McConnellsburg Had It.

Bethesda is the name of a Unit ed Presbyterian church in western Pennsylvania, situate near the forks of the Monongahela and the Youghiogheny rivers, south of Pittsburg. A very pleasant "Home Coming" was held there recently, for the old church was organized before the time of the Declaration of Independence by the original thirteen colonies. Among the interesting reminiscences brought out at the Home Coming meetings was the following account of the first communion at Bethesda. This was in 1775, and like the marriage at Cana, "there was no wine there." To meet this difficulty, Thomas Drennin, an ancestor of the present family of that name, was sent to Mount Pleasant for a supply, and told to go to Bedford for it if he failed there. He did not get any at either place, and rode on to McConnellsburg and back a distance of 250 miles to accomplish his purpose.

This little incident is given merely to show that as far back as 1775, McConnellsburg could be depended upon for some things.

Brought Him to Terms.

Happy is he who finding himself drifting in the direction of a doubtful transaction retreats in time to avoid trouble.

Had it not been for a wise retreat on the part of one of our young friends from Belfast township recently, he might have come to town in a "horseless carriage," himself "seated" between the shafts, while his elder brother would have preceded him sitting comfortably astride the horse.

For the trip the elder had furnished the horse, while the other had contributed the buggy. This joint ownership feature, like a matrimonial bond, went smoothly only while both parties worked in harmony.

Now it suddenly occurred to one of them to turn aside a few rods to see a "friend." This proposal was met by a flat refusal on the part of the owner of the horse, who followed his assertion of equal rights by jumping out of the buggy and demanding an immediate understanding. "All right," said the brother calmly alighting. "Help unhitch; I'll ride the horse, and you can take your buggy." This brought the lad to see matters differently, and like Lee at Appomattox, he surrendered unconditionally.

Value of Spare Moments.

That self made men are usually proud of the job, is an old saying but in the case of our own Prof. Emery Thomas, who for several years has been the efficient principal of the Borough schools, this "old saying" does not go for anything. Not content with taking a Normal School course and graduating at Shippensburg with the Class of 1904, he last week went quietly down to Shippensburg, took an examination in Virgil and Cicero, Chemistry and Zoology, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry and Surveying, and had these branches added to his diploma. This additional work is the product of utilizing his evenings and other spare time that is spent by most people in light amusements, or what is worse—the indulgence of bad habits. Prof. Thomas is proving that a man can lift himself over the fence by pulling on his own bootstraps.

HIRAM.

Miss Smith and Miss Kirk visited in the home of E. H. Kirk last Saturday and Sunday.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Dwelling House of Job Everts in Ayr Township Burned to the Ground Last Thursday Afternoon.

Last Thursday afternoon the family of Job Everts, in Ayr township, were away from home a few hours. Mr. Everts was the first to return. When he was nearing the house he noticed smoke emanating from the roof, and hastening, found that fire was raging in one of the upper rooms. When the door was opened, the draught increased the intensity of the fire, so that there was nothing left for Mr. Everts than to get what furniture out of the house he could handle and let the rest go. A sewing machine, some chairs, and a few other things were about all that could be saved. This is a serious loss to Mr. Everts, as he is a veteran of the Civil War, and, of course, not a young man, and had not taken the precaution to carry a little fire insurance.

Annual Reunion.

The annual reunion of Fulton county people residing in the vicinity of Republic, Ohio, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Decker, one half mile west of Republic on Saturday the 12th of June. The day was fine and the number present was about 120. A lengthy program had been prepared, and was carried out to the entire satisfaction of all.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Roy Decker; Vice President, Dwight L. Mason; Secretary, D. O. Garland; Assistant Secretary, Louis Lenhart.

LASHLEY.

Our farmers are all busy harvesting. Mrs. Mary Seckman visited D. Oakman and family last Sunday.

Gerrude, Viola, and Carrie Bottomfield, and Alice Hixson and Cora Stoner—all returned home several weeks ago, from Philadelphia, where they had employment.

John Seriever is busily engaged building a large barn, which will add much to the appearance of his property.

Oliver True met with a very painful accident last Friday a week. He was bitten very badly by a horse, which crushed his arm between the elbow and wrist, but, we are glad to say he is improving as fast as can be expected.

Those who visited Moses True and family last Sunday, are W. W. H. Kline, Mrs. Martha Kline, Mr. and Mrs. D. Oakman, Mrs. Mary Steckman, James Hoopengardner, John H. Smith, William Morrison, Mrs. G. B. Mellett, Benj. E. Stoner, Orben Hoover, Miss Estella B. Oakman, Amy Smith, Nellie Morgret, W. R. Oakman, Mr. Frank Mason, Chas. Heber, Rachel, James and John Smith, Chester Oakman, Claud, Roy, and Guy Mellett.

