CONDENSED FOR HURRIED READERS

Plenty of Glauber Salts and Horse Powders. At Seylar's.

Harry E. Huston, Saltillo, Pa., will pay 12c lb. for country side; 14c for Shoulder; 16c lb. for ham; 16c d. z. for eggs.

J. K. Tittle, of Fort Loudon, was on this side of the mountain greeting his many old friends Wednesday.

Alabastine is the most economical, the most durable, and the most easily applied—of all wall coverings. You get it at Seylar's drug store.

No matter how much money a man may have he does not like to be defrauded. If he buys a coat he wants the cloth to be just what the merchant says it is; if he buys a barrel of apples he is indignant if he discovers that the big apples have been put in the ends of the barrel and small or unsound ones between, and he decides not to deal again with the man from whom he bought them. No man wins permanent success who does not deal fairly with his customers.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the best known pills and the best pills made, are easy to take and act gently and are certain. We sell and recommend them. Trout's drug store.

The past winter has been the mildest that has been seen for many years, as well as the most erratic. Its sudden shifts from cold to warm, its tremendous wind storms, its spring like showers and its lack of snow and ice have made it remarkable. That the climate of the eastern states has been undergoing a change in the past ten years is an assertion made by scientists, and it seems to be born out by the figures and statistics of the weather bureau and especially by the weather of this winter.

Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. It not only heals irritation and allays inflammation, thereby stopping the cough, but it also moves the bowels gently and in that way drives the cold from the system. It contains no opiates. Sold by Trout's drug store.

An exchange says that a lawyer charges a man $10 for 10 minutes' conversation—the man insists on paying it. A doctor charges $1 for a prescription and the patient says: "Oh, pshaw—is that enough?" An undertaker charges $100 for conducting a funeral and he is perfectly lovely with everybody inside and outside the family. A man buys a gold brick and apologizes for not having bitten before. An editor walks a mile in the hot sun to get the facts of a death or wedding or social function and spends three hours writing it up and tells lies praising people until he hates himself. Then if he makes an insignificant omission, or charges 5 cents straight for three extra copies he is a stung, careless, good-for-nothing old cuss, who never gets anything right and charges four times the price of city papers twice as large.

Barton and children spent Sunday at H. N. Barton's. Miss Minnie Lynch spent Sunday with Miss Celia Barton. Penrose Seaman and father of Newport, Pa., spent a few days last week in the home of O. A. Barton.

Ross Hixson left last Wednesday for the Methodist Hospital, Philadelphia, where he will receive treatment for his eye.

For Lower Postage.

A bill has been introduced in congress which provides that beginning January 1, 1910, the rate of postage on all letters mailed within the United States for domestic points, including drop letters shall be one cent per ounce or fraction of an ounce. Another bill provides for the consolidation of third and fourth class mail matter under the title "merchandise," for the establishment of a parcel post and for the insurance of all mail matter against loss or damage. All of which will probably fall of passage, as has previously been the case.

NEW GREENADA.

Mr. G. W. Smith, of Waynesburg, Pa., visited his brother-in-law, Hon. James A. McDonough, a few days. Mrs. Smith is still taking care of Jim in the day time, and Harry Foster, at night. Mr. McDonough was able to sit up awhile last Sunday.

Jacob S. Black moved to Robertsburg on Thursday of last week to run the Company Boarding House. Unfortunately for Mr. Black on the very day he got into the boarding house, the miners closed down work indefinitely. We are very sorry to lose from our neighborhood such good neighbors and friends.

Jacob Crider moved from the Crider House, on Brooklyn side of town to the house vacated by Mr. Black's family.

Elder Reidel is holding a series of meetings in Bethel. The famous Chamberlain and Winfield singers of Sixmile Run, favored us with some fine music. Saturday evening, Sunday morning, and Sunday evening.

George W. Thomas has moved from the Valley to Saltillo.

Cloyd Black was on the sick list a few days, but we are glad to be able to report him out again.

Stella Gracey, of Gracey, visited friends in this neighborhood a few days.

