Literature's First Need.

Richard Watson Gilder had a dry wit of his own. He once received from a young woman who wished to secure material for an article of 3,000 words on "Young Women in Literature." "It was a fetching subject, full of meat," plained the young woman after-ward, "and I saw not only 3,000 words in the story, but at least But I never got any further than the first question. Mr. Gilder's answer took the very life out of me. I asked him, 'Now, Mr. Gilder, what would you say was the first, the chief, the all-essential requisite for young woman entering the literary I waited with bated breath, stamps.' CLEAR-HEADED Hend Bookkeeper Must Be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm coffee did for him:

'My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago, and we have used it ever since, to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:

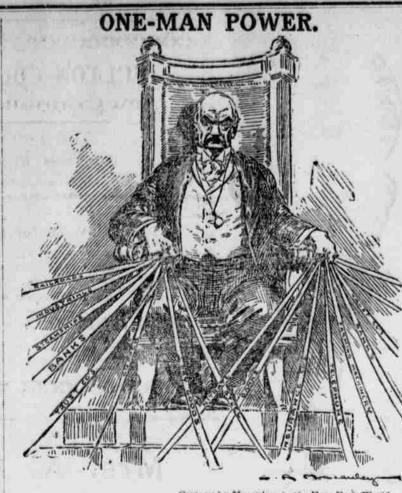

About three and a half years ago had an attack of pneumonia, which left a memento in the shape of dyspepsia, or, rather, to speak more correctly, neuralgia of the stomach. My 'cup of cheer' had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a

"Next day it came, but the cook made the mistake of not boiling it sufficiently, and we did not like it much. This was, however, soon remedied, and now we like it so much that we will never change back. Pos tum, being a food beverage instead of a drug, has been the means of curing my stomach trouble, I verily believe, for I am a well man to-day and bave used no other remedy.

"My work as chief bookkeeper in our Co.'s branch house here is of a very confining nature. During my offee-drinking days I was subject to nervousness and 'the blues' in addi-tion to my sick spells. These have left me since I began using Postum, and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exer-

It is not and unaffected by, the narratives of fraud and corruption that ostensibly form the important news of the day. It is the Morganization of the United responsibility for any individual, no States. A list of the present holdings matter how good or how able. This is the day when the large capitalist is called upon to stand and deliver.

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review or Trade says: "Industrial and mercantile conditions, though irregular are, on the whole very satisfactory, with promis-ing spring outlook. The event of this week has been the great weak-ness in securities. The failure rec-ord has been greatly expanded in amounts involved during the last month, but the record seems worse that it really is, because its big total of liabilities is due to a handful of large defaults, chiefly by brokerage firms. The record, nevertheless, has necessarily a depressing effect. It is difficult, however, to discover any material falling off in the volume of trade , although it is undoubtedly true that there is less of the tremendous push of two or three months

"While there has been no return to the remarkable activity of a few months ago current consumption of iron and steel continues in heavy volume and all leading producers are busily engaged in filling contracts on their books. There has been some slackening of demand in a few finished lines, as consumers have ample stocks on hand and buy conservatively as a result, but, on the whole, orders for materials are numerous. although for smaller amounts than

It is not correct to say that "cemery" means the "city of the dead. The word is from the Greek "Klo-meterion," meaning sleeping place, not the place of the dead. There is nothing in the etymology of the word to warrant us in thinking that it was originally intended to convey the idea that the departed were really dead any more than there is in the old Hebrew term for cemetery—"Bet-haim"—the house of the living.— New York American.

Fresh Air An Investment.

Fresh air is a good investment, whether it be in the home, the office or the factory. Without it the brightest mind beclouds and the most energetic grow listless and lose force. The human engine cannot develop its utmest power without fresh air, any more than the candle can burn brightly or the fire under a boiler yield its utmost heat when depri 1 of the necessary amount of oxy. Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most florious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weak-ness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R.V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Leg a Mass or Irching Humor. "About seven years ago a small abrasion appeared on my right leg just above my anale. It irritated me so that I began to scratch it and it began to spread until my log from my ankle to the knee was one solid scale like a scab. The irritation was always worse at night and would not allow me to sleep, or my wife either, and it was completely undermining our health. I lost fifty pounds in weight and was almost out of my mind with pain and chagrin as no matter where the irritation came, at work, on the street or in the presence of company, would have to scratch it until I had the blood running down into my shoe simply cannot describe my sufferng during those seven years. The pain, mortification, loss of sleep, both to myse ; and wife is simply indescribable on paper and one bas to experience it to know what it is

"I tried all kinds of doctors and remedies but I might as well have thrown my money down a newer They would dry up for a little while and fill me with hope only to break out again just as bad if not worse. I and given up hope of ever being cured when I was induced by my wife to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial. After taking the Cuticura Remedies for a little while I began to see a change, and after taking a dozen bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, In conjunc tion with the Cuticura Soan and Cuticura Ointment, the trouble had entirely disappeared and my leg was as fine as the day I was born Now after a inpse of six months with no signs of a recurrence I feel perfectly safe in extending to you my heartfelt thanks for the good the Cuticura Remedies have done for me. I shall always rec ommend them to my friends. W. II White, 312 E. Cabot St., Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 4 and Apr. 13, 1909.

Her Large Experience.

The attractive young lady who had written "urgent" on her card was shown into the consulting room of Sir Choppham Fyne, head of the famous surgical hospital in Splintshire And what is the matter with you?" said the great man. "I wish," she answered, "to become

"It was." said Barker, "but you know Bobbie is an expert at making both ends meet."—Harper's Weekly.

Iris) Vs. Italian Method.

The Rev. Sanford Culver Hearn, paster of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Yonkers, is relating a street car incident which concerns a conductor, an Irishman and an Italian. Each had given a dime to the faretaker, but had received no change. "I wanta da nick," complained the Neapolitan.

"You've got your nick. No more nicks yor you. See?" And the conductor moved to the rear platform. The Italian sat meekly in silence, but the Irishman employed different tactics. He went to the doorway.

"Gimme five cints change." said he to the conductor.
"You've got all the change you're going to get," was the retort,
"See here," exclaimed the Irishman. "you may play that chune on a hand organ but you can't do it on a harp. Glume five cints."