Sunbeam Class.

Whether it be dark and gloomy or the day is fair and bright, Asbury Sunday School never sits in darkness. This is due to the bright rays emanating from the "Sunbeam class" which is a hustling band of twenty little girls who seem to catch the spirit of noble self-sacrifice from the untiring efforts of their teacher, who is ever ready to do her Master's bidding and is especially endeavoring to follow the exhortation "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not" etc. The latest achievement of these faithful little workers was to secure by club orders a very beautiful set of dishes and a handsome extension table and place these in the parsonage. The parents and friends at Siloam and other places deserve due credit for assisting the children by ordering them. This shows what our 19th century girls can do and the plays of the Sunbeam class for the future would make our older boys and girls "sit up" and "take notice" but we will not divulge their secret. The following are members of the class: Julia Mumma, Viola Bair, Pauline Hann, Esta DeShong, Myrtle Williams, Rachel DeShong, Ethel Kegarice, Alda Mellott, Carrie Mellott, Ethel DeShong, Rachel Sipes, Hazel Sipes, Edythe Fix, Nellie Kline, Mary Kegarice, Nettie Barber, Pearl Mellott, Goldie Mellott, Goldie Sipes, Alta Sipes.

WELLS TANNERY.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Horton and little daughter, spent last Sunday with Mrs. Horton's father, Mr. Hixson at Crystal Springs.

Great excitement prevailed in our village for a time last Saturday evening. Helen, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horton, in some way got hold of a bottle of laudanum and drank part of the contents. Strenuous efforts were made to keep the child awake until the arrival of Dr. Campbell, when she was relieved in short order.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, of Shelby, Iowa, and Dr. Owen's wife and children, of Elkins, W. Va., are visiting in the Wishart families. The ladies are daughters of David Horton, formerly of Wells Valley.

Clarence Stewart, of Gallitzin, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Stewart. Clarence has been in poor health for some time. We trust that the breathing of the pure mountain air at his old home together with mother's cooking, will make him feel like another boy in a few weeks.

Dorsey Barnett, who is employed in Jesse McClain's store at Broadtop City, spent Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnett.

Miss Nellie Stunkard and Chester Mills, of Hopewell, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stunkard.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatley, of Hopewell, are visiting Mrs. Rebecca Horton.

Miss Maude Baumgardner is expected home to-day (Thursday). Her vacation will last through July.

Mrs. J. W. Gibson, on the 24th of June, invited the ladies and families of Wells Temple to her home to celebrate the 11st anniversary of her husband's birth. Mr. Gibson came up to town to spend the evening and failed to understand why everybody had his Sunday school clothes on. Some one (we will not say who) had to tell him a "little white lie" to get him started home. The evening was spent delightfully. Those present on this occasion were:

W. L. Sprowl, Mrs. W. S. Sprowl, Mrs. Geo. Sprowl, Leta Sprowl, Baley Sprowl, Hayes Bivens, Mrs. Hayes Bivens, Harvey Bivens, John Bivens, LeRoy Bivens, Goldie Bivens, Edith Bivens, Baley Bivens, James A. Horton, Mrs. James A. Horton, James B. Horton, Mrs. James B. Horton, Phoebe Horton, Howard Horton, Laurence Horton, Alfred Stunkard, Mrs. Albert Heisel, Beatie Heisel, Roy Heisel, William Wirick, Mrs. William Wirick, Lillian Burgett, Mrs. W. H. Baumgardner, Minnie Swope, Howard Waring, Frank Gillard, Sarah Tenley.

Mr. Harry E. Gress and family of Lewisburg, Pa., are visiting among their Fulton County friends.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD

The Greatest Newspaper of Its Type.

It Always Tells The News As It IS. Promptly and Fully.

Read in Every English-Speaking Country.

It has invariably been the great effort of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World to publish the news impartially in order that it may be an accurate reporter of what has happened. It tells the truth, irrespective of party, and for that reason it has achieved a position with the public unique among papers of its class.

If you want the news as it really is, subscribe to the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequaled newspaper and THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS together for one year for $1.75.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

Is She Working Herself to Death

Does your wife complain of too much dairy work? Do you ever hear her say she'll never get through washing milk things? How often does she say, "Oh, if I only had fewer pans, crocks and cans to wash, I could read, write or sew more, or even take a little rest each day."

AN EASIER TIME.
Ask her about it. Arrange to make the dairy work one half easier, one half neater, one half more pleasant, and 25 to 150 per cent. more profitable by using a Sharples Tubular Cream Separator. Until you try the Tubular, you can't imagine the difference it makes. It skims the milk immediately after milking—there's no milk standing around—no cans or pans to wash. The Tubular is entirely different from all others, so much more simple and convenient. Bring your wife and let me take a Tubular apart for you.
