It is wages spent for things that are either useless or harmful more largely than the injustice of economic conditions under which men labor that are responsible for the most abject types of poverty to be found in this and other countries. Shade Gap had a big fire Monday. It broke out in the McGowan Hotel about noon, and owing to the scarcity of water, and no organized fire department, the devouring element had free course, and was not gotten under control until the hotel building, the public school building, town hall, and the big Swan store building were totally destroyed. It is said that there is no insurance on the hotel building.

For the Children's Sake
Try Foods Shot from Guns

Let us put it up to the children—this question of their breakfast food.

Serve them a dish of Puffed Wheat or Puffed Rice, then ask what they want to have next.

See if your children, like legions of others, are delighted with these queer foods.

There are no other foods in existence which are anywhere near like these. So we cannot compare them with others.

Puffed Wheat—10c Puffed Rice—15c

These are the foods invented by Prof. Anderson, and this is his curious process:

The whole wheat or rice kernels are put into sealed guns. Then the guns are revolved for sixty minutes in a heat of 350 degrees.

That fierce heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes tremendous.

To know these crisp, gigantic grains the only way is to try them.

They are puffed to eight times natural size. They are four times as porous as bread.

They are nut-like and brown. They digest more easily than any other cereals known.

But cold type can't describe them. Let one dish, tomorrow morning, tell your folks the story.

Then the guns are unsealed, and the steam explodes. Instantly every starch granule is blasted into a myriad particles.

The kernels of grain are expanded eight times. Yet the coats are unbroken, the shapes are unaltered. We have simply the magnified grain.

One package will tell you why people delight in them. Order it now.

YOUNG MAN MAKE YOUR CHOICE.

Upon the Decision of the Young Man Depends His Career.

Life is made up of choices. The young man who decides that the first essential in a successful career is to make a practice of getting drunk by the time he is twenty will be out of the running at thirty, says the Johnstown Tribune. He will be working for another. His choice was wrong.

His companion who decided that one could be a good fellow without descending to low practices, will be an employer at forty, other things being equal.

The poolroom patron of twenty will not know much of the history of his country at thirty. He will be in the ranks of those who will complain that a fellow does not get a fair chance in this world. His companion who makes the choice of evenings well spent at twenty, will not be looking for a job at forty. He will make the job for himself.

Nothing in this you say? Let no young man deceive himself on this point. The world is made up of leaders who as boys made right choices.

Living is serious business. There are prizes to gain, but they are not to be had for the asking. Read the biography of a man who is promoted to a great position at forty five or fifty. In every instance, you will find that he may have remained apparently in a stationary position for fifteen years of his life. But you will find also that he worked to an end during those fifteen years. He chose to be industrious. And do you know that industry never goes unrewarded?

Industry is not 'working' for somebody and then going home at night with folded hands. It is doing 'on the side' in the spare moments the work that it will fit one for life on. Try it in faith. The dark places will disappear as the years pass, and later on you will look back and say: "I made the right choice when I was twenty. I can see it now in the result."

Judge Sadler received an anonymous letter Saturday morning, dated Friday, stating "I write you these few lines as a warning to you if you do not reduce some of the sentences imposed Friday within thirty days, we people of Carlisle will blow your residence up and kill you. Look out, take this into consideration and if you will not we will."

The handsome dwelling of Dr. Sappington at Webster Mills narrowly escaped destruction by fire Tuesday night. About midnight the family was aroused by the smell of smoke, and upon examination they found that the wood construction about a concrete fireplace had become ignited by the heat from the cement, and was already assuming threatening proportions. Prompt and intelligent action alone saved the building from total destruction. As it was, the damage to the building is estimated at one hundred dollars, covered by insurance in the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.
