Nevertheless, M you are ambitious to be of the patricians you must do as the patric mans do-provided your income exceeds the pattry $5,000-and it will be an exhibition of extremely bad form M you regard this sartorial declara-Rion of the man who knows in any other save the most serious light.

There is beginning to be comment on the growing respectability of trade In Germany. Time was when a man of title was believed to soil his hands by making money. The tradition can hardly be insisted on, however, when the kalser himself has a business in-Rerest in the manufacture of terra cot ga. From the old American stand point it is much more honorable to get money in trade or industry than to acquire it by marriage; but it may be a long time before European aristocracy of any description sees the mercenary enarriage problem in its true light.

THE CORONER HOLDS AN INQUEST

Referee Of Football Game At Wheeling Says Leftend Of Bethany College Team Struck West Virginia Captain On Back Of Head-Coach Declares Slugging Had Been Going On All Through the Battle-Munk Injured Last Year and Had Never Fully Recovered.

Wheeling, W. Va. (Special) .-Charging him with the wilful murder of Rudolph Munk, left halfback and captain of the West Virginia University football team, Coroner W W. Rogers issued a warrant for Thomas McCoy, alias Gardner, left end of the Bethany College team The warrant has been placed in the hands of Constable W. W. Wickham and McCoy will be arrested tomor row morning.

The warrant was issued because of the sworn statement made today to Coroner Rogers by Homer N. Young of Pittsburg, Pa., a former Michigan University player, who was the official referee of the game. His statement is as follows: "Rudolph Munk was running down the field in advance of the man with the ball, West Virginia having the ball about 30 yards from the Bethany goal. He was not close to the ball. On this play he was met by a mar. said to be Gardner, as his name was given to me by Townsend, the coach for the Bethany team. On this particular play this man Gardner ran towards Munk while both were running down the field. About the time they got 10 yards beyond the scrimmage line Gardner, to the best of my recollection, struck Munk on the back of his head with his (Gardner's) fist Munk fell and Gardner practically fell over him. Gardner got on his feet, for an instant gazed at Munk and started to walk off the field. For this foul I put him out of the game. He made no reply and no protest whatever. Munk was unconscious. Evidently to me the blow which felled Munk was intentional." McCov is the real name of the play er who is charged with striking Munk, but in this game he was playing under the name of Gardner. After he had been ordered from the field he passed the bleachers, where several hundred West Virginia rooters were standing. Cries of "Dirty player" and "Tough" came from the crowd and in reply McCoy said. Well, he was slugging me all through the game."

Dr. O. M. Staats rushed to the side of the player and hurriedly placing him in an automobile rushed him to the City Hospital. Half a score of physicians worked over him, but all to no avail. He died shortly af- mark. ter 8 o'clock without having regained. consciousness.

Captain Henley, of Bethany, when asked concerning the play, said: is the consensus of opinion among the Bethany and players that Munk hit McCoy and McCoy hit him back None of the Bethany players saw the play, nor do I think the officials did, as all were watching the man with Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreets says:

"Colder, more seasonable weather, stimulating for retail and jobbing reorder trade; a current distribution at many cities about equal to last year at this date; fairly good showing by the usual monthly exhibits of failures and clearings for October; a continuance of the declining tendency hitherto noted in farm produce, especially cereals and foodproducing animals at wholesale firmer money rates, with reports of an increased tendency on the part of Western farmers to hold crops, and the pushing of the killing frost line further to the Southward, thus terminating the growth of cotton in a wide area are among the leading features of the week. Current reports as to collections are that they are about fair.

'Relatively best reports as to retail trade came from the Central West and South, where the cold wave early in the week stimulated sales in seasonable goods. Trade at eastern cen ters has been belped somewhat, but reports as a whole do not testify to expected activity resulting. In the western country features are the effects on grain marketing and the continued decline to new low levels of wheat and other cereals.'
