DR. HENRY S. WISHART.

Well Known Practitioner Died at the Home of His Son-in-Law and Daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fockler,

IN JOHNSTOWN, THURSDAY MORNING.

Dr. Henry S. Wishart died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Fockler, in Johnstown, at 3:10 o'clock on Thursday morning of last week. Interment Saturday afternoon in Grand View cemetery beside the remains of his wife who died in Johnstown, March 29, 1908.

He had not been very well for several weeks, but had been able to mingle with the family until about three weeks ago, when he was stricken with paralysis, which seriously affected his left side; but his mind was clear, and he was conscious until within a very few hours of his dissolution.

Dr. Wishart was a son of the late John and Rachel (Snively) Wishart, was born in Wells Valley May 19, 1832, and at his death was aged 78 years and 14 days. After having gotten what advantages the public schools of his township afforded, his education was continued at Millwood Academy at Shade Gap, and at Academia, Juniata county. On the first of April, 1857, he began to read medicine in the office of Dr. R. J. Hunter, and in 1859, he entered the University of Pennsylvania and took one full course of instruction. Returning from Philadelphia, he practiced under his preceptor until May, 1861, when he entered the army as Captain of Company H, 77th regiment Penna. Vols., and remained in service until May, 1863.

Returning home from the army, he resumed the study of medicine in the office of Dr. Samuel D. Scott, and attended the University of Pennsylvania, graduating as a doctor of medicine on the 15th of March, 1864. He was a member of the Pennsylvania house of representative 1875-6, and served as chairman of the Fulton County Democratic committee two years. In these positions he discharged his duties to the entire satisfaction of his constituency and with credit to himself. As a physician he possessed those qualifications of heart and mind that greatly endeared him to the people of his field, and as a citizen he was ever ready to champion any enterprise that had for its object the advancement of the best interests of the County.

In September, 1861, he was married to Miss Maria, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Horton, of Wells Valley, and to this union were born six children—five of whom survive, namely, Miss Jessie B., Norman A., and Nat H., Pittsburg, Pa.; J. Bernard, Bordentown, N. J.; and Lenore, wife of George Fockler, residing in Johnstown. He is survived by three brothers: Hon. Samuel P., Captain Harvey, and Ex-Commissioner John A., all residing in Wells Valley; and by two sisters, Miss Kate, on the old homestead, and Mrs. David Horton, of Hopewell.

HEINBAUGH.
Lona Ruth Heinbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Heinbaugh, formerly of this place, now of Johnstown, Pa., died at the Memorial hospital in Johnstown, May 23, 1910, aged 13 years, 7 months, and 23 days. After a short illness of scarlet fever, she recovered and was up for one week, when she had a relapse, which turned to an inter-ception of the bowels. She was accompanied to the hospital Sunday evening, May 22nd, by her father, who stayed with her until she died. She underwent an operation which lasted more than three hours. After the operation she regained consciousness and was conscious as long as life lasted. But the shock was too great for her weakened

FOR A SANER FOURTH.

New Laws Not Needed. Enforce Those Already on Statute Books.

To secure a saner Fourth of July the enactment of local or other laws is not necessary. We have the laws, but we haven't the enforcement. The latest State law is that of 1905, which prohibits the sale or use of all fire works and fire crackers containing picric acid or picrates; explosive caps using high explosives or blank cartridges; blank cartridge pistols, etc., and provides a penalty of $50 to $500 fine, or imprisonment for thirty days to six months, or both.

This, however, is not the only law. An act of 1721, applying to Philadelphia, but which in 1751 was extended to the whole state, provides under the penalty of a fine that no person shall make, sell, or use squibs, rockets or other fireworks, without a special license from the governor, and the Supreme Court as late as 1885 decided that this law was not obsolete, but is in full force. The act of 1881 forbids the sale of gun-powder or any other explosive to any child under sixteen years of age. The act of 1885 prohibits the manufacture and sale of toy pistols or cannons. The act of 1901 imposes a penalty or fine or imprisonment or both for the manufacture or sale of fire crackers containing dynamite, chlorate of potash, or any other explosive than ordinary gun-powder.

DOTT.

Roy Garland and family have returned home after having spent some time down on the Eastern Shore.

