Men and Women Gossips.

A woman from Woodstock, Illi nois, is going up and down among telling them that man is the orig mal, Simon-pure, blown in thebottle gossip. Women have said something quite like this before and a great deal that was infinite ly worse. There was never a meeting of women's righters at which men were not denounced as gossips, tyrants, enslavers of women, brutes, and the Common Enemy. But among them all, there was none who hated men; they hated only their own husbands.

As to gossiping, men cannot deny the impeachment. And neither can the women. There is a great deal of human nature in both sexes And so the tongue of gossip and misrepresentation once started, never stops. It isn't worth while for the injured party to make denial when he learns of misrepresentations, for hes work while he sleeps, and many beings are so constituted that they would rather believe evil than good report. It is best to be philosophic and conclude that God made gossips and mahgners for some good reason of his own.

But it will not be admitted that man was the first gossip. He has no originality, no inventiveness. Recollect the story of the man and the woman in the desert. It is more than likely that Eve gossiped about the devil. But for all that, man proved himself an apt pupil. Wherefore we say both sexes are equally guilty, for there is a great deal of human nature in both. But don't forget that there is also a great deal of good in both, and that the gossip may be good-hearted and generous. Men and women are not wholly bad by a long shot.

Catching a Tartar.

Arvine's Cyclopedia states that in battle between the Russians and the Tartars a Russian soldier called to his captain saying he had caught a Tartar. "Bring him along, then," was the captain's reply. "Ah, but he won't let me," said the soldier. It then got out that the Tartar had caught the soldier. The phrase "catching a Tartar" is said to have been the outcome of this.

Socialism as Debs Understands It.

Socialists are the real conservors of true property rights, Eugene V. Debs asserts in The Cirčle Magazine for May. It is just because Socialism insists that the individual is entitled to the fruits of his toil and shall be permitted free and unrestricted enjoyment thereof of that.

It demands to collective ownership of capital together with the abolition of the economic categories, rent, interest and profit.

Property is a conventional arrangement, pure and simple. Its laws are of human, not of divine origin, sanction, and regulation. Society has created those laws: society may destroy them. No man enjoys a right of property except by the consent of society. These are truisms that have only to be stated to be understood.

With regard to the vast wealth which Mr Rockefeller has accumulated under existing proper ty arrangements socialists are in different. He may retain possession of his wealth if he so wills; he may leave it to his son when he dies. What socialists contend for is not a redistribution of pres ent wealth, but the abolition of those conventional property arrangements which have enabled Mr. Rockefeller to accumulate a fortune of $500,000,000 within the brief period of forty years.

Under the existing system the primary motive leading to the production and exchange of all wealth is profit, not use. Clotn ing is not made because people want to wear it. Wheat is not grown and animals are not slaugh tered because society needs bread and meat to preserve its members from starvation. All the things which are vitally necessary to the life of mankind, together with those which contribute merely to man's comfort or convenience, are produced and distributed primarily for the reason that producers and traders are able to realize profit there. Society, electing the following of things is purely a secondary consideration.

When Mr. Rockefeller was questioned recently about the actual details of the business of the Standard Oil Company he admitted his ignorance. He retired affairs of the company some years ago. Its operations are now conconducted by other persons, yet Mr. Rockefeller still receives the tion's share of the profits. Mr. Carnegie no longer has anything to do with the actual operations of the steel trust. He no more contributes his labor and talent to the production of steel than Mr. Rockefeller does to the production of oil, yet his profits from the steel business are still very considerable. Mr. Harriman knows very little about the actual operating details of his railroads. He is busy with financial schemes to make his railroads produce dividends. This actual operation is conducted by other men.

As a matter of self preservation society must finally decree the collective ownership of all these great industries, must extinguish the individual right of property therein and so the individual's right to receive tribute therefrom. In that event Mr. Rockefeller may be safely left with his $500,000,000, Mr. Carnegie with his $300,000,000, and Mrs. Geo. Fox, of Lehmaster, Mr. Harriman with his $100,000,and little mece Mary Alice Henry 000. ## Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it. Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if It is weak. You must eat in order to live and maintain strength. You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a suffic-lent amount of food regularly. But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach. The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.
