A Crazy Man's Humor.

Some time ago a man at Ypsilanti, Mich., became crazed on the subject of hypnotism and was sent on a Michigan Central train to an asylum. When the conductor asked for tickets the crazy man began telling of his hypnotic powers.

"I'll hypnotize you," he said.

"Fire away," replied the conductor.

The man made several passes before the conductor's face.

"Now you are hypnotized," he said.

The conductor looked the part as best he could.

"You're a conductor," the hypnotist said.

"That's right," replied the victim.

"You're a good conductor," went on the hypnotist.

"Right again," said the conductor.

"You don't smoke, drink or swear at passengers. You are honest. You turn in all tickets and money you collect from passengers. In fact, you do not steal a cent."

"That's right," asserted the conductor.

The hypnotist eyed him a moment, then said:

"What an awful fix you'd be in if I left you in this condition!"—Kansas City Star.

SECRET WORKER

The Plan Upon Which Coffee Operates.

Coffee is such a secret worker that it is not suspected as the cause of sickness or disease, but there is a very sure way to find out the truth.

A lady in Memphis gives an interesting experience her husband had with coffee. It seems that he had been using it for some time and was an invalid.

The physician in charge shrewdly suspected that coffee was the "Worm at the root of the tree," and ordered it discontinued with instructions to use Postum regularly in its place.

The wife says: "We found that was the true remedy for his stomach and heart trouble, and we would have gladly paid a hundred times the amount of the doctor's charge when we found how wise his judgment was.

"The use of Postum instead of coffee was begun about a year ago, and it has made my husband a strong, well man. He has gained thirty-five pounds in that time and his stomach and heart trouble have all disappeared.

"The first time I prepared it I did not boil it long enough, and he said there was something wrong with it. Sure enough it did taste very flat, but the next morning I followed directions carefully, boiling it for fifteen minutes, and he remarked 'this is better than any of the old coffee.'

"We use Postum regularly and never tire of telling our friends of the benefit we have received from leaving off coffee."

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Girl Leads Robbers.

Pittsburg.—Bessie Cahill, 14 years old, was arrested and is charged with being the leader of an organized band of freight car robbers. Eight of the alleged gang who are said to obey her orders explicitly were arrested with her.

Upon being taken to the police station, one of the men started to inform the police where the loot secured from the cars had been hidden, but was silenced by a curt order from the girl, who exclaimed:—

"Keep your mouth shut; they can't convict you if you do."

He subsided

After being taken to the cell, the girl boasted of her power over the men, declaring they would obey her orders explicitly. She said she retained this loyalty by always playing fair with the men and dividing with them on a strictly business basis."

It is estimated that the Pennsylvania Railroad has lost several thousand dollars in goods owing to the depredations of the gang.

Miss Dora Eames was sewing on the second floor of her home when the small sister, Sarah, stumbled against a chair, which tilted against the sewing machine. A lamp fell and broke and the burning oil at once ignited the carpet. In attempting to put out the flames, Dora's clothes caught fire.

Electric Pen Bars Forgery.

To make forgery a practical impossibility, a Parsee gentleman resident in London has invented a clever electrical apparatus which will enable a person to write with an electrically operated pen, from which sparks, instead of ink, will flow, burning a continuous series of almost imperceptible perforations in the paper. Each hole is carbonized by the process, and to alter the order of the markings is impossible.—Tit-Bits.

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

"Monetary anxieties have faded and business generally continues wonderfully large and prosperous. Some serious problems appear, one of them in higher prices in many of the markets, but these are in process of adjustment. The copper industry, so large under the depressing influence of a tremendous production, will be favorably affected by plans for bringing the trade under better control. Reports from the various trade centers continue of the same general nature.

"Some lull in the demand for pig iron is offset by continued heavy purchases of finished material at advancing prices, and reports are infrequent of premiums being paid for prompt delivery. Buying of rolling stock and other equipment by prominent railroads is a conspicuous feature, and some congestion is noted at car shops because of the difficulty experienced in obtaining needed material from the mills."

Bradstreet's says:

"With the arrival of cold weather retail trade, hitherto inclined to lag, has taken on an appearance of activity, and distributive trade reports are more uniformly encouraging than for some time past. In some sections, particularly the Northwest, the temporary effect of heavy snows interrupting transportation to some extent has been to dull some lines of wholesale trade, but the general effect of the winter visitant has been helpful. In wholesale lines generally the nearer approach of winter has had a stimulating effect upon general feeling.

"Holiday trade is good with jobbers, and the report as to spring trade are in a high degree encouraging."

Ladies, Peruse This.

"The hat is very becoming to you," declared the salesman.

"I'm not sure, I can't make up my mind," says the customer, studying the mirror.

"Oh, but it is. It suits your face exactly. You have a face, if you will pardon me for saying so, that calls for hats of a style few people can wear. Now, put that hat on anybody else and they wouldn't wear it with the distinction that you will."

"But isn't it too wide?"

"No indeed. With a straight, finely chiseled nose like yours, and with your eyes you can wear a wide hat. That's the very hat for you."

"But it isn't like the other hats."

"That's just it. If any one of a hundred others could wear this hat as you can they would be delighted. It isn't everybody whose face is of the exact type for this hat. You'll take it? Thank you."

No, gentle reader. This is not another fling at women and their senseless subservience to fashion. This is the verbatim report of the sale of a new hat to a man.—Chicago Evening Post.

HIS DAYS NUMBERED.

How a Youngstown Man Disappointed the Pessimists.

John H. Trube, 342 Harvard St., Youngstown, Ohio, says: "In spite of three different doctors I was getting worse, and was told I couldn't live six months. They called it Bright's disease. My limbs were swollen so badly I had to keep to the house for nine months. The urine was thick, passages were frequent and scanty and my head was sore and dizzy. I used Doan's Kidney Pills on the advice of a friend, found complete relief in time, and two years have now passed without a sign of kidney trouble."

Charles L. Freer, of Detroit, is a collecter of Whistler anecdotes, one of which he told at a recent dinner.

"But the painter, going to see his masterpiece with Whistler on varnishing day, uttered a terrible oath when he beheld it.

"'Good gracious!' he groaned, 'you're hanging my picture upside down!'

"'Hush,' said Whistler. 'The committee refused it the other way.'"—Washington Star.

TORE HIS SKIN OFF IN SHREDS

Itching Was Intense—Sleep Was Often Impossible—Cured by Cuticura in Three Weeks.

"At first an eruption of small pustules commenced on my hands. These spread later to other parts of my body, and the itching at times was intense, so much so that I literally tore the skin off in shreds in seeking relief. The awful itching interfered with my work considerably, and also kept me awake nights. I tried several doctors and also used a number of different ointments and lotions but received practically no benefit. Finally I settled down to the use of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, with the result that in a few days all itching had ceased and in about three weeks' time all traces of my eruption had disappeared. I have had no trouble of this kind since. H. A. Krutskoff, 5714 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., November 18 and 28, 1907."