Mrs. Riley Garland and son left for Hagerstown, Monday, after having spent several weeks with Mrs. John H. Lewis.

Misses Pearl and Lizzie Carnell, of Amaranth, visited this place recently.

Mrs. Irene Karns and children, of Cumberland, Md., are visiting relatives and friends here.

John Carnell and wife spent Saturday and Sunday with the family of Henry Layton.

Tilden Hill and wife spent Sunday with Charles Hess at Siding Hill.

Mrs. Alfred Mellott, of Needmore, visited relatives and friends at this place a few days ago.

Sunday school at Cedar Grove every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. This good work is still in progress with Mr. Ira Mellott, superintendent, and Mr. Albert M. Bivens assistant and Miss Ada Plessinger organist. 156 scholars on the roll. Come, one; come, all. Every body welcome. We wish the public to know that it was falsely reported that the Sunday school was broken up.

system, and Monday morning about 3 o'clock, she died.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinbaugh left John's own Monday evening, May 23d, with the body of their daughter, for Mercersburg, Pa., and arrived there Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. They were met at the train by their friends and relatives. Undertaker Kreps took charge of the body.

The funeral services were held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Krepps and were conducted by Rev. Harner, pastor of the Lutheran church, Mercersburg. Interment was made in the Mercersburg Fairview cemetery.

Lona was a consistent member of the Lutheran Sunday school, and was confirmed and joined the church last Easter. She is survived by her parents, two sisters—Mrs. Minerva Haelett and Mrs. Aona Coughan, and by three brothers—Frank, Millie, and Dawson—all of Johnstown. Lona leaves a wide circle of friends, both in Johnstown and in Mercersburg.

Won Illinois Bride.

Mr. H. Lee Bolinger, brother of our townsman Isaac Bolinger, was married on the 19th of May in Salem, Ill.; to Miss Maude Plew, of Flat Rock, in the same state.

Mr. Bolinger is a native of Taylor township, this county, and went west about six years ago, since which time he has been employed as fireman on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad. Mr. Bolinger had a cozily furnished house in readiness for his bride, and the happy couple went to housekeeping at once, and are spending their honeymoon and saving their cash in their own home. The News joins with the groom's many other Fulton county friends in extending congratulations.

Knobsville will play Pleasant Ridge on the latter's ground, Saturday, June 11th.

SALUVIA.

The farmers of this vicinity have been busy taking a rest for a few days on account of the rain. Grace Hann, a McConnellsburg normal student, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents O. E. Hann and wife.

Edna Hann spent last week visiting friends and relatives in Wells Valley.

J. G. Barton, of Akersville, spent Sunday on this side of the mountain.

Daisy Strait spent Saturday and Sunday at her home near Saluvia.

Lee Decker spent Sunday afternoon at O. E. Hann's.

The chicken pox in this vicinity is reported some better at present.

F. Decker and Homer Sipe have been busy getting Oo Oakman's barn ready to raise.

Although there was not a very large crowd at the Presbyterian children's service, on account of the rain, it was still a success. June 2nd was Mrs. H. M. Straits birthday. And—well, her friends and relatives remembered her, for she received 95 birthday cards.

Paul Gordon, of West Newton, Pa., spent a few days last week with his uncle and aunt Harvey Strait and wife. He was accompanied by his sister Miss Marie who expects to spend some time with her aunt.

A number of young folks from Saluvia attended the festival at Siloam last Saturday evening.

PLANTS AND THEIR PESTS.

Weekly Bulletin on Timely Topics Issued By the State Department of Agriculture.

THE RASPBERRY CANE-GIRDLER.

A Pennsylvania berry grower sent portions of his raspberry cane to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, and letter, saying: "Last summer something made a ring around the top of new raspberry cane, causing the tops to die and fall off. At the time I supposed it was something feeding on the juice, but this spring the canes were dead back a foot or so and in trimming off the dead part, I found a row of small holes around the stem containing eggs. I gathered all I could and burned them. Is this insect very troublesome or is it rarely found? I have never noticed it before."

