A Leading Question,

A young English suffragette tells of an incident that happened at a meeting in the Scottish Highlands.

"Speeches had been made to a large crowd. Questions had been replied to amid applause. Imbecile young men making remarks about minding babies and mending socks had been silenced. Then, just as there was a temporary full before the putting of the resolution, a great bucolic Scotch voice from the back of the crowd rasped slowly in with the inquiry, obviously the result of prolonged rumination:
"'Wha made a mess of Adam?'"

An Ingenious Rest Care.

Some managers crave responsibility as a child does sugar. Take it away from them and their spirits dran and they lose thrir staming. The office manager of a vigorous wholesale house was ence given a month's vacation, supposedly to refresh his mind and get his thoughts on other lines. He left a hale, hearty and vitally stordy man. He of a tobacco monopoly, was supposed to be backing in the sunshine of a mountain lake, taking life easy, far away from the toll and care of the greedy mart. In reality he was eaten alive by mosquitoes, worried to death for fear of business going wrong, and chafed by a dragging impatience. His very soul longed for the strife and his miserable ennui drove him to aggravated liver troubles. In three weeks he returned blanched and haggard. He was put to work, loaded to the guards with responsibility, and with 16 hours' toil per day he fattened like a corn-fed pig. It was better than the most ingenious rest cure ever invented. Widows And Matrimony.

Passing from these higher emotions of the soul, there remain many and numerous practical reasons for marrying a widow. In the first place she knows man, all his little weaknesses and foibles. She makes allow-ances for them, and even indulges the poor fellow in his more harmless fol-lies, just as the experienced trainer from time to time gives the colt the rein. There is a wisdom in this that the young thing just graduated from an unbroken course of ice cream, soda water and theater par-ties might well desire to possess; it would save many a rude shock in be-ginning the stern realities of married existence. Another thing, she can cook. No. 1 may have lived to eat the flaky biscult and unimp able pastry of her making, but doubtful whether he was ever to enjoy them.
