Seven Eurowithin two minutes. Seven Euro-pean passengers, including Baron and Baroness Beniczky, the captain of La Seyne, five European officers, and others, comprising native passengers and members of the crew, were drowned. The rescue of 61 persons, practically from the jaws of shoals of sharks, formed a thrilling incident of the wreck.

The accident occurred about 4 o'clock in the morning in a thick haze. The vessels were steaming at good speed and the Seyne was cut almost in half. There was no time for panic nor for any attempt on the part of the officers of the foundering steamer to get out the boats. The majority of there on board were caught in their berths and carried down with the vessel. The force of the collision brought the Onda to almost a dead stop and her engines were at once slowed and boats lowered. The rescue work proved thrilling, for not only were the rescuing parties impeded by the dark, but shoals of sharks were already attacking those clinging to pieces of wreckage in the water. revolvers and the Sixty-one persons from the ill-fated without a fight. steamer were finally dragged into the boats and brought by the Onda to this port. Red-Headed Youth Of 17 Forces An Auto Driver, At Point Of Revolver To Drive Him To A Louisville (Ky.) Bank - Begins Shooting

With Two Revolvers - President And Cashier Fall - Flees In The Auto-Captured On River And Life Threatened. Lousiville, Ky. (Special) .- In an attempt at bank robbery Thomas

Jefferson Hall, a red-headed youth of seventeen, of Louisville, a dealer in second-hand furniture, entered Merchants' National Bank at New Albany, Ind., shortly before noon and Hangary Fawcett, cashier of the bank, seriously wounded John K. Woodward, president of the bank, and wounded James R. Tucker, a negro chauffeur, probably fatally. When Hall entered the bank he carried a pistol in each hand. After commanding eveyone to throw his hands and "get into the vault,"

Hall began shooting.

There was a rush for safety by the cierks and several persons who were transacting business in the President Woodward advanced to ward the robber and attempted to talk to him. The robber's response to Mr. Woodward's question as to what was wanted was two shots, which struck the official in the arm and stomach, inflicting dangerous wounds.

Cashier Fawcett then rushed for ward, but before he could reach the fallen president was shot in the neck and breast, dying a short time aft-

Cashier Fawcett was shot through the chest and neck and died almost instantly. President Woodward was shot through the liver and his intestines were perforated.
Following the shooting, the murdererrushed from the bank and tried to escape in an automobile which he had taken from the curb in front of the residence of ats owner, Mrs. Wal-Escott, in Louisville, He had forced the negro chauffeur at the of a pistol to drive him to

The robber, still without speaking a word, walked quickly out the front door, dropping one of his revolvers just outside the building. Turning the corner to where the automobile stood he pumped into the rear seat with the command to the "Get out of this as fast as you can

But the automobile stood stil, the negro, thoroughly frightened at the of events, refusing to move. The robber jumped to the ground, drew a revolver and sent a bullet into the negro's back. An instant later the assassin was running at top speed down the bank to the Ohio where he jumped into a skiff.

He had pulled out some distance into the stream before the astonished citizens of the town and the river bank knew what had happened. One old sailor on a dredge boat, seeing the man rowing frantically for the Kentucky shore, gave the alarm through a megaphone.

Owners of river craft then engag-ed in a race for the desperado. The police, however, in a motor boat distanced all followers and in a short time had their man at bay on an island just south of the big bridge connecting New Albany with West Louisville. They covered him with revolvers and the arrest was made

Cherry, Ill. (Special). - Nearly 400 men and boys, it is believed, are dead or perishing in the St. Paul mine as a result of the fire, though experts who penetrated the smokefilled air shaft to a depth of 300 feet returned with a ray of hope for the grief-stricken relatives of the entombed miners.

That the fire is extinguished is the report of mining experts sent Governor Deneen to investigate the calamity and its cause. For more than 30 hours the prisoners had been cut off from fresh air before the shaft was entered and undoubtedly have been subjected to smoke and gases

That life could exist under the terrible conditions is doubted by many; but because no trace of high temperature was found in the depths of the mine friends of the miners and even officers of the company renewed some of their failing hope.

Except for the fact that unseasonably warm weather tends to retard the fullest development of retail the fullest development of retail in heavy-weight and winter goods, the general trade and industrial report this week is one of widespread and increasing activity. Jobbing trade in dry goods, millinery, shoes, clothing, hardware and, in fact, most lines of distribution is active, holilines of distribution is active, holi-day demand is broadening and spring trade reports are very good, increases being general in nearly all lines.

The same is true of industrial operations, iron and steel being as active as ever, with outputs close to or in excess of the maximum. Coal is in in increasing demand, and lumber and other material is active.
All this, it might be remarked, occurs with prices of commodities at a high level, and with reports of stock of raw materials and of many factured goods in no apparent way factured goods in no apparent way burdensome or holding forth promise of early becoming so. In the cotton goods trade, it is true, the very great advance in raw material at a time of nearly record movement to market is a source of unsettlement. Many mills North and South have any paneed curtailment in time run, but the Fall River mills have not as yet joined in the movement, and the feeling is widespread that the coarse goods trade will feel the brunt of the promsed curtailment.