To this Prof. Surface replied: "The eggs laid in a row in the cutting which you sent are those of the Snowy Tree Cricket, which are to be found during the winter and spring in twigs of various kinds, where they were deposited last fall. The proper treatment is to cut and burn them as you did."

"The insect cutting the ring around the top of your raspberry canes is the raspberry twig girdler. Its egg is laid just beyond the girdled place and its larva or grub lives therein. The thing to do is to gather and burn these girdled tips as soon as this can be done after they are injured. The insect has not become very troublesome in this State just for the one reason that it has not become very abundant. It is liable to become quite a pest. However, as its girdling is done at the tip of the young cane, this is not a very bad trouble, because it has plenty of opportunity to branch out and become bushy, with about the same result as is obtained by those persons who practice tipping."

Increase of Wages.

The Pennsylvania railroad company on Saturday announced another increase in wages to all of the yardmen employed on the lines East and West of Pittsburg. The revised schedule was made known to the railroad men by the division superintendent, to become effective June 1. The increases range from 3 to 10 per cent, and is over the increase that became effective on April 1.

It is a Risky Act To Do This.

Some of our exchanges are calling attention to the fact that there is a severe penalty imposed upon persons who thoughtlessly, maliciously or willfully disfigure buildings, fences, or pavements, by marking them with pencil, chalk or paint, or defacing with knife, stick or other implement. There is a law whereby a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or imprisonment, or both, can be imposed.

C. V'S. FIRST TRAIN.

Entered Harrisburg January 16, 1839—Had Three Engines.

The Harrisburg Telegraph gives the following interesting article:

"The first train from the Cumberland Valley entered Harrisburg on January 16, 1839, in the presence of hundreds of people, writes 'R. D.' to The Telegraph. The train had three engines, the first being named the Nicholas Biddle and was noted for its big smokestack. The train ran at twenty miles an hour and the opening of traffic over the bridge was hailed by press and people as uniting two of the foremost portions of Pennsylvania."

Gapes In Chicks.

A prominent Clarion county farmer wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Pennsylvania, saying: "My neighbor's chicks are all dying with gapes, and I have 166 which I would like to save. Can you tell me what to do for them, and also advise a remedy for lice on little chicks?"

The reply of Prof. Surface was as follows: "Replying to your inquiry concerning gapes in chicks, I can say that this disease is due to little worms in the windpipe, which come from the chicks eating earth-worms. If they are never allowed on the ground where there are earth-worms, they will not get the gapes. For example, if you can keep them on the barn floor, or on soil well covered with lime or ashes, they will be free from this disease; but, of course, they do much better if allowed to run out, especially during nice weather."

"Within the earth worm the little gape worm is encysted, just as the parasitic worm causing the human disease known as Trichinosis is encysted in the flesh of pork and develops when eaten by a person. In the same way does this little gape worm remain in the earth worm until eaten by the fowl or chick, when it develops into the gape worm, causing the disease which indicates its presence."

"A successful physician has recommended to me to destroy the pest by putting the chicks in to a box and dropping a few drops of carbolic acid on hot bricks, closing the box, and letting the chicks breathe the fumes for a few minutes. Repeat treatment once or twice. There is, of course, danger of overdoing this by making the fumes too strong, if one is not careful."

"One simple remedy which I have seen successfully used this spring is common kerosene or lamp oil applied by dipping the tip of feather into it, and inserting it into the windpipe of the chick. The shank of the feather should be stripped of its side barbs and only the tip remain to act as a soft feather brush. By opening the mouth of the chick and pulling the tongue slightly, the opening in the windpipe is to be seen, and the feather can be inserted. This apparently does not cause much pain, and the operation is soon finished. It appears that one touch of the oil against the gape worm is enough to kill it, even though it is not removed with the feather at the time of treatment. I saw a large number of chicks so treated this spring and everyone recovered after treatment. This appears to me to be more certain, and even more humane, than to attempt to remove with a horse hair loop, which is commonly used, inserted in the windpipe."

"For lice on little chicks, I recommend a drop of grease on the head and under the wing. Fresh lard, without salt, is the best. Do not use much. Only a slight drop or touch is enough, and put a little under the wings of the mother hen."

Our old time friend John F. Johnson, of Taylor, spent Thursday night in McConnellsburg.
