Good Trout Season.

Harrisburg.—In spite of the ab-sence of rain Fish Commissioner Wil-liam E. Mechan says the prospects are good for the trout season, which opened Thursday night and will continue until July 31.

"According to all accounts trout fishing this year will be excellent," said the commissioner. "With the exception of Susquehanna County streams and several others, where the drought has affected the creeks, fishing will be unusually good.

"It is probable that no very large fish will be caught, but there should be plenty from six to eight inches in the waters. Some streams have already been fished for trout, but I do not believe this will affect the "Reports from the best fishing streams, such as Broadheads, show that the streams really contain many trout. The streams in Clinton, Clear-field, Lycoming, Tioga, Monroe and Pike are all said to be in the best of condition for trout fishing and all of these streams are well

The Proper School Age. The old question, "At What Age Should Children Enter School?" being agitated in educational circles. Companionship and study are excelelements in an education for the young when it is possible to have groups of children enter school at the same age. For example, if al the children in a neighborhood could begin attendance at the age of six or seven or eight years then the companionship would have much to do with festering a child's interest in the studies.

One educator's advice that the parents should consult with the prin-cipal of the school in the district where they reside and have him examine the child for the purpose of deciding whether it is best to have him begin schooling is sensible, it is far better to have a physician's opinion on this subject. There are too many children of a tender age ambitious to study who have not the ing is of more consequence than mental attainments in the beginning of a child's education .- Boston Globe,

MISCHIEF MAKER A Surprise in Brooklyn.

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. A Brooklyn man says:

"When baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was, at first, attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but, in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient "One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonfuls in a saucer with a little sugar and warm milk. This baby ate so ravenously that she fixed a second which he likewise finished. "It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. To-day the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischiefmaker as a thirteen months old haby is expected to be. "We have put before him other foods, but he will have none of them, evidently preferring to stick to that which did him so much good—his old friend Grape-Nuts. "Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise

"Is it permitted for one to have a look at-er-the other place?"

'Certainly,' was the gracious reply, and accordingly a descent to the other place was made. Here the editor found much to interest him. He scurried about and was soon lost

His angelic escort got worried at last and began a systematic search for his charge. He found him at last seated before a furnace, fanning himself and gazing at the people in the fire. On the door of the fyrnace was a plate, saying, 'Diliquent Subscribers. 'Come,' said the angel to the editor, 'we must be going.'

"You go on,' the editor answered, without lifting his eyes. 'I'm not coming. This is heaven enough for me.' "-Louisville Times.

An Ambiguous Order,

Lord Palmerston expected work to be done well, but of mere peccadilloes he was tolerant. Some young gentle-men in the Foreign Office amused themselves by 'shining' young ladies who lived on the other side of the street—that is, by catching the rays

The father of the young ladies complained to Paimerston, who there-upon issued this minute:

"The Secretary of State desires that the gentlemen in this department will not cast disagreeable re-flections on the ladies opposite."-London Chronicle.

Looking For A Life Job.

The removal from the county clerk's office of two safes which had been purchased by the city in the days of "Boss" Tweed recalls the story which a man once prominent in Albany politics used to tell when-ever he had an opportunity. "I am a g'azier; can't you get me a job on the court-house or city hall?"
"No," said Davidson. "I Jon't think I can. They give those jobs to New Yorkers."

"But I want only the job to put in one pane of glass."

"What good will that do you?" "Once I have a contract for one pane of glass from these gentlemen my family is provided for. I need never work again," was the reply.—

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a soal range will do-except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't amoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and ceeking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, base or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed -and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.
