Didn't Help
 Four-year-old Helen wished to get into the playground, but the gate (which had been put at the door to keep her baby brother in) was locked. She tried again and again to climb over it, when at last her mother heard her say: "Dear God, please help me get over this gate." Just then she tumbled over, and said: "Never mind, I got over myself."—Harper's Magazine.

Often Need Helpful Stimulation.
 The kidneys are the busiest organs of the body, filtering as they do all the blood every three minutes. They show signs of wear through pain in the back and irregular urination. Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney ills in old or young. Mrs. Mary C. Phelps, 4 Spring street, Westfield, Mass., says:

Worked His Way
 "Comptroller Metz, of New York, said of a bill he drafted that he objected to the bill because it would accomplish nothing; it would make no real change; it would be like the case of the actor and the canal boat captain," said Richard W. Harris, of New York, at the New Willard.

"There was once upon a time an actor who, after an enforced idleness of two months, was lucky enough to secure an engagement in a town 25 miles away. The actor had to reach the distant town that night. If he failed to arrive, then his part would be assigned to some one else.

"Well, the man pined his worn boots with thread, patched up his few belongings in a newspaper, and set out in the early morning on foot along the towpath. He had only a few coppers, hence the train was an impossibility.

"But for the poor fellow had covered some six or seven miles his boots gave out, blisters rose on his feet, fatigue overcame him, and in despair he threw himself on the grass beneath a tree.

"As he lay there, in a bitter mood, a canal boat hove in sight. It drew near slowly, and an idea seized the actor.

"'Captain,' he shouted, rising hurriedly, 'Captain, pull up, for the love of heaven.'

"'Well, wot 'ye want?' said the captain as he stopped his boat. 'Captain,' said the actor, 'I have to get to Quag tonight to play second tenor in 'The Evil That Men Do.' I am footsore and weary and can walk no further. If you will assist me I will work my passage.'

"The captain gave the actor a kindly nod.

"'Right 'ya're,' he said. 'Lead the boss.'"—Washington Herald.

SISTER'S TRICK

But it all Came out Right.
 How a sister played a trick that brought rosy health to a coffee fiend is an interesting tale.

"I was a coffee fiend—a trembling, nervous, physical wreck, yet clinging to the poison that stole away my strength. I mocked at Postum and would have none of it.

They claim the early disappearance of ice and snow has raised the temperature of the water, which is remarkably clear. The mild weather caused the thaw to be gradual, doing away with icy waters, cold and muddy, causing much joy in nimrod circles.

To add to the bright outlook thousands of trout fry from the State hatcheries have been deposited in the numerous streams herabouts for the last three seasons by the local anglers, who now hope to be rewarded for all their trouble in the past.

COMMERCIAL COLUMN

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says:
 Weather, crop and industrial reports are still irregular, with more than ordinary quiet noted in most lines. Wholesale trade feels the effect of tariff discussion and uncertainty, and while a fair business is doing no excess of late year in nearly all lines, disappointment is expressed at the total volume of trade in the first quarter. Buying from jobbers is conservative and orders are numerous rather than large and of a between-season character at best. Retail trade has been hampered by stormy weather, but the approach of Easter is reflected in some improvement in demand, largely in woman's wear fabrics and materials. Western trade is relatively better than that of the East in this line, but cool weather arrests expansion of the country over.

"In industrial lines generally operations are quiet to dull, with the iron and steel trade, where prices are weaker, one of the apparently least favorably situated lines.

"Wage reductions are becoming more numerous, especially in the iron and allied trades. In the United States for the week were 226, against 224 last week; 286 in the like week of 1908, 166 in 1907, 169 in 1906 and 27 in 1905.

"Wheat—including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 2,935,715 bushels, against 1,864,013 bushels last week and 2,289,964 bushels this week last year."

RHEUMATISM

I want every chronic rheumatic to throw away all medicine, all treatments, all doctors, and give MINSKY'S RHEUMATISM REMEDY a trial. No matter what your doctor may say, no matter what your friends may say, no matter how long you have been afflicted with rheumatism, if at once you try my drug and get a bottle of the RHEUMATISM REMEDY, it will take care of your rheumatism, and you will never be troubled with it again. It is put up under the guarantee of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Corporal Punishment.

