

MUNYON'S EMINENT DOCTORS AT YOUR SERVICE FREE.

Not a Penny to Pay for the Full Medical Examination.

If you are in doubt as to the cause of your disease mail us a postal requesting a medical examination blank, which you will fill out and return to us. Our doctors will carefully diagnose your case, and if you can be cured you will be told so. You are not obligated to us in any way, for this advice is absolutely free; you are at liberty to take our advice or not as you see fit. Send to-day for a medical examination blank, fill out and return to us as promptly as possible, and our eminent doctors will diagnose your case thoroughly absolutely free.

Munyon's, 53d and Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Man's Inconsistency.

Two men whose offices were on the second floor were on the first floor, waiting for an elevator. Long and impatiently they waited.

"You're not looking extra well, Landell," remarked the lawyer. "See 'em," replied the real estate man. "Think I'll join an athletic club. I need the exercise."

"Me, too."

Still they waited for the elevator. —Kansas City Times.

A Lawn Barber.

A major in a certain regiment has great contempt for incognita of any kind and is somewhat impatient. A sergeant complained to him that he could get no man to undertake the duty of barber to the company.

"Is there no gardener in the company?" asked the major testily. "See if you can find one and send him to me."

The man was duly sent, but on receiving orders to act as barber ventured to expostulate.

"Great guns!" cried the major. "If you cut grass, you cut hair. Go and do it." —Oakland Tribune.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

Every Reader Will Concede the Truth of This Statement.

One who suffers with backache or any form of kidney trouble wants a cure, not merely temporary benefit. Rev. McTearliff S. Rowland, of Toms River, N. J., makes a statement in this connection that is worth attention.

Says he: "I was suddenly taken with an attack of kidney trouble, had severe pains in my back and loins and was generally run down. Doctors were not helping me, so I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They brought me prompt relief, and as I continued taking them the pains in my back disappeared and the kidneys were restored to normal condition."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Psychology of Murder.

There is an inclination gradually rising from the pleasure of seeing anything killed to the most overpowering desire to kill. It is possible to pass by imperceptible gradations from extreme cruelty to the normal state in the following order: The pleasure of killing, the overpowering desire to kill, the pleasure of looking on at killing, the pleasure of seeing the blood of animals shed, the pleasure due to the representation of violent and blood-thirsty acts, and, lastly, the pleasure of reading bloodthirsty novels or hearing accounts of murders, which is purely an affair of the imagination. If there is one psychological law more firmly established than another, both by fact and argument, it is that every act tends to realize itself. How, then, he goes on, that artists who feel things violently never pass them into action? Because the law is in them not to an exception, but to a deviation by the creative work of art which delivers them from the haunting idea. Morbid art is thus a defense against abnormal tendencies which otherwise would tend to transform themselves into action. Man being a carnivorous animal retains the trend of ideas toward blood in his acts of necessity and amusement is the main thing—he must always be killing something, and with many the killing is the chief object of life.

Current Literature.

Two-thirds of the native population of Uganda has been wiped out by the sleeping sickness in seven years.

THREE REASONS

Each With Two Legs and Ten Fingers.

A Boston woman who is a fond mother writes an amusing article about her experience feeding her boys.

Among other things she says: "Three chubby, rosy-cheeked boys, Bob, Jack and Dick, aged 6, 4 and 2 years, respectively, are three of our reasons for using and recommending the food Grape-Nuts for these youngsters have been fed on Grape-Nuts since infancy, and often between meals when other children would have been given candy."

"I have a package of Grape-Nuts to a neighbor whose 3-year-old child was a weaned little thing, ill half the time. The little tot ate the Grape-Nuts and cream greedily, and the mother continued the good work, and it was not long before a truly wonderful change manifested itself in the child's face and body. The results were remarkable, even for Grape-Nuts."

"Both husband and I use Grape-Nuts every day and keep strong and well, and have three of the finest, healthiest boys you can find in a day's march."

Many mothers instead of destroying the children's stomachs with candy and cake give the youngsters a handful of Grape-Nuts when they are begging for something in the way of sweets. The result is soon shown in greatly increased health, strength and mental activity.

"There's a Reason."

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

State of Pennsylvania

Fire Drills for Schools.

Darby.—At a meeting of the Darby School Board, a special committee was appointed to perfect a fire drill for the Darby schools and to introduce it to the pupils at the opening of the school term. The committee, which is composed of Herbert Leungart, Alonzo H. Yocum and William E. Buchman, will secure data from the principal schools throughout the country and will formulate a fire drill, second to none in the country. The Darby schools will open September 6 with one session for the first week.

License Not Excessive.

Colwyn.—Borough Solicitor V. Gilpin Robinson, of Colwyn, has handed an opinion to Councils that he regards the license of $1 per pole for telegraph or telephone purposes not excessive, despite the contention of William L. Shaeffer, solicitor of a telephone company, that it is illegal to charge more than a fair rate, based upon the bare cost of the inspection of the poles.

Robbers Strip Stable.

Darby.—For the third time within the past year, thieves broke into the stable of the Girswold country Company, Darby, and cleaned out the place of harness and other equipment. Not satisfied with this, they also threw feed and grain over the floor, after which they made their escape.

Foul Ball Kills Player.

Wilkes-Barre.—John Roski, catcher for a local baseball club, while suffering from an ulcerated tooth, was struck by a foul ball. The injury affected the heart, a physician said, and the victim died.

Register Trade Marks.

