The Mighty Traveler Goes Buoyantly Through a Long and Trying Reception-Parade, Showing Lively Interest in Everything American.

The White Company Receives Unique Compliment For the Sturdy Reliability of Its Steam Car From Mr. Roosevelt and Family.

Theodore Roosevelt and Party in White Steamer.

After fifteen months' absence, exactly as scheduled, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt disembarked from the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, Saturday morning, June 18, at 11 a. m. To the keen disappointment of a large group of newspaper correspondents, Mr. Roosevelt absolutely refused, as heretofore, to be interviewed or to talk on political subjects, but his rapid fire of questions showed the same virile interest in public affairs as before.

If the welcome tendered by the vast throng may be considered a criterion upon which to base a "return from Elba," surely there was no discordant note in the immense reception-parade, nor in the wildly clamorous crowd which cheered at every glimpse and hung on his very word.

The incidents of the day in New York were many, but perhaps none better illustrated the nervous energy and vitality of the man, the near-mania to be up-and-doing, which he has brought back to us, than the discarding of horses and carriages for the swifter and more reliable automobiles. The moment the Roosevelt family and immediate party landed, they were whisked away in White Steamers to the home of Mr. Douglas Robinson at 433 Fifth avenue. A little later, when the procession reached the corner of Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, Colonel Roosevelt again showed his preference for the motor car in general and the White cars in particular, when he, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Collector Loeb transferred from their carriage to White Steamers, which were in waiting for them.

After luncheon at Mr. Robinson's house, the entire party, including Colonel Roosevelt, again entered the White cars and were driven to Long Island City, where they were to take a special train to the ex-President's home at Oyster Bay.

The supremacy of the White cars with the Roosevelt party was again demonstrated on Sunday, when the party was driven to church in the White Steamers, and a group of some forty prominent Rough Riders were taken in a White Gasoline Truck to a clambake at the Travers Island clubhouse of the New York Athletic Club. Responsibilities Of Parents.

The old-fashioned mother and the old-fashioned father have become almost obsolete in the large cities. Modern mothers and fathers have ceased to take their responsibility seriously. During the early days of the child's life the task of looking after manners and education is largely shifted to the schools. The education of children, consequently, has become more automatic, and, nat-

George Choan, comedian and playt, was praising, at the Lambs, humorous value of suggestions. 'It is funnier to suggest a thing, It is funder to suggest a thing," he said, "than to say it out. artist, during a recent visit to this city told a story of a young woman who wished to be a model to a friend.

The first requisite in a model," he said, "is that she should be goodlooking. One day a would-be model That Certain Sense called to see me when I was not at home. Consequently she told my wife about it.

"I was calling on some friends the other day," she said, 'and they saw me working my thumbs. One of them exclaimed, "Oh, what are you doing? You are doing such beautiful things with your thumbs, you must go to a warrier and let him. You must go to an artist and let him see your thumbs." And I came to see your thumbs." And I came to see Mr. Flagg, she concluded.

"Later I had an opportunity to see her thumbs in action."
"What was it like?" he was asked

"I don't remember," Flagg replied wearily, "Her face would stop a clock."—Philadelphia Times.

Famous Elm Cut Down.

Philadelphia. — An interested crowd watched the destruction of one of Philadelphia's old landmarks on Twelfth Street, above Chestnut, the gigantic elm tree which has for years shaded the yard of the Friends Meeting House, and which has a pedigree second to none in Philadelphia. It is said on good authority that the It is said on good authority that the old Elm was a branch of the famous Penn Treaty elm, in Kensington, under which William Penn made his treaty with the Indians. Two other large trees which have grown from the Penn Treaty elm are at the Pennsylvania Hospital and Swarthwork the Penn Treaty elm are at the Pennsylvania Hospital and Swarthmore College. The old tree on Twelfth Street was planted in 1812, when the surrounding neighborhood bore a truly rural aspect. It was for many years remarkable for its magnificient foliage but since the erection of the adjacent high buildings it ceased to thrive, and recently showed marks of decay. A short time ago a heavy branch fell to time ago a heavy branch fell the street, making a large hole in the sidewalk, and it was deemed necessary for the safety of pedestrians to remove entirely the old landmark.

