CAUSES SICKNESS.

Good Health Impossible With a Disordered Stomach.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day; and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a box. Sold in Rochester only at our store.—The Rexall Store. Leslie W. Seylar.

Special Announcement.

The Sunday School of the Whips Cove church will render a very interesting Christmas program on Saturday evening, Dec. 24th, beginning at 7:30. Special invitations to attend this service will be given the following schools: McKendree, Pleasant Grove, Cedar Grove, Buck Valley, and Jerusalem. A synopsis of the program and a general invitation to all will appear in the columns of the NEWS later.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c. at Trout's drug store.

Miss Annie Watkins Dead.

Miss Annie Watkins died at the home of her brother-in-law, Rev. Rodgers, at the Lutheran parsonage in Union township, on Monday evening, aged about 36 years. The immediate cause of her death was tuberculosis of the lungs, although she had been confined to her bed less than three weeks. Her funeral took place yesterday and interment was made in the cemetery at the Buck Valley Lutheran church. She came to the Valley with the family of her brother-in-law about three years ago, from Tennessee, and she was an estimable lady.

Thirteen is not always an unlucky number, for on her thirteenth birthday, which occurred on the 7th of this month Rebecca Hockensmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hockensmith, of Andover, received ninety three post cards, each bearing some message of kindly greeting from some good friend. Rebecca thinks the NEWS just a good place in which to express her thanks and to say just how much she was pleased.

The Citizens bank, of Dry Run, opened its doors for business on Wednesday morning of last week.

COUNTY INSTITUTE.

feel the first of a lumber panic. He drew attention to the fact that we had supplies of coal and iron greater than any other nation but the end of both coal and iron is in sight. By the year 1937, all the iron will have been exhausted. He also drew attention to the fact that there was a time when Uncle Sam was rich enough to give us all a farm. Anybody could settle in the west and after living on it five years and proving up his claim, the land was his, but today Uncle Sam is no longer able to give us a farm. All the land in the United States has been taken up except that which must be drained or irrigated.

Have you ever pictured the conditions of us, when all the supplies of fuel have been exhausted. In Iceland nothing grows bigger than a birch, but a birch will grow wherever a boy will grow. Now in Iceland where the conditions are so hard, the human race does not obtain its usual height; but when those Icelanders are transported to Minnesota, they grow as large as any other boy and yet Iceland has attained a very high degree of culture that has gained the admiration of the world and it has solved some problems of Government that we are still struggling with.

"I recall my University days at Leipsic and Berlin when my stove was a big porcelain one in the corner of the room which was heated about eleven o'clock so that it would be warm on my return from the lectures. Many a time have I seen the servant girl, in the kitchen, with her knuckles blue with cold because she could not afford to have the stove heated during the cold winter evenings.

Now, what will be the condition of the American people when our supply of fuel is gone? What is it that will make Pittsburg wane a century from now? They say that the soft coal will begin to give out in about one hundred years, but the supply of soft coal may last longer, but at the rate we are using them, they will give out some time in the next century.

"Do you not see that the door of hope to the future opens through the school-room, and that it is our business to fit the boys for the problem of the future? If I should carry a bucket of water to the top of this building and pour it to the ground, I would liberate as much energy as it took force to carry it up there. The sun is drawing water up in the sky where it is condensed and deposited on the earth which feeds our streams. Some one has said that rain enough falls on the earth every year to form ten Mississippi rivers. In the past ten years, the possibilities of Missouri have been diminishing, but north of St. Louis, they are now building a dam which, when finished, will make St. Louis one of the great manufacturing centers of the United States. The electricity which will be generated at the dam will be sent to St. Louis and then formed into new centers of industry.

"If you ever get to Niagra Falls, visit the factory where shredded biscuit is made, the cleanest factory on the earth, and you will see how the Falls are helping to feed this great multitude. Some one has said that it would take all of the coal mined in the earth in one year to furnish enough power to draw back the water which falls over the Falls in one day, and that the cars to draw this coal would reach 2 1/2 times around the earth at the Equator. The time is coming that the farm will be most valuable that has a stream of water upon it, and I understand that there is a farm in Michigan that has a stream upon it that cooks the meals, heats the house, &c.

