The Japanese ordnance officers have designed a 14-inch gun which is almost an exact replica of the gun tested at Sandy Hook, and it was desirable to ascertain the effect of the fire from this powerful gun on the material being used in the battery emplacements of the defenses of our island possessions. It is reported that the new material withstood the fire directed against it most satisfactorily.

Accident Occurs In The No. 5 Shaft Of The Lehigh And Wilkes-Barre Coal Company-Explosion Of Gas Causes A Heavy Fall Of Rock-Between Seven And Seventeen Men Are Entombed And There Is Little Hope For Them.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa. (Special). -From 7 to 17 men were entombed in the No. 5 shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, near here, as the result of a terrific explosion of rock and wall of fire and, at present, there appears to be little hope of rescuing them alive.

The explosion occurred shortly after 9 o'clock in the No. 12 plane, where a gang of men were putting together a hoisting engine. The mine was idle all week and the men were taking this opportunity of putting the engine together. What caused the explosion is not known, but it is believed that the Spring From Woods Into Back Of Buggy While Paymasters Were Driving To Mine Of Dexter Coal Co.-Beaten Insensible And Left On Roadside—Horses, Buggy And Money Satchel Gone.

Pittsburg, Pa. (Special). - Edward McGann, paymaster, and Charles N. Pommering, assistant paymaster, respectively, of the Dexter Coal Company, of Pittsburg, were attacked by highwaymen at 1 o'clock while carrying a $4,000 payroll in a buggy near the company mines at Brilliant, O. At a late hour both men were still unconscious at a hospital in Steubenville, O., while the murderous highwaymen, who escaped with the money, are thought to be hiding in the hills of West Virginia, across the Ohio River from the place of the holdup.

The Dexter Coal Company, from its office in the Frick Building at Pittsburg, gave out notice that it would pay $1,000 reward for the highwayman, dead or alive, and of-ficers in Eastern Ohio, Northern West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania are busy trying to catch the highwaymen, who are thought to have numbered three.

McGann left Pittsburg going to Wellsburg, W. Va., by the Panhandle train, which he left at that point and crossed the Ohio River in a poat to be met by Pommering, who had a buggy in which they were to carry the money to the Dexter mine, about two miles back from the riv The pair had passed an old schoolhouse far from any other house and were about to enter a wood when

Washington, D. C. (Special) .-Foreign steamship companies whose vessels ply between American and foreign ports are subject to the law imposing a tax of 1 per cent, on the net incomes of the corporations, according to an opinion rendered by Attorney General Wickersham.

Foreign corporations operating in this country are required to pay a tax on their net incomes from busi-ness transacted and capital invested in the United States.

It was insisted upon the part of these steamship companies that inas-much as receiving and discharging cargoes and passengers was a mere incident to the principal service rendered by them, which consisted in the transportation of cargoes and passengers over the high seas, they had no income derived from business. transacted in the United States, Mr Wickersham says he is of the opinion that this contention cannot be maintained. He declares:

"These companies have a large amount of capital invested in wharves, warehouses and other faclifties essential to carrying on their business in this country. Their business consists entirely in transporting passengers and goods and merchandise between ports in this country and those of foreign countries and tracts and arrangements incident to such a business at this end of their imports are loaded and passengers from foreign ports disembark.
