

It Revolted Him.
William Loeb, Jr., at a dinner in New York, referred with a smile to the harsher penalties, even to imprisonment, that are now to be inflicted upon smugglers.
"They take it hard, very hard, these smugglers," said Mr. Loeb. "Revolted at the size of their fines, they make me think of George White, the chicken thief."
"What! George shouted reproachfully on hearing his sentence. 'What! ten dollars for stealing that chicken? Why, judge, I could 'a' bought a smarter hen for 50 cents!'"

"Beer" in Kansas.
A certain Kansas editor always puts the word "beer," when printed in his paper, in quotation marks.
"Why do you do that?" a subscriber asked him.
"It is for the same reason," he replied, "that we put quotation marks around the word 'ghost.' We don't believe there are any ghosts."—Kansas City Journal.

WILL OF GOD IN OUR LIVES

By REV. J. W. LOYING, Pastor of Tenth Ave. Baptist Church, Houston, Texas.

TEXT—For that, ye ought to say, "If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this or that."—James IV, 15.

The central thought of this chapter is that the root of all worldliness is pride, arrogance of heart towards God, and that the only remedy is to submit one's self to God, to humble one's self in the sight of God. The spirit of worldliness here takes the specific form of presumptuous confidence in the future, calculating on time to come without reference to the providence of God, as if the future were in our hands.

The writer tells us that we ought to say that if it be God's will we shall do so and so. He is pleading that God's will shall have the right of way even in our planning. One can not but recall the subject of one of Horace Bushnell's great sermons on "Every man's life a plan of God." It has not been my privilege to read that particular sermon, nor do I know just the text of it. There are several great sayings coming from three several men that will furnish our divisions for this morning's discourse.

1. Prince Albert, consort of the late Queen Victoria, used to say: "Find out the plan of God in your generation, and then behave lest you cross that plan or fail to find your own place in it." All true life has a divine plan. "It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps."

For a moment let your thoughts run back over your life. Many of us will go back to the quiet country place, far from the maddening crowd, it seemed at the time very uneventful and commonplace. Often you caught visions and grew a bit restless for a larger life. At length the time came when you started forth. Now it may not be that you have seriously longed to go back and bury yourself, as you used to say, in that retired sphere again. But have not the disappointments, disenchantments, revelations of life caused you to appreciate more highly the care-free exemptions of that earlier life?

Oh, thrice happy you were when you had others to decide for you, when it was yours just to obey them that had authority over you. Do you think it a mere accident, or even incident, that your lot was thus cast? Nay, was it not rather God's good providence, His great plan in your life? His own hand has guided you, His power kept you. He has been your shield and buckler, your defense on the right hand and on the left. Your reward and your all conquering leader.

Don't you believe that had you earlier recognized the good hand of your God upon you and submitted your life and all to Him your life had not only been more fruitful of good, but it is comparably happier, too? Let us catch up the words of Prince Albert and try to find out the plan of God in our generation. True there is no variableness in God. He is ever the same. And yet we know that the work of this generation is not just that of the Apostolic age; not just that of Luther's day. We are living in an age of unrest, of new adjustments and alignments. Men are straining to "adopt" things. More than one man even in this land of ours are trying to evolve a new religion.

Some of the features of these new religions call on us to find God's plan, for He, His plan, all miraculous power, all authority, all restraint is eliminated. So we need to ask for the old parts, and to raise the warning voice to try to lead others into the plain, which is yet the narrow, but living way, the only way. More and more is there a call to stand for God and to illustrate in individual lives what God does in, through and with the life surrendered to Him. In the face of the widespread feeling of unrest and uncertainty, let us exhibit that rest which Jesus gives and which we find in obedience to Him by taking His yoke and learning from Him.

2. Pastor Monod used to say, "Our work is but a segment in the great sphere of God's eternal work, and if we have eyes to see we may read in that portion of his work which belongs to our name and the date of the present year." This is another way of saying that the work of the Christian is to do God's work, and that each worker as an individual is known to God and has a particular place in God's plan. Doesn't this give great dignity and value to our work? It must partake of the priceless value, the high quality of God himself, for it is a part of his own work which he assigned to us as individuals to do.

3. Constantine when marking out the bounds of Constantinople, being told that the city would never fill out so vast an area, replied: "I am following him who is leading me." We may not here pause to discuss the Christianity of the great emperor, save only to say that he was astute and sagacious enough to adopt it as a plank in his political platform. But the point before us is submission to God's leading. Again and again does the call of the master bid us follow him. Only God-led lives tell most for humanity. Too often with us it is not a question of knowing, so much as one of doing, the Lord's will. With many of us the trouble is that we have not felt the cost of following Jesus enough to give us the highest appreciation of him.

