DES MOINES TO CHICAGO.

gust 2nd., I left Des Monnes for Chicago via Iowa City, West Lib erty, Davenport in Iowa, Rock Island, Moline, Peru, Ottowa and Joliet in Illinois. At Davenport we crossed the Mississippi river and entered the beautiful city of Rock Island which is situated on the east bank of the river. These cities, both overlooking bluffs of the Mississippi present a fine view to the traveler from the train. For a short distance we rode along the banks of the Mississippi where we had a splendid view of her mighty waters. It was not long until we reached the Illinois River, which is sixty miles east of the Mississippi, and along whose banks we traveled for many miles. The shades of evening were falling fast, and when I glauced out of the window I found that night had thrown her mantle of darkness around us. As we gazed upon the wa ters of that river, it looked like a glassy sea studded with dia monds. I found the scenery along this road more picturesque than that along the North West ern.

We reached Chicago at 9:30 a full attendance at all the services There, I was a stranger, in a strange city.

> I had my room already engaged at the Y. W. C A. This had been done before I left Des Momes; consequently, I suffered no de lay in finding a lodging place.

As soon as I reached the station I procured a Guide, which may be purchased at almost any rail way station for twenty five cents, and which enables one to locate the most interesting places with out much difficulty. While sitting in the station, memory carried me back to the family altar, which has always been a familiar scene in our home night and morning. There are those of us who were absent from that family altar that night, but we know that we were not absent in the minds of those whose prayers go up from that same altar each night. We know, also, that the same unseen hand that is guarding those who are near and dear to us, will guide and protect those who go out into the world to bat tle with the active realities of life, though it may be ever so far from home.

It is a free institution, maintain ed by the city as a part of its pub he educational system. The build ing was erected entirely at the public expense. It cost $2,000,-000 and ranks among the largest and finest library buildings in the country. It is 3521 by 1461 feet, and the top of its cornice is 90 fect above the sidewalk, exclusive of the crowning balustrade. It contains three principal stories with two intermediate floors and a basement. The building is practically incombustible. The exterior is of Bedford limestone with a granite base. It is a com bination of various styles of ar chitecture, the lower part being in the neo-Greek style, with wide arched windows; and the upper part in Grecian style with pillars and columns, separated by windows. The entablature is of Ro man character, with heavy projecting garlands and lions' heads sculptured on the frieze. Eatering the building from Washing ton street, the visitor finds himself under the massive elliptical arch of the main stair case, at the foot of which, embedded in the green and white mosaic floor, is a large bronze replica of the corporate seal of Chicago. The delivery room is reached by means of wide marble steps. Italian statuary marble from the famous quarries of Carrara, is used in this part of the building richly inlaid with mosaics of glass, mother of pearl, and semiprecious stones, and in the balus trades on the staircase, with small center pieces of the rare and beautiful Connemara marble. On the third floor landing, panels or mosaic design, with suitable in scriptions and the names of great writers, are set in the walls. The Delivery Room is 134 by

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach. The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay. We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you. It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2% times a much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.
