Every young lady may mark it down as a fact that if she flirts and associates with "pick ups" she will soon have no others for associates. No matter how unjustly it may be, there will always be a suspicion that those who are not above making acquaintances in this way are not as pure in heart and mind as they ought to be. It would be unjust to say no pure minded girls flirt. They do and many of them lose their purity by so doing. Others though not so unfortunate, subject themselves to suspicions which every woman should be above.

Farmer Leagues For Business.

The report of A. W. Thackara, United States Consul-General at Berlin, on farmer leagues in Germany, just issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor at Washington, should prove of great interest and value to American agriculturists.

There are in Germany 23,505 farmers' societies or unions formed for mutual aid, with a total membership of 1,970,819. These societies have been combined in two great national organizations, the Imperial Agricultural Organization and the General Agricultural Organization. These two central organizations are united for administrative purposes.

At the last report of the Imperial Organization, it embraced 67 circuit unions, made up of 18,333 societies, with a membership of 1,575,000. These local societies comprised 12,584 savings and loan societies, 2,129 co-operative purchasing societies, 1,900 dairy societies and 1,591 societies devoted to various other objects.

The General Organization is made up mostly of savings and loan societies. The total number of societies is 5,172, of which 4,398 are savings and loan societies, the other groups being devoted to various purposes corresponding to the classification in the Imperial Organization.

The total assets of the savings and loan societies in both the Imperial and the General Organizations is, in round numbers, $485,000,000.

Next in importance to the savings and loan societies, is the group known as the Co-operative Purchasing Society, made up of more than 2,000 local societies with a membership of over 225,000 for the co-operative purchase of supplies.

Third in importance is the group of dairy societies comprising 1,719 local dairy societies with a membership of 178,132. The business of these societies is the co-operative sale of dairy products.

Besides these two great organizations of farmers in Germany there are two others, one for the technical advancement of agriculture and the other for the protection of the political interests of the farmer.

In closing his report Consul-General Thackara quotes an eminent economist as saying that the significance of the agricultural unions in Germany lies in their successful advocacy of honest business dealing, in their insistence on cash payments and on economy in operating expenses, in their struggle against usury and deception, in the business and moral training they give and in the happy combination of progressive principles and brotherly sympathy which they stimulate. —The Patriot.

THOSE PIES OF BOYHOOD.

How delicious were the pies of boyhood. No pies now ever taste so good. What's changed, the pies? No. It's you. You've lost the strong, healthy stomach, the vigorous liver, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood. Your digestion is poor and you blame the food. What's needed? A complete toning up by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels. Try them. They'll restore your boyhood appetite and appreciation of food and fairly saturate your body with new health, strength and vigor. 50c at Trout's drug store.

Letter to John P. Sipes, McConnellsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: One of the ways to get rich is to make a quarter look like thirty cents.

There's a better: make it thirty cents. It has this advantage: one keeps out of jail.

There are 200 paint manufacturers making quarters look like 30, 40, 50, 60 cents, and all the odd cents between. That is, their "paints" profess to be paint; and they are, in about the proportions named. They get 30 to 60 cents for a quarter's worth; some get 75.

There's a better way to paint: Devoo. There are eight honest paints. By "honest," we mean not adulterated and full measure. These honest ones differ; no two are alike. In one, the quarter is worth 27 or 28 cents; in another, 30 cents; there must be a best one in eight; it is the one that takes least gallons to cover a job-Devoo.

To cover; that seems a light way to speak of a paint. No, it isn't. That is what paint is for: to cover. It means to hide and protect. The paint that goes furthest is best, wears longest. Go far is all; and Devoo is the go far paint.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOO & Co.
