

The Sheets Stage Line takes you to Mercersburg for 50 cents.

Born—a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sipes, Sipes Mill, Monday of last week.

50 cents pays the fare one way between McConnellsburg and Mercersburg. Sheets stage line.

Rev. Charles Pittman, of the Persen Mission, and under orders to shortly sail for that field, will preach in the United Presbyterian church of town, next Sabbath, at 10:30 a. m. All are cordially invited.

HIDES.—James Sipes & Son pay the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins, sheepskins and tallow.

Why eat stale candy when you can get the best assorted chocolates made—fresh every Friday, at Seylar's drug store? Only on sale Friday evening and Saturday.

An interesting game was played Tuesday evening in McConnellsburg between the Normal students and the McConnellsburg team, resulting in a score of 6-3 in favor of the Normalites.

WANTED.—Harvesthand. Good stout fellow. One that can swing a cradle preferred, and that can open up around the field for the binder. Good wages. Apply to C. J. Brewer, Ayr township.

Prof. J. W. Barney, son of Rev. John H. Barney, of Clearville, was awarded two gold medals at Elon College, N. C., the Dr. R. M. Morrow Thesis medal for the best thesis and the Long Memorial medal for the highest average of scholarship during the college course.

Preparatory services will be held in the Lutheran church, McConnellsburg, Saturday evening, June 25th, and Communion services Sunday morning at 10:30. At the church at Big Cove Tannery preparatory services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and Communion services Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Through the columns of the NEWS, F. M. and J. H. Mellott, of Saluvia, wish to thank their friends who so kindly remembered their little son, C. Stanley B. Mellott, on his fourth birthday, June 3rd. The shower of post-cards lasted almost a week, during which time he received 123. It is needless to say that the little fellow was delighted as well as his parents.

MARVELOUS DISCOVERIES

mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines, telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill them, and that wonder of wonders—Dr. King's New Discovery—to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis, hemorrhage, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. Its the surest cure. James M. Black of Asheville, N. C., R. K. No. 4, writes it cured him of an obstinate cough after all other remedies failed. 50c. and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Trout's drug store.

Not Fatal.

A lawyer who has offices in the Betz building, received a telegram one day recently from his young wife, who is spending a few weeks at one of the resorts on the Maine coast.

"Come up as soon as you can; I am dying, Kate," it read.

Eight hours later he arrived at the summer hotel, to be met on the piazza by Kate herself.

"Why, what do you mean by sending me such a message?" he asked.

"Oh," she murmured, "I wanted to say that I was dying to see you, but my ten words ran out and I had to stop."—Philadelphia Times.

Change of Date.

Special attention is directed to the fact that the date in the advertisement of Bids for the building of the new school house in Ayr township has been changed from July 25th to JUNE 25th—Saturday of this week. Persons interested will govern themselves accordingly.

THERE IS NO DEATH.

There is no death! the stars go down
To rise upon some other shore,
And bright in heaven's jeweled crown,
They shine forever more.

There is no death! the forest leaves,
Convert to life the viewless air;
The rocks disorganize to feed
The hungry moss they bear.

There is no death! the dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers,
To golden-grain, or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow tinted flowers.

There is no death! the leaves may fall,
The flowers may fade and pass away—
They only wait, through wintry hours,
The warm, sweet breath of May.

There is no death! the choicest gifts
That heaven hath kindly lent to earth
Are even first to seek again
The country of their birth.

And all things that for growth or joy
Are worthy of our love or care,
Whose loss has left us desolate
Are safely garnered there.

Though life become a dreary waste,
We know its fairest, sweetest flowers,
Transplanted into praise.
Adorn immortal bowers.

The voice of birth-like melody
That we have missed and mourned so long,
Now mingles with the angel choir
In everlasting song.

There is no death! Although we grieve,
When beautiful, familiar forms,
That we have learned to love are torn
From our embracing arms.

Although with bowed and breaking heart,
With sable dark and silent tread,
We bear their senseless dust to dust
And say that they are "dead."

They are not dead! they have but passed
Beyond the mists that blind us here
Into the new and larger life
Of that serene sphere.

They have but dropped their robe of clay,
To put their shining raiment on;
They have not wandered far away—
They are not "lost" or "gone."

Though disenthralled and glorified,
They still are here and love us yet;
The dear ones they have left behind
They never can forget.

