Deafness Cannot Be Cured

Typical applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running ear, or it may be perfectly healed, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. No cases out of ten are cured by cathartics, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give you Harned's Deafness Cure in case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sold by Druggists. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Guessing At Population.

Congressional preparation for taking the 1910 census has started statutory work to making estimates of the population of the country and prediction of what it will be in 1950.

James J. Hill recently offered the prediction that the United States would have a population of 250,000,000 by 1950, although other experts in vital statistics place the number as low as 175,000,000.

One of the census experts, W. S. Rosster, has just published an article in which he estimates the population in 1910 at about 114,000,000 and ventures the assertion that after that date the rate of increase will be very small, with the prospect that the entire population in 1950 will not exceed 130,000,000.

The record shows that the rate of our population increase is diminishing with each decennial census. The increase from 1870 to 1880 was 31 per cent, from 1880 to 1890 it was 24 per cent, from 1890 to 1900 it was 21 per cent. Mr. Rosster argues that if this declining ratio continues the population in 1950 will not exceed 130,000,000, and will thereafter remain about stationary. He shows by the records that all estimates of population at former census periods have been greatly exaggerated.

A Potential Celebrity.

There is a story of Carlyle in his old age having taken the following farewell, in his broadest Scotch, of a young friend who had had him in charge for walks, and who, while almost always adapting himself to Carlyle's mood, had on a single occasion ventured to disagree with him:

"I would have you to know, young man, that you have the capacity of being the greatest bore in Christendom."—Arkonaat.

JOY WORK

And the Other Kind.

Did you ever stand on a prominent corner at an early morning hour and watch the throngs of peeing boys and way to work? Noting the number who were forcing themselves along because it meant their daily bread, and the others cheerfully and eagerly pursuing their way because of love of their work.

It is a fact that one's food has much to do with it. As an example: If an engine has poor oil, or a boiler is fired with poor coal, a bad result is certain, isn't it?

Treating your stomach right is the keynote that sustains the arch of health's temple, and you will find "Grape-Nuts" as a daily food is the most nourishing and beneficial you can use.

We have thousands of testimonials, real genuine little heart throbs, from people who simply tried Grape-Nuts out of curiosity—as a last resort—with the result that prompted the testimonial.

If you have never tried Grape-Nuts it's worth while to give it a fair, impartial trial. Remember there are millions eating Grape-Nuts every day—they know, and we know, if you will use Grape-Nuts every morning your work is more likely to be joy-work, because you can keep well, and with the brain well nourished work is a joy. Read the "Road to Well-being" in every package.—There's a Reason.

BOY SHOOT PEDDLER.

Foreigner Totally Blinded by Shot Fired From Ambush.

Clarion (Special).—Frank Mealey, 17 years old, son of David Mealey, of Washington Township, this county, was arrested and placed in the county jail, charged with having deliberately shot, with intent to kill, a Syrian peddler, selling Oriental faces. The peddler is still living, but remains unconscious.

He had stayed over Sunday at Mealey's home, and when passing through a wooded section of the road in leaving on Monday morning was shot by young Mealey, who, it is alleged, was lying in wait in ambush for him. The shot was fired from a shotgun and struck the foreigner in the head and face, totally blinding his sight and mortally wounding him.

Mealey refuses to talk to the authorities of the affair, and deports himself in an unconcerned manner. The boy's parents say the son was hunting, and that the shooting was accidental, but the story is given little credence owing to the circumstances surrounding the shooting, chief among which is the fact that Mealey concealed himself in the woods by lying behind a fallen tree, from which position he could obtain a clear view of the road along which the peddler passed.

Mealey's position there is readily determined, the police say, by following his tracks through the recently fallen snow of the night previous, which show him to have lain down to conceal himself.

The peddler is said to have had considerable money on his person, which he showed during his stay at the Mealey home.

BRIDE LOSSES SIGHT.

Young Scranton Woman Assaulted By Burglar.

Scranton (Special).—Heroic remedies are being used to restore the eyesight and speech of Mrs. Danie Mahoney, of North Rebecca Avenue, who was brutally assaulted in her home by a bold daylight robber. The victim, who is a bride of three months, is a mere girl and she is now a complete nervous wreck.