Lived On 65 Cents A Week. Pittsburg.-The will of Nicholas Dale, a former newspaper man, who had lived for years a hermit-like life on 65 cents a week, as he boarted, was filed, directing that $1,350, which he had saved, be forwarded to the Holy Land, to the Sorrowful Mother and Blessed Virgin Church, erected 1500 years ago in the path of the Cross. He wrote that he has of the Cross. He wrote that he has long desired that all his worldly goods "shall be left in the last footsteps of our Divine Lord on His last journey while yet in the flesh and blood." As a writer, Mr. Dale was once well-known here for his intimate acquaintance with the steel in-dustry and its leaders, including Andrew Carnegie.

To Boom American Trade,

Pittsburg.—James E. Dunning, counsel to Havre, France, is in this ofty conferring with manufacturers and business men as to methods of and business men as to methods of extending their trade in foreign commercial fields now neglected by Americans. Dunning's visit is the first step in a recently devised plan of Secretary Knox to nerease Ameri-can commerce. The secretary's plan as explained here, contemplates bringing to this country from time to time the best men in the consular service to visit large cities and by personal conference with business men show them opportunities which exist in different parts of the world Dunning will be in Pittsburg several days and then will go to Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit and other manufacturing centers.

Accuses Two Gypsy Girls, Shamokin.—While Charles Herrold, a Sunbury commercial man, was calling on trade in the local suburbs two young gypsv girls stop-ped and asked him to permit them to tell his fortune. He consented, and one asked for his purse, which she pressed against her stomach and mumbled mysterious words. Her companion tickled his ribs. Hercompanion tickled his ribs, Her-rold, in relating his experience later to the authorities, said he was mes-merized, during which the girls fled with $27 belonging to him. He re-ported his loss to the State police, who raided two gypsy camps, but could not find the girls.

Prevents Explosion.

Pittsburg.—While firemen poured powerful streams of water upon him, A. Weaver, superintendent of Atlantic refining plant, dashed daringly through flame and smoke and shut a valve, which prevented fire spreading from a burning still of benzine to great tanks of oil nearby. In the vicinity over 30,000 barrels of petroleum in various stages of refinment were stored. Two hundred people, called from their beds by the peril, cheered the superintendent as he came, scorched, from the burning still. What likely would have been a catastrophe similar to that at Sheraden several years ago, when 200 persons were serious-ly injured in a gasoline explosiou, was prevented and the loss confined to the benzine still.

A Burning Eruption Covered Her From Head to Feet.

"Four years ago I suffered severety with a terrible eczema, being a mass of sores from head to feet and for six weeks confined to my bed. During that time I suffered continual torture from itching and burning. After being given up by my doctor I was advised to try Cuticura Remedies. After the first bath with Cuticura Soap and application of Cuticura Ointment I enjoyed the first good sleep during my entire illness. I also used Cuticura Resolvent and the treatment was continued for about three weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about the house, entirely cured, and have felt no ill effects since. I would advise any person suffering from any form of skin trouble to try the Cuticura Remedies, as I know what they did for me. Mrs. Edward Nenning, 1112 Salina St., Watertown, N. Choosing One's Work,

This matter of choosing one's life work is one of the severest tasks a person has to meet. Many men do not find their reheres of greatest usefulness until middle age, while others never find them, Education ought to help one to find his true sphere. The great difficulty with so many young people is they show an adaptability to too many things; they become what their fellows or instrus-tors call versatile. The versatile man sometimes is the worst handicapped man. He can do a dozen things fairly well and he spends his time be-tween them, scattering his fire, instead of concentrating on one object a single purpose and learning to do that in the aggregate better than he could do each of the eleven. The man who, with a bent for music can play half a dozen instruments is not hearly likely to play as we as the man who becomes expert in the use of that one. The versatile man is seldom more than an amateur, being kept out of the professional class simply because he has never learned to concentrate his full powers on the one thing. Young mer and women must look out for these pitfalls. The only talent that ever accomplishes anything worth while is that trained along a certain, definite fixed line.—Omaha Bee. When To Kiss The Cook,