And sometimes when our hearts grow faint,
Amid temptations fierce and deep,
Or when the wildly raging waves
Of grief or passion sweep.

We feel upon our fevered brow
Their gentle touch their breath of balm;
Their arms enfold us, and our hearts
Grow comforted and calm.

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear, immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there are no dead.

J. R. McCREARY.

ED. NOTE.—This beautifully touching poem is the creation of Mr. J. R. McCreary, a native of Iowa, and at one time editor of the Delaware County Journal, of that state. The poem was written in 1863, and was first published in Arthurs Home Magazine in July of that year. The authorship of the poem was for many years erroneously attributed to Lord Lytton, the English poet. A thorough investigation carried on by Lippincotts a few years ago fully established the authorship. The poem has been printed in every state of the Union, in England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Canada, and even in Australia. It has gone into dozens of school books and been incorporated in scores of miscellaneous collections of poetry. It has been quoted in full or in part, at least five times on the floors of Congress. Letter to Amos Wilkinson,
McConnellsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: We can't get over talking about those two houses at Lutkin, Tex., owned by Judge I. D. Fairchild.

Both houses are exactly alike and both painted at same time by J. M. Torrance.

One took 15 1/2 gallons Devoe, the other 25 gallons of another paint sold at same price.

That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 per cent. whiting; that's why it took 9 1/2 gallons more.

Yours truly

F. W. DEVOE & CO.
65 P. S.—Hull & Bender, McConnellsburg; J. A. Boyd, Mercersburg, and Norman O. Huber, Chambersburg, sell our paint.

Mellott—Hurley.

At Mt. Union, Pa., on Tuesday of last week, Baltzer D. Mellott, son of the late Commissioner H. King Mellott, was married to Miss Ruth Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hurley, of Harrisonville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Geo. Leidy, of Mount Union. The happy couple are popular young people, and have the best wishes of their numerous friends.

Prices Go Up Every Month.

Beginning with September, 1908, there has been a monthly increase in wholesale prices, with out a break, up to March, 1910, and during the latter month the prices were higher than at any time in the preceding 20 years, according to a report which has just been issued by the Bureau of Labor.

The report is based upon an investigation of 257 commodities and says that the wholesale prices during March of the current year were 7.5 per cent. higher than in March, 1909; 19.2 per cent. higher than the average yearly price of 1900; 49.2 per cent. higher than the average yearly price of 1897, and 33.8 per cent. higher than the average price for the 10 years 1890 to 1899.

Don't You Feel Good?

If you are feeling weak, nervous and run-down; if your memory is failing; if you cannot sleep and have lost your appetite; go to Seylar's drug store, The Rexall Store and buy a bottle of Rexall Celery and Iron tonic, and if it doesn't cure you—doesn't prove satisfactory in every way, take back the bottle and get your money. You'll get it!

MRS. A. F. LITTLE'S

Summer Millinery.

Easter, 1910, has come and gone, and with it winter and spring millinery.

The Good Old Summer Time, is here, with its wealth of flowers and fruits, and the discriminating buyer wants her hat trimmed in unison with the season.

It was to meet this demand that we made the second trip to the eastern cities, and are now busy unpacking and marking the finest, freshest, and most up-to-date millinery attractions it ever has been our pleasure to offer.

"Just too lovely for anything" is the involuntary expression of every one who sees them.

Maybe you want a large hat. We have them—just what you want.

Then, our flowers and fruits and ribbons and all that go toward making seasonably trimmed hats. Peaches, apricots, grapes, cherries so natural that they fool the robins.

Then, finally and lastly, the price is right. Just about half what you would have to pay if you went to Harrisburg or Philadelphia; and it would not be a bit better in quality or style either.

$15 Reward.

Owing to the fact that the undersigned has been having bee trees cut and destroyed; has been having his peaches stolen year after year, and this year, his cherries stolen and the trees cut to pieces and destroyed, he will pay a reward of FIFTEEN DOLLARS for the arrest of parties trespassing on his farm and cutting bee trees, stealing fruit and destroying trees, and for information that they were the parties that did the damage. The farm is known as the old Bishop farm along Scrub Ridge mountain adjoining farms of Joseph B. Mellott and Elias Wink, and is occupied by Austin Lake as tenant.
