The House That Cain Built.

Baalbee, in Syria, the city of stupendous ruins, where Cain is said to have raised his altar, is described by Albert Bigelow Palne in Harper's Weekly. "It was the city of refuge built by Cain," suggests the author in accordance with the Arab belief, 'whose fear must have been very large if one may judge from the size of the materials used." Nowhere else have such enormous stones been laid. One stone was 72 feet by and the workmen had just started to move it when the work was aban-doned. "Try to think of a plain box building, a barn, or a warehouse, say, of that size—then mentally con-vert it into a solid block of stone. Work Train likens it to two fraight Mark Twain likens it to two freight cars placed end to end, but it is also as high and as wide. Eight freight cars set four and four would just about express it! Think of that! Think of moving a stone of that size!

What He Wanted To Know.

He asked so many questions that ay that he finally wore out his mother's patience. "Robert," she cried. "if you ask me another question I shall put you to bed without your supper."

Robert promptly asked another and was packed off to bed. Later his mother repented. After all, ask-ing questions was the only way he could acquire knowledge; so she tip-toed upstairs, knelt beside Robert's bed and told him she was sorry. "Now, dear," she said, "if you want to ask one more question fore you go to sleep, ask it now and I will try to answer." Robert thought for a moment, then said. "Mother, how far can a cat spit?"—Success Magazine.

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?

If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women of the ills peculiar to their sex, then we long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence. Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.—" I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains each month and suppression. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial." —Mrs. Lena Carmocino, Hudson, Ohio. R. F. D. No. 7.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y.—"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. I am happy to say that I am cured, thanks to your medicine and good advice. You may use my letter for the good of others." – Mrs. J. H. Breyere, St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

The government's employ list is growing by leans and bounds. The . grand total of all federal employes at present is 370,065, as against 306,141 in 1907, an increase in the two years of about 64,000 persons, or about 20 per cent. There were 28,947 persons in the federal em-ploy in Washington on July 1 last; the annual pay roll for them is $31.-541,225, an average of nearly $1-100 each. This total will be tem-100 each, porarily swollen next year by the addition of about 3,000 persons to the clerical force of the Census Bureau, adding nearly $5,000,000 in salaries during the year or more of their employment.-Leslie's.

GET POWER The Supply Comes From Food.

If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by use of skilfully selected food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

Poor fuel makes a poor fire and a poor fire is not a good steam producer.

"From not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach troubles." writes a lady from a little town in Missouri.

"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me beart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. 1 got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skele-ton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed.

"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I have kept up its use ever since. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed.

"All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which me so much pain treased from weight gradually increased from out, gave me so much pain disappeared.