Too Much to Forgive.
A woman may be a thorough Christian in most things, but she never really forgives the kindness of the man who brings her husband home about 3 a. m. with his feet sticking out of the window of a cab.

Yes, That's What We Want.
W. L. Sanders, a Denver machinist, has invented a contrivance that will feed a press. If he could invent a machine that would feed a family he'd win everlasting fame.—Denver Times.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

DRINK BILL OF BIG CITIES

Over $41,000,000 Paid for License Fees in United States—Wide Extent of Traffic.

A report recently issued from Washington shows an enormous drink bill for the great cities of the United States, where the liquor traffic maintains its firmest hold. Over forty-one million dollars is paid in the large cities of the United States for license fees. The extent to which the drinking men help to pay the expense of government in these cities is indicated by a census report covering the finances of the country for the year 1908 in the cities having a population of 30,000 or more. There were, at that time, 158 of such cities, but the complete figures were available for only 151 of these cities, and these figures showed that in those cities the licensed drinking places paid an aggregate of $41,350,188. This was an increase of almost $3,000,000 over the preceding year and of about $1,000,000 over the year 1905. The increase was due to the large fees exacted by most of the cities. While licenses decreased, the license fees were increased to more than cover the difference.

Of the drinking places sanctioned by law there are no fewer than 67,131, and this is a decrease within three years of about 4,000. The falling off was due largely to the fact that a number of cities went "dry." Of the 158 places, 24 had become "no license" cities when the canvass was made. The change was most marked in the Rocky Mountain region.

The states claiming the largest number of saloons to the population were Texas, Wisconsin and New York, while Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Nebraska claimed the smallest number in proportion to the people to be supplied. Galveston had one licensee, Milwaukee one to every 141 and Hoboken one to every 175. In Philadelphia, the freest of large cities, there was only one drinking place to every 758 persons. Lincoln, Neb., had one to every 2,038.

Liquor licenses and taxes formed more than 13 per cent. of the general revenue in the cities of Ohio and more than ten per cent. in the cities of California. New York city received $7,927,300. Chicago $7,252,687 and Philadelphia 1,969,590 from this source. The only other cities deriving more than $1,000,000 from liquor licenses were St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, San Francisco and Cincinnati.

BAN ON ALCOHOL IN TURKEY

Importation of Wines and Beers Containing More Than Certain Amount is Barred.

The Turkish government has prohibited the importation of wines and beers containing more than a certain proportion of alcohol, and the importation, manufacture and consumption of all beverages containing alcohol not made from grape or grape products. Only at two or three special ports on the Mediterranean is the importation of alcohol for scientific purposes permitted and special plans for the operation of de-naturing it are there located and are under strict official regulation.

The total abstinence from alcoholic drink enjoined upon Mohammedans is rocked in the principles of religion. Mahomet is said to have been led to put the prohibition of intoxicants in the Koran by an incident which occurred to himself. Passing through a village one day, he was delighted at the merriment of a crowd of persons enjoying themselves with drinking at a wedding party; but being obliged to return by the same way the next morning, he was shocked to see the ground drenched with blood. Asking the cause, he was told that the company, having drunk to excess, fell to quarrelling, and slaughtered one another. From that time his mind was made up; the mandate went forth from Allah that no child of the faithful should touch wine on pain of being shut out from the joys of Paradise. The simple truth was, of course, that Mahomet foresaw there would be no stability to the religion and empire he was building up if the use of ardent spirits was permitted to his followers.

Temperance Teaching.

As a result of communicating with several education authorities, the British Women's Temperance association find, from over a hundred replies, that temperance is more or less taught in the elementary schools of England and Wales. In about 50 cases the temperance syllabus of the board of education has either been adopted or recommended, and in about 30 others temperance is being taught in connection with hygiene. Seven of the big centers have sent replies—London, Leeds, Birmingham, Bristol, Liverpool, Manchester and Newcastle. It is not, however, considered that the answers are typical of the country as a whole. More than 200 local authorities have not replied. It is not improbable that the association will approach teachers on the subject.

Kaiser as Temperance Advocate.

A short time ago much interest was roused by the report of the Kaiser's lecture to German students on the evils of beer drinking. It was also affirmed that his imperial majesty was practically an abstainer. However this may be, it is now asserted in special reports to the English press from Germany that it is the Kaiser's personal wish that the troops taking part in the extensive maneuvers shall be "as abstemious as possible in the direction of intoxicating liquors." It is also affirmed that his majesty sets a perfect example himself by drinking only non-alcoholic beverages during the period—usually mineral waters.