"Switzerland is the land of white coal. There was a time when it was dependent upon Germany for its supply of coal. It is now getting from its glaciers and snow capped mountains, the power which light their houses and drives the machinery of their factories. The day is not far distant when the electricity that is generated by those streams, will drive the trains instead of locomotives on the Swiss tracks.

"This should show to the average teacher the problem that is before us. I think it should receive attention in every High School and in every Geography class in the common school.

"Our coal fields are owned by two railroads, and a few corporations who always get what they want, especially in our State. Now, suppose the water powers pass into the hands of a few individuals or corporations, then they will control all of the industries and these will soon control our Government. Politically, we are still free.

"J. J. Hill brought out the fact that the soil of the farms are being exhausted from the East to the West. He showed that the farms are going down through wrong methods of farming. It takes nature ten thousand years to make a soil one foot in thickness and the farmer may run that soil in ten years so that it is unfit for agriculture. Today, we are the best fed, the best clothed and the best housed people on the face of the earth. Shall this continue? But this Washington Meeting opened its door of hope to the future and that door of hope is through the school."

Maxims for Teachers.

The following suggestions given to the pupils in Ipswich Seminary, where Mary Lyon was teacher sixty years ago, may be helpful to the teachers of today: Accustom yourselves to such entire control over your feelings that impudence from a pupil will not occasion a ruby cheek.

Adapt the length of your lessons to the capacity of your scholars.

Administer reproof kindly. Aim to make every lesson interesting.

Always form a definite plan before you commence school.

Avoid having favorites in school.

Avoid such remarks concerning your scholars as could not safely be repeated to them.

Be careful not to have children feel that they are to be paid for doing well.

Be willing to devote your whole time to your school, and to make the best use of it.

Do not forbid play as a punishment, but rather forbid study.

Congressman Focht Bankrupt.

Benjamin K. Focht, of Lewisburg, Congressman from this District, on Wednesday last filed in the Federal Court at Scranton, a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities approximate $275,000 and his assets are $175,000, consisting of real estate, bonds and stocks, the latter largely depreciated.

A hint to any loving wife who is in a quandary about determining what to present as a Christmas gift to her husband. Mrs. MacVeagh, wife of Secretary Wayne MacVeagh, is having a house built and furnished at a cost of a million dollars as a gift for her husband. Most husbands would accept such a gift with thanks even if it cost a little less than a million.

The Famous Rayo

Does Not Strain the Eyes

Don't use a small, concentrated light over one shoulder. It puts an unequal strain on your eyes. Use a diffused, soft, mellow light that cannot flicker, that equalizes the work of the eyes, such as the Rayo Lamp gives, and avoid eye strain.

The Rayo is designed to give the best light, and it does. It has a strong, durable shade-holder that is held firm and true. A new burner gives added strength. Made of solid brass and finished in nickel. Easy to keep polished. The Rayo is low priced, but no other lamp gives a better light at any price.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.

THANKSGIVING DAY

was established almost three hundred years ago by a small band of emigrants—our Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth—and it has become a national holiday when 90 millions of people offer thanksgiving for their prosperity.

And the man who establishes a savings account, even with a small amount, will soon have reason to offer thanksgiving for his good fortune—its rapid growth will surprise him.

A small amount will be accepted as courteously by this bank as the largest deposit that comes to us.

The Farmer and His Banker

Our bank never fails to give as good service to the farmer as it gives to any business man. As a matter of fact few banks could exist in this day and age of the world without the co-operation of the farmers. Often a farmer can make money by borrowing. Do not hesitate to call on us when you want money. We welcome a responsible borrower quite as heartily as a substantial depositor. It will pay every farmer to carry a checking account with us. Why not come in and talk it over with us to-day? Accounts may be opened by mail and monies deposited or withdrawn in this way with equal facility. We make a specialty of serving the farmer.
