Spraying Plum Trees, Potato Vines, Etc.

Among the letters recently received by Prof. Surface, State Zoologist, at Harrisburg, was one from a Dauphin county farmer, which should be given wide publicity. The correspondent wrote: "A few years ago my fruit trees were dying from the effects of the San Jose scale. Fortunately, following your advice, I bought a good spray pump and apparatus for using the lime sulfur wash, and began spraying thoroughly fall and spring, and today I have several hundred fine, healthy trees, practically free from scale. On trees that were covered with scale from the tips of the branches to the trunks not a live scale can be found.

"Kindly answer the following questions: (1) How much Paris green to 8 gallons of water can be used safely to spray plum trees? I used a teaspoonful last year to 8 gallons of water and killed many fruit buds. (2) Tell me how to make a spray for potato blight; how much bluestone and lime to use to 50 gallons of water?"

To this State Zoologist Surface replied as follows:

"I certainly thank you for your very kind letter, making such a definite statement concerning the clearing up of your trees and the production of perfect fruit and the growing of healthy trees free from scale, by the use of the lime sulfur wash, following our directions. This is but an example of what every person in this State could have done had they acted equally intelligently, faithfully and persistently. On the other hand I have many reports of persons who wanted something with easier work, even if more expensive, and, consequently, bought the high priced oils, and in many cases killed their trees or injured them so badly that they are now turning to me, asking what can be done to overcome the evil effects of their former action.

"I take great pleasure in replying in detail to the inquiries of such persons as yourself, because it is an inspiration to know that you act intelligently upon the advice given, and regard it as worth something, even though it be free of cost. It is, also, a pleasure to me to know that such efforts on my part are not in vain, but are really helpful. Concerning Paris green, the formula is one pound or sixteen ounces to 150 gallons of water for hardy plants. For plain proportions I would recommend one ounce to each 10 gallons. In fact one ounce to 8 gallons will not be too strong for potatoes. However, I should use three or four times as much lime as Paris green, making milk of lime and straining it into the water with Paris green.

"Also, on plums I would not recommend you to use Paris green if you can get arsenate of lead. The latter sticks better and is much more to be desired. You can buy this of different firms. I would not spray the plum trees until after the blossoms have fallen and the fruit is nearly as large as the average pea.

"To make a spray for potato blight, use three pounds of bluestone and four or five pounds of lime in fifty gallons of water. If you have potato beetles, add one third of a pound of Paris green, or one pound of arsenate of lead to this. I should have told you that there are various formulae recommended for using arsenate varying from one to three or four pounds in fifty gallons of water, but it has been proven that if you use a good quality of arsenate of lead, one pound in fifty gallons will do the poisoning, just the same as though you used three times as much, and, of course, there is less danger of injury and it is more economical."
