About four years ago Mr. Bard purchased from Captain Dixon, the flouring mill, known years ago as the Sipes mill, about a mile north of the Sideling Hill Baptist church. Since purchasing this mill, Mr. Bard has installed a steel 20-foot overshot water wheel, which gives splendid power, except when there is an unusually dry spell, and at such times the mill is equipped with steam power. Mr. Bard has also equipped the mill with the latest improved roller process, and is now prepared to make as good flour as the best of them, besides doing all kinds of chopping, and the grinding of backwheat. The sawmill that he bought from Mr. Maun last week will be removed to his flouring mill, and in a short time they will be prepared to of the late Geo. Summers, died manufacture lumber.