No shocking was her experience that she entirely lost her sight and speech. From daylight up to about 10 o'clock, at which time she lost the power to talk, she begged pitifully for her attendant to open the blinds of the windows, and cried out hysterically that the man who had assaulted her was in the room and about to choke her. This led to the disclosure that she had gone blind. Then she became totally dumb and it was not until morning that she showed signs of improvement.

The woman's assailant gained entrance through a rear door while she was in the front of the house, and when she faced him he covered her with two revolvers and compelled her to draw all the window shades and accept a clothesline with which he bound her hand and foot.

He thrust a corset into her mouth for a gag and when she made an outcry he struck her several times in the face with the butt of his revolver. Then he leisurely packed up a quantity of jewelry and other valuables and slipped away.

It was not until three hours later that he was discovered by neighbors, unconscious and half dead from loss of blood. Friends of the family are subscribing a thousand dollars to be offered as a reward for the capture of the fellow.

All of the children, who were foreigners, were terribly mutilated, two of them having their eyes burned out.

MOTOR SUPERSTITIONS.

The men who take part in big motor races are a hard headed lot, but they have a few pet superstitions just the same. It is almost impossible to get any of them to accept the No. 13, for instance, and is another number considered by them to be unlucky, as well as 23.

An entrant in the 1906 Vanderbilt cup race who wrecked his car against a telegraph pole and had his ribs broken attributed his misfortunes to the fact that his car was No. 7 and that he was 23 years old.

A large number of drivers feel that to discard a hat or cap that has been in any successful event would be to invite disaster in the next. A certain chauffeur has worn an old soft hat in all his races for the last few years, and would refuse to take the wheels if it were lost or stolen. It is a battered gray felt that has been washed so many times in the gasoline tank that its original shape can only be guessed at, the crown lining is missing, and the leather band inside has been clumsily mended in several places with coarse, white thread by the motorist's own hand, but he clings to it with an affection born of long association and a firm belief in its power as a mascot.

Another driver pinned his faith to a little pearl pig hung on his watch chain. He lost it one day, and, strange to say, in spite of his previous record, he has never won a race since.

Speedy Barber.

"It was one of those sleepy, one-horse, back-water towns, like Squash," said Representative Burton, describing at a Hot Springs dinner a town that, disesteemed by a "squash" is the limit. A gentleman arrived there the other day and wanted a haircut. He found the barber shop, and after shaking the barber vigorously, managed to awaken him.

"How long will it take you to cut my hair, barber?" he asked.

"Not long, boss," said the barber. "And he arose, yawned and stretched himself. Then he called upstairs to his wife:

"Hey, send the kid down to the newspaper office to tell the editor I want my scissors just as soon as he's done editin' the paper. There's a gent here waitin' for a haircut."—Washington Star.

Was So Scarcely Irritating and Painful That Little Sufferer Could Not Sleep—Scratched Constantly—Cuticura's Efficacy Proven.

"When about two and a half years old my daughter broke out on her hips and the upper parts of her legs with a very irritating and painful eruption. It began in October; the first I noticed was a little red surface and a constant desire on her part to scratch her limbs. She could not sleep and the eruptions got sore, and yellow water came out of them. I had two doctors treat her, but she grew worse under their treatment. Then I bought the Cuticura Remedies and only used them two weeks when she was entirely well. This was in February. She has never had another rough place on her skin, and she is now fourteen years old. Mrs. R. K. Whitaker, Winchester, Tenn., Sec. 22, 1908."

Salt Farming.

One of the strangest farms in the world is situated in Southern California, 265 feet below the level of the sea. The place is known as Salton. It is a salt farm of about 1,000 acres.

Here the salt lies, as deposited by nature, from 6 inches to 16 inches in depth. The salt farmers are busy harvesting this crop the year round; and, though the harvest has continued for over 20 years, during which time more than 40,000 tons of salt have been harvested, only 10 of the 1,000 acres of the farm have been worked. The salt is first plowed up into furrows; it is then thrown into conical piles by men with barrows, after which it is taken to the reduction works near by and put into marketable condition.

The work is done by Mexicans and Chinese, the intense heat being more than Americans can endure.