The moral delinquency of the rising generation is attracting the earnest attention of students of social and moral questions throughout the world. To check this, many remedial and disciplinary plans are being suggested. The lack of parental instruction and discipline is one fruitful cause of moral delinquency. Many feel that the school must assume this duty which the parent neglects. Every child must be taught obedience to law and a higher authority. A return to corporal punishment in the public schools, therefore, being advocated by many teachers and publicists.

President Hall of Clark University has recently proposed some novel remedies for the waywardness of American youth. He says that it sounds "redundant from lawyers and teachers usually has a salutary effect, especially if the scolding, when necessary, is followed up by punishment which has fallen still more into desuetude."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Modest Expectations.

"Sometimes church officials are over-conscious of the dignity of their importance," says the Rev. P. H. Ditchfield, in his entertaining volume, "The Old-Fashioned Pastor," "and even their wives are not without a sense of reflected glory. On one occasion a new church warden's wife came late to church, just when the people were rising from their knees. She smiled genially, and said 'Oh, pray don't rise for me; I don't expect it!'"

A Painful Expression.

William G. Rockefeller is the president of the National League Club and an authority on dogs no less than on finance. Discussing the training of dogs at a recent club meeting, Mr. Rockefeller said: "Yes, training is an art. The simplest appearing canine performance is, properly understood, a difficult thing. It looks easy—but it is hard; and thus—'Mr. Rockefeller smiled—'thus it is like the man at the photographer's."

Plenty Of Precedent.

"Will that young man ever go home?" demanded the irritated head of the household.
 "I guess so, father," replied the mater familias. "He always has."
 —Washington Herald.

A Knowledgeous Person.

An English marvel has come to this country to answer any question as to quantity or date that may be asked him. It is said that knowledge is power, and according to this, that man must be a powerful man, but on the other hand, it is very like he is nothing of the kind. A man may know so much that the knowledge is in his way and interferes with his thinking and doing.

Knowledge is power only when it is put to work, and to reach this point there must be a disposition or resolution in this person to be something. Always getting knowledge, but never assimilating it or putting it to some good use, is apt to make the individual negative if not worthless. So our educational institutions should have some purpose along the side of instruction. The person who cannot or will not make the fact he has learned vital is not educated. Industrial training recognizes this doctrine, and so does every other true educational purpose.—O. H. State Journal.

THE CRACKING OF PAINT.

Property Owners Can Save Money by Learning the Cause.
 Do you know what is wrong when paint peels, or cracks, or otherwise necessitates premature re-painting? Well, sometimes it hasn't been properly applied—the surface being damp or there being too much turpentine or too much primer.
 But nine times out of ten, the trouble is caused by adulterated white lead.

To avoid all such trouble, every houseowner should know in a general way, when a surface is in proper condition to receive paint, what kind of primer and finishing coats different surfaces require, and how to avoid adulteration in materials.
 A complete painting guide, including a book of color schemes, specifications for all kinds of painting work, and an instrument for detecting adulteration in painting materials, with directions for using it, can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49.

This company, the largest makers of pure white lead, invite tests, by means of the blowpipe (included in outfit), or in any other way, of the purity of the white lead sold under their famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark. That trademark on a keg of white lead is in itself an absolute guarantee of purity and quality.

Mind Your P's And Q's.

The most probable derivation of this phrase is that it comes from the printing office, and not from the fact that the P's and Q's in Roman type very but slightly in form, and that when reversed, as they necessarily are in type, they are easily confounded by young compositors. Another derivation refers to the "score" P and Q were used to designate pions and quarts. Still another derivation refers it to the toupess and queues of olden times.

 Mr. G. T. Roberts of Resaca, Ga., R. F. D. No. 1, Box 43, writes: "I have used your Liniment on a horse for sweeney and effected a thorough cure. I also removed a spavin on a mule. This spavin was as large as a guinea egg. I regard Sloan's Liniment as the most penetrating and effective Liniment I have ever known."
 Mr. H. M. Gibbs, of Lawrence, Kans., R. F. D. No. 3, writes: "Your Liniment is the best that I have ever used.  For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weakness, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.