Remember the name—Doan's."

McLean Met His Match.

John R. McLean stepped in front of a lurching Irishman one evening and obstructed the sidewalk so that the Irishman was obliged to stop and look at him. McLean said: "Here's that half dollar I borrowed of you. Now you must quit telling the neighbors that I never pay my debts."

Half drunk, and wholly dazed, the Irishman took the silver piece, looked at it intently, and then said: "Be dad, yez can't get off that easy. It wor a whole dollar that yez borry; so fork over."

And he forked over another half dollar, and went his way, laughing heartily at the quick wit of the Irishman.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Not to the Wise.

Howell—A word to the wise is sufficient.

Powell—Then how do you account for the long-drawn-out speeches over the telephone?

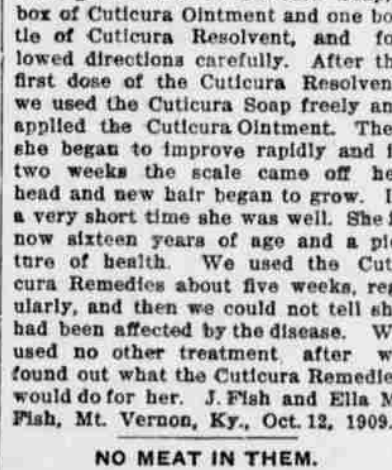

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take.

Curiosity is all the appetite needed for a mysterious dish.

BABY'S SCALP CRUSTED

"Our little daughter, when three months old, began to break out on the head and we had the best doctors to treat her, but they did not do her any good. They said she had eczema. Her scalp was a solid scale all over. The burning and itching was so severe that she could not rest, day or night. We had about given up all hopes when we read of the Cuticura Remedies. We at once got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and followed directions carefully. After the first dose of the Cuticura Resolvent, we used the Cuticura Soap freely and applied the Cuticura Ointment. Then she began to improve rapidly and in two weeks the scale came off her head and her hair began to grow. In a very short time she was well. She is now sixteen years of age and a picture of health. We used the Cuticura Remedies about five weeks, regularly, and then we could not tell she had been affected by the disease. We used no other treatment after we found out what the Cuticura Remedies would do for her. J. Fish and Ella M. Fish, Mt. Vernon, Ky., Oct. 12, 1909."

NO MEAT IN THEM.

Dr. Emdee—You should eat meat very sparingly.

Mr. Joak—I avoid it altogether. I eat nothing but luncheon ham sandwiches.

NEWSPAPERS TAKING IT UP

Metropolitan Dailies Giving Advice How to Check Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble.

This is a simple home recipe now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of Rheumatism and dread kidney trouble which have made so many cripples, invalids and weaklings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists everywhere, even in the smallest communities, have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce, and Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments in hospital cases prove this simple mixture effective in Rheumatism. Because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, it compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a gentle, thorough regulator to the entire kidney structure.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making this up, or have your druggist do it for you.

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says:

Favorable central features in this week's trade reports comprehend better distribution at retail, due to cool weather; somewhat larger filling-in orders for which the advance of the season and light buying by retailers earlier in the year are responsible; the realization of cheaper meat supplies, at least as regards wholesale prices; firmer feeling in pig iron and increased business in holiday goods. Groceries, reasonable lines of hardware and winter wearing apparel show most activity. However, there is considerable room for improvement in retail distribution, which is still affected by the prevalence of open weather in parts of the country and which has been slow in expanding, owing probably to the high level of prices that has prevailed for sometime past. There is more doing on spring account, but business in this respect is still marked by conservatism, and buyers in many lines seem disposed to hold off because prices are not to their liking. On the other hand, first hands display no particular anxiety to book heavily ahead because of the high level of raw materials; the difference between which and the selling prices of the manufactured article leave little room for profit.

Collections range from fair to good.

Couldn't Be Thankful.
Bishop Charles W. Smith at a harvest dinner in Portland said of the harvest spirit:
"The harvest spirit is one of thankfulness, but there are some crabbled old farmers who couldn't be thankful if they tried."
"I said to such an old fellow as he conducted me over his farm on a golden autumn afternoon and showed me a record harvest:
"Well, sir, this year, at least, you've got nothing, nothing whatever to complain of."
"I don't know about that, bishop," he answered, "with a shake of the head. 'I'm afraid there'll be no spoilt hay for the young calves.'"

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—It pays better. But there's nothing in the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.