In an opinion rendered to Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee, Assistant Deputy Attorney General Hargis decides that labels, trade marks, etc. must be registered at the State Department, when application is used in proper form, whether the corporation applying is doing business in Pennsylvania or not. Mr. Hargis also decides, in an opinion rendered to State Treasurer Sheatz, that interest on corporation tax due the State ceases when the corporation makes an assignment.

Woman's Plea Releases Prisoner.

Pottsville.—Through the efforts of Mrs. Eckley B. Cox, widow of the millionaire coal operator from the upper region, Mike Polax was released from the Schuylkill County Prison, where he had been awaiting trial for drunkenness and attempting to commit suicide. Polax worked for seventeen years for the Cox family.

Say Cuff Is Not Cuff.

Pottsville.—With both Governors Stuart and Hughes having signed the extradition papers for Cuff, the fugitive Shenandoah election officer, who failed to show up in New York City, the attorneys for the accused man put up a plea of mistaken identity. For this reason William Wilhelm and David R. James left for New York to identify Cuff.

Injured Chopping Trees.

Carlisle.—Daniel F. Miller, a well known farmer, living near Green Spring, west of Carlisle, was probably fatally injured while chopping away the limb of a tree which had fallen against some telephone wires near his home. The limb, when nearly severed, rebounded from the wires and fractured the base of Miller's skull. Miller, who is 64 years old and unmarried, cannot survive the injury.

Struck by Train.

Pottsville.—His foot catching in the guard rail while he was walking across the crossing of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, Arthur Kulp, aged 16, was unable to extricate himself and was run down by a freight train which was on its way to Bridgeport. Kulp's right foot was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

Wife Gone, Suicide.

Reading.—Albert H. Rauenzahn, aged 39 years, a prominent Republican politician, committed suicide. He drank cyanide of potassium. Two weeks ago his wife left him following some domestic trouble.

Ten Injured in Train Wreck.

Wilkes-Barre.—An excursion train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad carrying the members of a brewery workers' organization of this city to Lake Carey, was partially wrecked two miles east of the lake. The two rear coaches left the track, but were prevented from turning truck by a high embankment. Ten persons were slightly injured. It is said the accident was caused by spreading rails.

Masked Men Hold Up Train.

Corry.—At the point of revolvers, trainmen on a Pennsylvania freight were driven into the caboose near Erie by two masked men. They locked the doors and tossed off a message for aid at Jackson's. The police here surrounded the caboose on arrival of the train, but the men had disappeared. The orders are to get the men at any cost. Just what the men were after is not known.

Bible Reveals Will.

Washington.—Turning the pages of the family Bible, Mrs. Mira Wonseler discovered her husband's will covering an estate valued at $55,000 over which two branches of the family have bitterly fought since the death of Mr. Wonseler in 1907. A will made several days before the man's death was set aside by the Court and one made earlier, in which a daughter was the chief beneficiary, was declared valid. If the new will is upheld by the Court, the wife will receive the entire estate.

Hurt Watching Fight.

Mahanoy City.—Watching a quarrel between two youths of his own age, 15-year-old John Bugbee was struck on the head by a big stone, which fractured his skull. He will die. Joseph Stuckon is under arrest.

Water Caused Death.

Shamokin.—Making a misstep, following his rising from bed at midnight to get a drink of water, William Persing fell down a flight of stairs and was so badly injured that he died.

Child Crushed to Death.

Pottsville.—Rushing out to get a wisp of straw from a hay wagon, five year old Roy Beasler was crushed to death under the wheels. The accident took place on Pottsville's main street.

Police May Weigh Coal.

York.—If the ordinance of Common Councilman H. Y. Fleck, of this city, now before Council becomes a law, the police of the city will be privileged to take in coal delivery wagons and weigh the quantity of coal on them. The city will pay for the weighing of the wagon and the coal except when it is of short weight. Many people have been complaining to their Councilmen believing that such an ordinance is necessary.

Arrested for Arson.

Reading.—On a warrant issued at the instance of John M. Reifmeyer, of Robeson Township, Berks County, John Letzar was committed to jail on the charge of arson. It is alleged that the man burned down a dwelling occupied by the prosecutor. Letzar denies the charge.

Among the Workers.

Fourteen countries in Europe prohibit night work for women. Boston plasterers, now receiving sixty cents an hour, want sixty-five cents. Three hundred Jewish bakers on strike at Montreal threatened a bread famine.

"I've latest figures show that the number of separate unions in England is close to 1200.

The street car strike in Evanville, Ind., was declared off after long negotiations. Forty of the union men will return to work.

Around the Bases.

Be it observed that "Uncle Cy" Young is still in the game. Connie Mack is believed to have strings on more than fifty players in the minor leagues.

Lave Cross is now the manager of the Charlotte, N. C., team and is playing second base. Brooklyn rumors are again current that Billy Keeler will be the Supper's manager next season.

Worcester's sensational third baseman, Hugh F. Bradley, has been bought by the Boston Club for September delivery.

Mutes in Census Work—Secretary

Washington, D. C.—Believing that deaf and dumb mutes will make good assistants for the puncturing and tabulating machines to be used in making the returns of the next census, Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, is inclined to appoint them to such positions if capable ones apply for the places. This employe allows the muffed product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Mint at Denver Robbed—Employe

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes. Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted product to splash on to his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scraped it off and kept it for his own use and profit.

Allowed Gold to Splash on Clothes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses ever committed against the Government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles W. Dakin, an employe of the mint at Denver, Col., was arrested here. Dakin is said to have sold gold to local dealers in small lots. The employe allowed the melted