CONDENSED FOR HURRIED READERS

The Sheets Stage Line takes you to Mercersburg for 50 cents. Miss Mamie Hoke and Mrs. B. W. Peck spent last Friday in Hagerstown.

The corn-stalks are rustling in the cooling autumn breeze, and the wind blows low and mournful through the leafless maple trees, while the yellow pumpkins gleaming in the corn field down below, tell us harvest days are over and that soon will come the snow.

Comrade S. S. Hann, of Webster Mills, has purchased the Robert Gordon property, near Tobie Glazier's, for $800.00 and will get possession the first of Next April. Robert has bought a farm near Carlisle, and after the first of April he expects to be a resident of Cumberland county.

Fifteen thousand four hundred and twenty-nine persons, mostly all little children who had been stricken down with diphtheria, were treated with the state's free antitoxin distributed by Health Commissioner Dixon's department among Pennsylvania's poor from October, 1905, to January, 1909. Of this number 14,080 recovered, giving the remarkably low death rate of 8.74 per cent. The parents of these thousands of little children thus treated were too poor to pay for antitoxin. During the same period 10,233 persons again nearly all little children, who had been exposed to diphtheria, were immunized with state antitoxin. All but 161 of these were fully protected against the disease and of those who did contract the disease only thirteen fatal cases resulted.

For the Season of Long Evenings.

There are no lonely winter evenings in the homes where the Youth's Companion is a weekly visitor, and there need be no idle hours. The variety of the paper's contents appeals to every member of the household, and before one issue is exhausted the next is waiting at the post office. During the winter season The Companion prints nearly a hundred complete stories of considerable length, besides the absorbing serial, some 25 articles by men and women of renown, and about twice as many short character and humorous sketches as there are winter nights. Such an article as "Winter Gardening" suggests an interesting occupation which can be carried on in Alaska with snow twenty feet deep, and without the cost of a dollar. It is well "worth while" to read a paper so carefully and ably edited. Send your subscription ($1.75) at once so as to receive free all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909, as well as The Companion's Venetian Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold. Family Reunion.

As Mrs. George Newman was nearing the eightieth milestone of her journey through life, her children thought it would be pleasant to surprise their mother by gathering home again.

Grandmother Newman as she is familiarly known is a woman of remarkable physical and mental vigor. She does all her own work from milking the cows to cleaning house.

Four generations were represented at this gathering, ranging in ages from six months to eighty years.

Of course dinner was one of the important features of the occasion, the preparation of which the ladies had in charge, but when it came to disposing of it the gentlemen certainly distinguished themselves the way pie and cake went down before their irresistible advance was wonderful to behold and proved as nothing else could have done the skill of the cooks.

After having spent the day very pleasantly together the different members of the family departed to their several homes, wishing Grandmother many returns of the 30th of October.

Those present were: Jacob Cutchall and wife, Clark Newman and wife, Wesley Newman, Frank Newman and wife, Henry Huston and wife, Lunn Kesseling and wife, Esley Kesseling and wife, E. C. Hann, wife and daughter Violet, Mrs. Charles Alloway and son Rexford; Olive, Mary and Roy Cutchall; Mary, Orpha, Naoma, Pauline, Fanny, Lily and Watson Newman; Helen and Lena Umholtz, and Lucy Witter.

FORCED INTO EXILE.

Wm. Upchurch, of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever."

It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. Cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma, croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed at Trout's drug store.

November Weddings.

SINGER—BISHOP. On Monday, November 15, 1909, Mr. Virgil C. Singer, of Waynesboro, Pa., and Miss Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bishop, of Bethel township, were quietly married at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in Hancock, Md., by the pastor, Rev. Feltner.

Mr. Singer is one of the leading machinists in the employ of the Landis Tool Company at Waynesboro, and the bride is a bright young lady, and will be much missed by her many friends in the community in which she grew to womanhood.

May the happy couple "live long and prosper."

HANKS—CRAWFORD.

Mr. Gustavus L. Hanks, of this county, and Miss Bada A. Crawford, of Breezewood, were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage, 527 South Richard street, Bedford, on Wednesday, Nov. 10, by Rev. J. W. Lingle.

Treat The Boys Kindly.

It is all very well, when you have nothing to do but kill time, to talk about keeping the boys on the farm, but you might as well spend your time spitting at a crack. Boys will stay on a farm as well as anywhere, if they receive decent treatment at home. The boy who is yanked out of bed by the hair, kicked out to milk and cuffed in to breakfast, as a preliminary to being popped through in the field all day, is not likely to be consumed by his love for the glories of agriculture—nor for his sire. Give the boy a fair show, he'll stay with you till the cows come home. If you are so mean that he can't stay at home, don't go to your neighbors with a hypocritical snuffle and tell about your boy's ingratitude after you have raised him.

How Prof. Anderson Invented

Foods Shot from Guns

He was seeking a way to break up starch granules, so the digestive juices could get to them.

Cooking or baking only begins to do that. No old-time method breaks up all of the granules.

So he conceived the idea of blasting those granules to pieces by an explosion of steam.

And these foods resulted—the most delicious, most digestible cereal foods ever created.

Each kernel, by the explosion, is puffed to eight times size. It is made four times as porous as bread.

It is made nut-like and crisp, ready to melt in the mouth.

They are made so enticing that children delight in them. Grown folks, too.

They are so irresistible that seventeen million dishes were consumed last month.

When will you find them out?

Puffed Wheat—10c

Puffed Rice—15c

These are the foods invented by Prof. Anderson, and this is his curious process:

The whole wheat or rice kernels are put into sealed guns. Then the guns are revolved for sixty minutes in a heat of 550 degrees.

That fierce heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes tremendous.

Then the guns are unsealed, and the steam explodes. Instantly every starch granule is blasted into a myriad particles.

The kernels of grain are expanded eight times. Yet the coats are unbroken, the shapes are unaltered. We have simply the magnified grain.

One package will tell you why people delight in them. Order it now.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our respected companion and fellow-member, DeForest O. Gibson. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we as members of the Epworth League, live more uprightly, not for ourselves, but for our fellow-members and those about us, in the fear of our great and wise Creator, as our wandering minds have been so hastily recalled by the recent tragedy which has passed before our eyes.

Resolved, That in his death, we have lost a true and trustworthy friend and member, and in viewing the place he has vacated in our organization and in our lives, we realize his eternal gain—that he has been removed from all earthly toil and care, while we remain to trudge forth under the heavy heaps of care.

Resolved, That the most profound sympathy be extended by our League to the loved ones, his parents and relatives.

Resolved that these resolutions be placed on the minutes, and a copy be given to his parents.

Some Good Advice.

John D. Rockefeller recently addressing the Euclid Avenue Baptist Sunday school at Cleveland, said: "Mrs. Rockefeller told me that I should not talk too much, as she thought it might not be good for me." "I think many of us talk too much. This is true among many church people who spend too much time in quoting Scripture, and too little in practical Christianity." "Actions speak louder than words," he said, "and children are the first to notice this, as was the case of two good men who were my father's neighbors. One was always quoting from the Scripture but he was hard to get along with. The boys in the neighborhood thought he would have done more good if he had given his men less Scripture and more time for dinner. The other neighbor was never heard to quote from the Bible outside of church, but he was very kind to his workmen and was good to us boys, letting us ride on his horses, and invited us to share his apples and cider."
