BE COURTEOUS.

Some People Seem to Forget They Have Any Manners When Using a Telephone.

Would you rush into an office or up to the door of a residence and blurt out "Hello! Hello! Who am I talking to?" and then, when you received a reply, follow up your wild, discourteous salutation with "I don't want you; get out of my way. I want to talk with Mr. Jones." Would you? That is merely a sample of the impolite and impatient conversations that the telephone transmits many times a day.

There is a most agreeable mode of beginning a telephone conversation which many people are now adopting, because it saves useless words and is, at the same time, courteous and direct. It runs thus:

The telephone bell rings, and the person answering it says: "Morton & Company, Mr. Baker speaking." The person calling then says: "Mr. Wood, of Curtis & Sons, wishes to talk with Mr. White."

When Mr. White picks up the receiver, he knows Mr. Wood is on the other end of the line, and without any unnecessary and undignified "Hello," he at once greets him with the refreshingly courteous salutation: "Good morning, Mr. Wood." That savors of the genial handshake that Mr. Wood would have received had he called in person upon Mr. White.

Undoubtedly there would be a far higher degree of telephone courtesy, particularly in the way of reasonable consideration for the operators, if the "face-to-face" idea were more generally held in mind. The fact that a line of wire and two shining instruments separate you from the person with whom you are talking, takes none of the sting out of unkind words.

Telephone courtesy means answering the telephone as quickly as possible when the bell rings—not keeping the "caller" waiting until one gets good and ready to answer. Telephone courtesy, on party lines means being polite when some one else unintentionally breaks in—not snapping, "Get off the line; I'm using it."

In a word, it is obviously true that that which is the correct thing to do in a face-to-face conversation, is also correct in a telephone conversation, and anyone has but to apply the rules of courtesy, prescribed long years before the telephone was first thought of, to know the proper manners for telephone usage.

Be forbearing, considerate and courteous. Do over the telephone as you would do face to face.

LION FONDLAS A CHILD.

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C., "We always give it to him when he takes cold. Its a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hemorrhages, Weak Lungs. 50c. $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Trout's drug store.

Lloyd Wagner of Mercersburg, who had been visiting friends at Fort Littleton, Knobsville, and Cito, has returned home.

LOWER THOMPSON.

A very pleasant event occurred at the home of John H. Fisher last Thursday evening. It was the occasion of a surprise party in honor of Morgan Fisher, of near McConnellsburg, who was visiting his nephew. It was learned that last Thursday was his 73d birthday. So he was taken along to the sawmill, when he returned about 5 o'clock in the evening, he found that 50 or 60 of his friends and relatives had assembled with well filled baskets, and a supper had been prepared for his niece which was partaken of by the merry party and a very sociable evening was spent.

Those present were: Amanda Slacker, Victor Lynch, wife and children, Winnie Reel and children, H. W. Wink, wife and children, J. C. Douglass, wife and daughter, Etta; Reason Yonker, wife and children, Andrew Souders and wife, Isaac Culler and daughter, Mary; Elizabeth Souders, Anna Snyder and daughter Pleasant; Clara Gordon, Anna Gordon, Kit Stone, Dorothy Hagerman, Enoch Truax, Grant Brakeall, Harvey Souders, Geo. Gordon, Elijah Souders, Benjamin Slacker, Roy Gregory, Clarence Deshong and G. W. Fisher, wife and daughter, Pearl.

Social conversation followed till about nine o'clock when the guests wished him many more happy birthdays and returned home.

Last Friday morning as G. W. Fisher was ready to go to work, he was very much surprised to have a number of his neighbors drop in with teams, plows, and harrows to help him plant his corn, he had been sick for a number of weeks, and being behind in his work appreciated their help very much.

Our Sunday school at Rehoboth getting along nicely under the supervision of Mrs. John Brewer. Sunday school next Sunday at 9:30. Everybody welcome.

A MAN WANTS TO DIE

Only when a lazy liver and sluggish bowels cause frightful despondency. But Dr. King's New Life Pills expel poisons from the system; bring hope and courage; cure all Liver, Stomach and Kidney troubles; impart health and vigor to the weak, nervous and ailing. 25c. at Trout's drug store.

R. M. Arbaugh, near Williamson, has several interesting things on his farm but at present the newest and for the young folks at least, the most interesting is a three weeks' old lamb having five legs and six feet. This animal was born with five perfect legs, the third and extra one on its left side being just as complete as any of the others. In all of his twenty lambs this over-gifted one is the only black one. Its sixth foot springs perfectly from along the ankle of the fifth leg. The frisky animal is as healthy and as lively as any of the rest of the flock. It is one of a pair of twins. —Star and Sentinel, Gettysburg

A Valuable Bulletin.

Not in a long time has a more practical or valuable bulletin been put out by the department of agriculture than that issued a short time ago under the caption "Re-planning a farm For Profit." It discusses a rundown Illinois farm which came to grief through a monotonous and uninterrupted rotation of corn and oats, and corn and nothing else. It emphasizes the benefits to be derived from the growing of clover in rotation with grain crops and the use of farm and commercial fertilizers with a view to maintaining and, if possible, increasing the fertility of the soil. The bulletin gives six different types of farming that may be substituted for the usual one of corn and oats, so as to increase the income of the farm from two to five times and at the same time increase the fertility of the soil. A copy of this bulletin is worthy of the most careful perusal by tens of thousands of agricultural sinners living in the corn belt, and they can get possession of it by writing to the congressman from their district or directly to the secretary of agriculture, Washington.

A man recently died in the West, and his Hancock relatives telegraphed the florist to make a wreath, the ribbon to be extra wide, with the inscription, "Rest in Peace," on both sides, and if there is any room, "We shall meet in heaven." The florist was out of town and his assistant handled the job. It was a handsome piece that turned up at the funeral and the ribbon bore the inscription "Rest in peace on both sides and if there is room we shall meet in heaven."

It is estimated that if the beer sold in Somerset county last year should be confined in a single vessel, it would be sufficient to submerge the court house and jail, and to inundate the county home farm of 300 acres. The total output for the three breweries as recorded on the county records, was 36,499 barrels. When the beer brought from outside is added, it is estimated that 100,000 barrels were sold in the county last year. The consumption has been growing at an amazing rate in the last few years.

A rise of 25 per cent. in the price of cigars and tobacco has been proclaimed in France, where the manufacture and sale of the fragrant weed is a Government monopoly. A people may be ground by a public as well as by a private monopoly, and the product of the former, as the French nation has learned by experience may be even more execrable than is the output of the latter. The French smokers have the consolation, however, that the money squeezed out of them is devoted to a public use and not to the further swelling of the private coffers of multi-millionaires. Still, a sense of patriotic duty is not a satisfactory substitute for the enjoyment of smoking a good cigar.

Many Women who are Splendid Cooks dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn out.
