies of passers-by as he stood selling shoestrings on street corners, with an "I am blind" sign pinned to his coat. Kindhearted men some times gave him $5 for a pair of strings, he says.

The wealthy beggar is George Davis, 70 years old. His "earnings" here have averaged $200 a month, he says.—Philadelphia Record.

China's Baby Emperor.

Poor little Pu Yi finds himself at the age of 3 called upon to rule over a population of some 430,000, 000 and an area of 4,250,000 square miles. It would seem to be a job for a man full grown. The esti-mated population of the United States, including our insular dependencies, is something less than 100,-000,000 and our area 3,750,000 square miles. And the President of the United States is certainly not likely to find a single hour of the working day hanging heavy on his hands.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Why Preachers Live Long.

The British statistics of mortality, just published, show what we all before that more clergymen live to old age than the members of any other profession. What is What is the reason? In part that they are a little older in entering their profession than in almost any other busness, which cuts out, in the statis tics, those that die before 25. Next, they live a regular life, with no excesses; and they take a moderate amount of exercise, while mostly protected against exposure. Then something may be credited to the philosophy of religion, which tends to an equable frame of mind.—In-

HISTORICAL DESCRIPTION OF THE REGION IN ITALY DEVASTATED BY EARTHQUAKES AND TIDAL WAVES

Messina, the Ruined City, is 2700 Years Old and Has Had Many Masters and Catastrophes.

Studied with maps and accounts of the more recent of the great earthquake disasters of Italy, it is seen that in the latest catastrophe the disturbance reached the surface on the northern border, close to Swiss territory. Bomodossolo is among the Alps, and the mountain range seems the surface of the carth, which has the standpoint of steamboat traffic. The principal object of interest to tourists, apart from the scenic attractions of the place, is the cathedral, which was begun in 1098, at the time to have been the route of the earth- which was begun in 1098, at the time following the Apennines.