D. D. G. M. William Alloway installed the officers of Waterfall Lodge, No. 773 L. O. O. F., last Saturday evening.

Mrs. George Gress and John Deshong, of Bethlehem, were guests in the home of Harry Gasser and wife Saturday evening and Sunday.

J. H. Edwards, of Philadelphia, is visiting his mother, Mary S. Edwards in the Valley.

Not the Salary But the Opportunity.

"If the laborer gets no more than the wages his employer offers him, he is cheated; he cheats himself."

It is said that Bismarck really founded the German Empire when working for a small salary as secretary to the German legation in Russia; for in that position he absorbed the secrets of strategy and diplomacy which later were used so effectively for his country. He worked so assiduously, so efficiently, that Germany prized his services more than those of the ambassador himself. If Bismarck had earned only his salary, he might have remained a perpetual clerk, and Germany a tangle of petty states.

I have never known an employe to rise rapidly, or ever to get beyond mediocrity, whose pay envelope was his goal, who could not see infinitely more in his work than what he found in the envelope on Saturday night. That is a mere incident, a necessity, but the larger part of the real pay of a real man's work is outside of the pay envelope.

One part of this outside salary is the opportunity of the employe to absorb the secrets of his employer's success, and to learn from his mistakes, while he is being paid for learning his trade or profession. The other part, and the best of all, is the opportunity for growth, for development, for mental expansion; the opportunity to become a larger, broader, more efficient man.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

For Homesteaders.

By an order of the Interior Department, about three million acres of land in the counties along the eastern border of Wyoming are to be thrown open at once to homesteaders, who will be allowed to take either one hundred and sixty or three hundred and twenty acres. The land cannot be irrigated, and will be of use, therefore, only for "dry farming." Those who take the full three hundred and twenty acre entries must make an attempt to cultivate the land, while those who go in on the smaller holdings will not be compelled by the law to do so. The throwing open of this territory is somewhat in the nature of an experiment to see what can be done with such land.

The Kind Mother Used to Make.

As the News stated last week "white bread" is to be abolished in this country. This refers to the ruling of the Secretary of Agriculture that millers must not bleach flour. The ruling has gone into effect, so that no more white flour will be made, but millers will have until June 3 to dispose of their white stock. The new flour will be cream colored instead of white, that is, just the natural color as it comes from the grain. Hence there will be no more white bread, but the bread of the future should be golden in color, if the flour is standard. As to the taste, the golden bread will be like the white, with one editor claiming an added quality to commend itself to the consumer, that it will be just like that which "mother used to make" in the good old days before bleached flour came into vogue.

Woman And Her Hat.

The following from the Philadelphia Inquirer is about the best we have seen on the peach basket hat:

"A mournful correspondent (married man, of course), writes to know what he shall do to make his wife wear a decent looking hat. He can't do anything. In the capacity of first aid to the injured we are ready to do anything except reorganize the female sex on a sensible basis. The job has been under way since our ancestors lived in trees, and we see not the slightest result in the way of solution.

If your wife and daughters insist on wearing peach baskets covered with wings and vegetables and ribbons until they look—well, like words which it is not lawful to utter—grim and bear it like a man. It is given mankind to get the stern discipline of life through suffering, not only that of the physical sort, but of the kind that makes the iron enter the soul. But what's the use of complaining; When you can do nothing at all, do it as bravely as you can.

Our own opinion is that women of the present time go around looking like jays. If men should compel them to wear such abominations there would be riot, but where fashion dictates woman is adamant as against all argument. Our correspondent should cheer up and remember the saying of old Joe Miller: "Married men do not live longer than bachelors; it only seems longer."

Opposed to Race Suicide.

The subject up for discussion was big families and one of the group happened to remember that a man named George A. Hartzell, who lives at the Aqueduct, in Perry county, has some claim to distinction in that direction. Mr. Hartzell is the father of twenty-three children, ten of whom are living. He is a well preserved man at the age of 73 years. He has followed his trade of blacksmithing for many years.
