

The Sheets Stage Line takes you to Mercersburg for 50 cents.

How much healthier many people would be if they would worry less. It is worry more than work that kills people. Where work kills its thousands worry kills its tens of thousands.

50 cents pays the fare one way between McConnellsburg and Mercersburg. Sheets stage line.

Preaching services in the Reformed church next Sunday, both morning and evening, at which time the offerings will be devoted directly to Foreign Mission work. May it be very liberal, and it will bring its own reward. Everybody welcome.

An ancient sage said that opportunity is laid behind but that in front it has a forelock which may be grasped and held. A great many people who have missed their opportunity think that the forelock is so profusely greased that it slips through the hand.

HIDES.—James Sipes & Son: pay the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins, sheepskins and tallow.

We often hear a good deal about the success due to luck and genius. Of one man who wins we say he has good luck, of another man that he is a genius. But almost invariably what is called luck and genius is the result of hard painstaking work and good judgment.

Won't Need a Crutch.

When Editor J. P. Sossman, of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica salve healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for ulcers, boils, burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, pimples, eczema, or piles. 25c at Trout's drug store.

J. S. Mort, his son Frank, John Henry, and Luther Grove came in from Clear Ridge Monday morning in a sled. Frank had been spending a couple of weeks at home, but went back to Waynesboro, Monday afternoon. Mr. Henry just returned home a few weeks ago from a two months' trip to Florida. He feels now that he would not exchange the climate in Fulton county in winter time for that in Florida. It is just as much too warm there as it is too cold here.

SAVED FROM AWFUL PERIL.

"I never felt so near my grave" writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive to-day is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for coughs and colds, it's the most certain remedy for lagrippe, asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections, 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Trout's drug store.

The pastor and people of the Reformed church wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Washbaugh for their hospitality, and the Social Committee for their work in making our C. E. social a decided success last Thursday evening. When a committee commits itself to its business it can bring results.

Women as Clerks.

As in other lines of work, the first question asked the girl applying for a position as clerk is: "What experience have you had?" Therefore, if you live in a small town and have ambitions toward going to a larger city, I advise you to work in your home shops for a few weeks or months, so that you may truthfully say you have had experience. Clerking in a small general store is a fine experience, for you are not confined to one counter, but learn many different kinds of goods and prices. In a country store you come into closer touch with your employer, are called into consultation when he deals with buyers, and thus you increase your own knowledge of buying, ordering, judging materials and what a good store needs in the way of variety. Because you have this general knowledge, you may advance more quickly in the city. You can fill a vacancy in any department better than the girl trained to sell just one kind of goods. Your experience will stand you in good stead, too, if the time arrives when you can set up your own little shop.

In your own town you come in contact with a different type of customers from those in the large cities. The persons who come to you are not professional shoppers, but friends who have faith in your judgment and who ask you to decide for them. Thus you learn to "size up" customers and study how to please them. Merchants in smaller towns cannot depend on tourists and surrounding towns to relieve them of old stock, but expect their clerks to sell the old stock before the time comes to lay in a new supply. Now, though it is not generally admitted, a clerk's duty is just as much to get rid of slow sellers as it is to sell out fresh, desirable goods. The more practice and success you have in selling the former, the more valuable you will be to your employer. "Anyone can sell a customer the thing he wishes," said a merchant. "I expect my clerks to sell him the things we wish sold."

GLUTEN FEED.

What It is, and How to Feed It, as Told by Farmer C. J. Brewer, of the Cove.

The introduction of Gluten Feed to the farmers of this county, as noted in the NEWS a few weeks ago, has led to numerous inquiries as to what it is, and how it may be used.

In the first place, Gluten Feed is a by-product of the factories that make cornstarch, syrup, glucose, &c., from corn. After having extracted the starch from the grain, there remains the protein, which is, indeed, the flesh-producing and milk producing part of the grain, and this is sold to the farmers for feed. In many respects, this feed is superior to the whole grain, and of course, like bran which is a by-product of the miller in the manufacture of flour, is much cheaper than the whole grain. Unlike bran, however, it contains so much more of the element that goes to make muscle and milk. The carload, consisting of about 17 tons, that Mr. Brewer and his neighbor George Comerer ordered, costs only $31.50 at the station at Mercersburg. Since the time that carload was ordered, the Feed has slightly advanced, and yet, it is cheap compared with wheat bran, which costs $30 a ton, and Gluten Feed contains just twice the amount of nourishment as bran.

As to the manner of feeding it, Mr. Brewer says that Gluten Feed may be fed alone. Begin by using one pound up to four; or, you may feed it with wheat bran or oats chop—four pounds of gluten to four pounds of bran or chop; or, to make a more nearly complete balanced ration,

- 4 lbs. corn chop,
- 4 lbs. wheat bran,
- 4 lbs. gluten feed,

and all the hay or cornfodder that they will eat up clean.

All feed calculations are made upon the basis of 1000 pounds weight, and should be fed in proportion. A cow in full flow of milk, should be fed the full ration, or according to production. Cows and all other animals should have a fair proportion of protein, or nitrogenous food; and, especially, cows and young animals should have it with the same regularity that the farmer takes his meals.

Gluten Feed is the by-product of the Corn Refining Companies, with the sugar and the starch taken out, and contains 24 to 27 per cent.; 2½ per cent. fat, and 8 per cent. fiber or indigestible matter. It contains about twice the protein in wheat bran, and about three times as much as corn meal.
