Farmers' Week at State College.

Hundreds of the progressive farmers of Pennsylvania spenc one week of the winter at then State School of Agriculture and Experiment Station. The time is known as "Farmers' Week' and this year it begins Monday December 27th, and closes Satur day, January 1st. Over one hun dred lectures are given by State College scientists, experts from various parts of the state, and some of the most noted agricul tural authorities of other states Five sections of work are running nearly every period throughout the week. One section is devoted to soils, farm crops, and farm management; another deals with practical problems in animal hus bandry; another is devoted to horticulture; a fourth section deals with the problems of the dairyman and creameryman; a fifth section deals in part with domestic science. In the evening the various sections come together for addresses by gentlemen of national reputation. The evening program for this winter provides for illustrated lectures by Professor W. J. Spillman, of liams, of Ohio; B. D. White, the capitol. It was erected by of Washington; Professor R L Watts, of State College, and oth persons of note appear on the ev ening programs. All lectures

A DAY IN LES MOINES.

Miss Barbara Martin Interestingly Tells of What She Saw in lowa's Capital City.

I spent almost three weeks in Iowa. Besides visiting a brother, I visited a number of second and third cousins. I am always glad to meet new relatives; but when one must make five and six calis a day in a western farming district, with the thermometer at ninety-five in the shade, it is not what one might suppose it to be. While here one of our cousins side. gave a reception in honor of broth er and me. There were nine young men-all from Pennsylva nia, and I was the only girl from the Keystone State. When we surrounded the festal board, which was laden with all that was most palatable, we almost forgot that we were in lowa for there were three states represented. We all did more than justice to what was set before us.

David and I spent a day in Des Moines. It is another beautiful ity, and is ten miles square. We visited a number of the large tepartment stores, and bought post cards innumerable to send to our eastern friends. The first place of interest that we visited was the Polk county Court House, which is in sight of the Union Station. It was erected at a cost of $800,000 and has the finest interior marble in the West Then we went to the new Post Office which was in course of erection, and consequently, could not tell much about it. The next most interesting place was Fort Des Moines, five miles south of the city. It is the only United States regimental cavalry post in the West. It is garrisoned by tull regiment. There are over $2,000,000 invested in buildings, including military prison, barracks, post exchange, riding hall, and administration buildings. The great cavalry stables and carrols are open to inspection. Guard mount at 6 p. m. every day and riding exhibitions every Friday morning. The sol diers had already gone out when we reached the Fort; but we were in ample time to see all there was worth seeing.

The next place of interest was the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monu-Washington; Professor C. G. Wil ment, which stands in front of the State to perpetuate the memory of the soldiers and sailors of ers. One evening will be devoted lowa. Bronze medallions of largely to an address by D. Ward lowa's war characters, groups King, the road expert. Other impersonating the soldiery of the several branches of the service, and scrolls of honor. We then passed on to the capitol, but as it was almost twelve o'clcck, many for Farmers' Week have been of the interesting places in this building were closed and the guide had gene to dinner. So we decided to do likewise and return after dinner. Upon our return vania. Tickets will be sold to Le | we found everybody in their remont, or Bellefonte, or Williams- spective places, and the guide port. The reduction is an open was ready to show us through one and it will not be necessary the building. We were first in- Metzler's house. to secure orders for tickets. Sim troduced to a number of state ply ask your railway agent for cflicials, whose names-sorry to say-I have forgotten. But 1 The program for Farmers' shall never forget their friendly much. After this cordial reception we were escorted to the head of the grand stairs where we saw the great $20,000 Blashfield painting, "Westward" which represents the tide of civilization moving westward. The lunettes in the dome by Kenyon Cox, eight in number, cost $10,000 a piece. From the second floor we took the elevator to the dome which is 325 feet from the ground Here we had a magnificent view of the city and the surrounding country. The city reminds one of a large park with avenues and houses here and there on each

From the Capitol we went to the Historical Building which cost $500,000 and contains a col lection of historical documents, articles associated with the early history of the state, portraits of the builders of Iowa, war relics, and original manuscripts of na tional characters. We then visiited the handsome Public Library which has just been completed at a cost of $500,000, also. It con tams over 40,000 volumes, togeth er with fine a: ts collection. By this time brother and I both were so fatigued that we were glad to rest almost any where. In order not to lose any time in sight see ing we stopped in at a moving picture show where we could rest and see. We heard some very good music and saw some of the everyday life of Atlantic City re produced which almost made me think I was in Atlantic City instead of Des Moines. The weather being very warm, we decided to spend the remaind er of the day at the parks. The first one that we visited was Greenwood, which contains 120 acres. Here we saw a herd of buffalo, elk, and a few smaller wild animals. There were pavil ions where people could rest or read, and a lagoon where others could go boating. We also saw splendid floral gardening. From there we went to Ingersoll Park for the evening, where we heard excellent music by the leading orchestra of Des Moines. At nine o'clock we left the city feel ing that we were well repaid for the day's tramping.
