The Democratic State Convention will meet in Harrisburg on August 4th, for the purpose of nominating a State ticket to be voted for at the November election.

Fire was discovered in the D. W. Faust & Sons planing mill in Mercersburg Friday evening. The plant has a fire hydrant and this was used and extinguished the flames quickly.

HIDES.—James Sipes & Son pay the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins, sheepskins and tallow.

The foundry building of the Domestic Engine and Pump Company, at Shippensburg, Pa., of which J. Ed Reiser is president, was destroyed by fire on Saturday. Loss $4,000, partially insured.

At a meeting of the Orphans' School Commission last week, Hon. Geo. W. Skinner was re-elected Superintendent of the School at Scotland. Capt. Skinner has served nine years most acceptably, and his many friends in this county are much pleased that the Commission decided to retain him.

Robert G. Alexander, of this place, has successfully passed the examination for the State Forestry Academy, at Mont Alto. He was one of 74 applicants who took the examination, of which number 48 passed. Of this number ten were to be appointed to the Academy.

Revs. Fassold and Bryner exchanged pulpits on Sabbath, the former preaching in the Methodist churches at Fort Littleton, Knobsville, and in this place, and the latter preaching in the Lutheran church in this place morning and evening, and down the Cove in the afternoon.

On account of ill health James B. Manning has resigned as cashier of the First National Bank of Everett. At a recent meeting of the board of directors Leslie Blackburn was elected acting cashier and James Williams of Mench, clerk. Mr. Manning will go west next month.

Harry Moore, alias Tag Wilson, a drunken tramp, who has spent fully three quarters of his life in jail, and is a chronic nuisance, was drunk and rolling about the streets of town again yesterday morning. He was arrested by Officer Jones and sent back to his retreat with Sheriff Gillan for 90 days.—Opinion.

J. K. Tritle, who left this county about two years ago, and now resides on the Burkholder farm near Fort Loudon, says he has kept a record of the proceeds from his herd of eight cows and from his flock of 150 hens for a certain period, the result being that his chickens ran eighty cents ahead of his cows, and much less labor was expended in his poultry yard than among his dairy.

Fighting Beef Packers.

A great battle is being waged in Washington by the beef packers in the interest of oleomargarine and against pure butter and the dairy men of the country. Resisting this force is found our Congressman Focht who has been a resolute advocate and friend of the dairy interests of Pennsylvania. Referring to his work for this important branch of his constituency, the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, in its special Washington dispatch of July 10th says:

"Individual representatives have done much in the way of deterrent work, none of which becomes a matter of record. Take, for instance, Representative Focht, of Pennsylvania. Oleomargarine is his hobby. The beef packers have maintained a strong lobby here during the whole session, trying to get the 10 cents per pound tax on colored oleomargarine taken off and a straight revenue tax of 2 cents a pound substituted. Focht has tried to see every man who has been approached by those favoring such a change in the internal revenue laws. How well he has succeeded may be inferred from the fact that the beef packers' proposal has never been mentioned in Congress. Secretary MacVeagh came out in favor of it. Some bills favoring it were introduced, but, practically speaking, the packers never got well started in their work of placing colored oleomargarine in such a favorable position that it can compete with butter under pretense that it is the product of a slaughter house."

Look After Their Teeth.

Mothers should feel that they owe it to their children to look after their teeth. If they are not coming in straight they should have a dentist's care while the child is young. The jaws can then be formed so that the teeth will come as they should. It has been found that if the jaws are not shaped right that the development of the bones of the rest of the skull will not take place as they should, and the result is that the brain development is interfered with, and the features of the face will not be regular. A whole chapter could be written upon the way the teeth should be looked after at the time of their coming and while children are young, but I wish to direct your attention particularly at this time to the necessity of keeping the teeth clean, both for the sake of good looks and for their preservation.

The teeth of individuals vary greatly, and consequently demand different measures to keep them clean. The advice of the dentist should be sought in regard to the matter. Those who have perfectly regular teeth, the gums of which are closed nicely about them, will not find it such a difficult matter to cleanse the teeth as those whose teeth are irregular, especially if they have pockets in the gums made by the inflammation about the teeth. As a general thing the toothbrush should be hard and stiff, in order to cleanse the teeth well. A good tooth powder, paste or liquid should be chosen by the advice of the dentist who cares for the teeth, or one should be used that you have found beneficial.
