Rev. Dr. M. L. Culler on Sunday, July 17, offered his resignation as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Bedford, to take effect August 31, 1910. He intends to locate in Philadelphia and engage in literary work.

Prof. C. H. Gordiner, head of the English Department at the Cumberland Valley State Normal School at Shippensburg, and well known as an instructor at the County Institutes in this county, was married on the 20th inst. at Elizabethville, Pa., to Miss Lottie Irene Stine. They will occupy apartments in the Normal this fall.

From the Enid, Oklahoma Eagle, we learn that on the 29th of June, Miss Elizabeth Porter was married to Mr. G. F. Graff at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Mayberry, in Enid. Miss Porter is a daughter of the late Associate Judge Jeremiah Porter, who several years ago owned and lived on the farm now owned by Ex-Sheriff Frank Mason just west of the Borough limits.

D. B. Zimmerman, of Somerset, is a farmer on a big scale. He has somewhere between 7,000 and 10,000 head of early cabbage and an equal amount of later varieties. Harvesting cabbage on the Fourth of July is something new in that section of the country where cabbage as a rule rarely matures before September. Colonel Zimmerman's potatoes could not look more promising, and from the size of the patch, 100 acres, he has out, it would seem that he should have enough to bers to supply all the country.

John B. Gough.

John B. Gough, perhaps the most eloquent and able temperance advocate that ever lived, was born at Sandgate, England, August 22, 1817. The castle and other romantic surroundings greatly affected the boy. His father was a soldier and his mother a gentle school mistress.

His parents were poor, and to better the boy's prospects they sent him with a neighbor to America. His mother marked passages in the Bible for him to learn, especially the second, third, fourth and fifth chapter of Proverbs.

He spent two years on a farm in New York, with no Sabbath school or day school, but joining the Methodist during a revival. Seeking advancement, he went to New York City with only half a dollar in the world.

Great poverty and many trials, together with the ability to sing well and tell funny stories, led Gough into a life of dissipation. He became a drunkard and an actor. His first appearance in Boston was in the play, "Departed Spirits, or the Temperance Hoax," in which Dr. Lyman Beecher and other temperance leaders were ridiculed.

Mr. Gough married, took up his trade of book binding, but fell to the most profound depths of intemperance, knowing all the horrors of delirium tremens. At one time he stood on the railroad track with a bottle of laudanum at his lips, and only the moving of the Holy Spirit kept him from a suicide's grave.

The kind words of a stranger, Joel Stratton, a waiter in a temperance hotel, persuaded Mr. Gough to sign the pledge. The demon drink and the stratagems of saloon men caused him to fall twice, but he recovered each time, through the kindness of friends.

He began to speak for temperance in a humble way, but his great ability was soon recognized and he became a temperance lecturer, speaking to crowded houses all over the United States and Great Britain. His speaking combined the richest humor, the tenderest pathos, the most powerful eloquence, the most convincing argument.

His autobiography and his "Platform Echoes" are among the strongest temperance books ever written. After winning many thousands to a life of sobriety, he died, honored by all the world, in 1886.

No one can read Gough's life without a deepened pity for the drunkard, and a deepened sense of responsibility for speaking the kind words that may save him from his awful fate.—Exchange.

Letter to David Nelson,
McConnellsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: New Orleans is one of the cities hard on paint; but nevertheless, they paint lead and oil a good deal there.

A C. Callier painted two houses last year for F. Hinderer—one lead and oil and the other Devoe. The first is already in bad condition; Devoe is perfect.

M. Augustin, New Orleans, has painted his house Devoe three times in eighteen years. This shows that Devoe is good for six years there.

In Florida, where lead-and-oil wears only a year, we have no complaint of Devoe and we know of its wearing ten years in several instances. We don't say it wears ten years, you know; there are such instances.

"No complaint" is enough to say till we have long time experiences; they're coming. Meantime, Devoe is the paint that takes least gallons, makes least bill, and wears longest. So much we're sure of.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. 3.—Hull & Bender, McConnellsburg; J. A. Boyd, Mercersburg, and Norman O. Huber, Chambersburg, sell our paint.

Breathe Pure Air.

The comparison of the human body with the stove or furnace is an old one, but serves to indicate the differing types of food needed by the outdoor and indoor workers. A range with good drafts and clean chimney gets abundant oxygen, and thus reduces dense fuels to ashes without difficulty and provides ample heat or energy for household processes. But the same range, when the outside air is heavy or the drafts closed or the chimney clogged with soot, cannot even dispose of light fuel, and makes the atmosphere hazy with smoke and affords no heat or energy for its accustomed duties.

When outdoor air and active exercise enliven all vital processes, heavy foods are disposed of without discomfort and, more over, have the advantage of "staying by." The underdone potato—"with a bone in it"—has some times been the choice of half fed peasants because it was digested more slowly than if thoroughly cooked. Even dyspeptics sometimes indulge without discomfort in pie and similar substantial delicacies at a picnic on a hilltop.

But the worker indoors, with little active exercise, must choose his food more carefully. Not only the kind of food, but its condition, must be considered. Ease of digestion appears to depend fully more upon method of cooking and serving than upon the original composition of the food.—"The Household Interests," in The Ladies' World for August.

The Farmer and His Banker

Our bank never fails to give as good service to the farmer as it gives to any business man. As a matter of fact few banks could exist in this day and age of the world without the co-operation of the farmers. Often a farmer can make money by borrowing. Do not hesitate to call on us when you want money. We welcome a responsible borrower quite as heartily as a substantial depositor. It will pay every farmer to carry a checking account with us. Why not come in and talk it over with us to-day? Accounts may be opened by mail and monies deposited or withdrawn in this way with equal facility. We make a specialty of serving the farmer.

We Pay 3 Per Cent. Interest.
