SEVENTY YEARS OF EATING.

In That Space of Time a Man Consumes

If a man of 70 years was stary ing it would probably be little comfort to him to think that he had consumed in the course of his life 534 tons of solid tood and 424 tons of liquor, or about 1,280 times his own weight in both solids and liquids, but it would have supplied him with beef, 18 tons of which he has eaten, along with five tons of fish and 10,000 eggs and 350 pounds of cheese. If he had elected to have all his vegetables served at once they would have come to him in a train of cars, the pod containing all his peas being over three miles long.

Being a man of average appetite and purse he would have eaten 15 tons of bread, which would have made a single loaf containing 1,200 cubic feet and appearing about as large as the average suburban home; and on this bread he would have spread one ton of butter. If his bacon had been cut in a single slice, says "Harpers Weekly," the strip would have been four miles long, and his chops, placed end to end, would have extended two miles.

gar, 1,500 pounds of salt, 8 pounds of pepper, and 100 cans or mustard. Three pints of liquid a day would have amounted to 76,600 pints or 424 tons. If he had been a smoker he would have burned about half a ton of tobacco in a pipe, or if he preferred cigarettes er of a million.

Surprise Party.

As Mrs. Sarah E. Barton was nearing her 80th birthday, her son J. C. Barton and his wife thought they would surprise her Hockenbury, Dayton Shives and in the way of a birthday party; so Urner Truax. on Saturday morning the 15th inst., about 10 a. m., her friends began to arrive, and by 11 o'clock quite a number had come. They spent the time in a social way until about 12 o'clock, when the dinning room doors were thrown open, dinner was announced, and all present were invited to a din ner of roast turkey, roast goose, and all the good things calculated to tempt the appetite of the most dainty. When all had done ample justice to the refreshments, they retired to the parlor and spent some time in music and

Those present were: Amos Hixson, M. M. Barton and wife, Henry N. Barton and wife, Mrs. Preston Deshong, M. E. Barton and wife, J. C. Barton and wife, Lucy Peightel, Ada Barton, Ella Barton, Sadie Barton, Lida Barton, Cecelia Barton, Eva Deshong, Gwendoline Barton, and Howard Deshong, Sebert Barton, Ross Barton, James Barton, and Bruce

All present departed in the evening wishing Grandmother Barton many happy returns of the day.

Birthday Surprise. A birthday surprise was held at the home of Chas W. Hess, near Andover, Dec. 20, 1909, in honor of his 35th birthday. He Strait's Ridge. Returning home late, he was not a little surprised to find his mother there awaiting evening to preaching. Thinking it rather strange that his mother, who had been suffering with birthday. Soon others came pouring in until about forty of his neighbors and friends had assembled, and the surprise was complete. The ladies then clearspread the tables and each did ample justice to the chicken swallop, fruit and cake. Mr. Charley received some useful presents, and in return, entertained the crowd with some fine music from the violin. Shortly after midnight the crowd departed for their homes, wishing him many more happy returns. Those present were: C. W. Hess and daughter Lottie; R. P. Deshong and wife and sons Ally and Clyde and daughters Mary and Helen; Mrs. Lucretia Hess, James Fix, Gilbert and Elbert Lake, May, Clara, Jessie Harry, Chas. and Dick Sipes; James, Geo. and Trout Fagley; Blanche, Dotte, Thomas and Bland Deshong; Geo. # Cook and His Betrayers.

The Star-Independent confesses an awakening of sympathy for Doctor Frederick A. Cook, who says that he discovered the North Pole. Not that we are yet quite willing to believe that he reached the Pole, but rather that we are not inclined to place overmuch confidence in the statements and affidavits of the prineipal witnesses against him.

Much has been made of the re peated statement that Cook had not sufficient scientific knowledge and training to enable him to make accurate calculations of heights and positions of places or to take passable observations of the heavens. Notwithstanding all these handicaps, an unscientific explorer might stumple upon the great goal. The perennial joke about the boy catching all the fish with a cheap hook and line and a pole freshly cut in the nearby forest is not altogether a

The principal witnesses against the Doctor are men who admit the New Grenada school, spent Christ that they were bribed fakers. If they were dishonest in one case might not they be equally false in another? Moreover, the latest of these witnesses are reported to have betrayed the Doctor-if they have actually betrayed him -not because they were impelled thereto by an accusing conscience or respect for the truth, but be cause he failed to give them all the money he had promised for their services. The Mt. McKinley guide, who several weeks ago swore that he had falsified his notes of the supposed ascent of the mountain to make them agree with the Doctor's story, said nothing about it until the North Pole dispute had waxed pretty warm. The public has not learned what induced him to divulge the truth.

If Doctor Cook is to be convicted of faking certainly it should be on the testimony of better witnesses than the three men who have made affidavits in support of their revelations.

The Finest Food The Sea Produces

There's a world of difference in codfish. Some are coarse-fibred. Their meat is strong-tasting.

They are not the kind you will like. A few are fine-grained and choice. Their meat is sweet-flavored. The flesh of these fish is the finest food the sea produces.

These are the cod-and the only kind-which we use in making Beardsley's Shredded Codfish.

The Sweet-Flavored Fish

All the seas in the universe can sup-ply but a limited quantity of the choice cod we demand.

So the price is naturally high. But we gladly pay it. For we want to give you a food you will relish. Our cod are the product of Northern waters. The fish which feed here as the finest that come out of the deep. The fish which feed here are
