SCARCITY OF LEATHER.

A Condition for Which the Automobile Industry is Largely Responsible.

When the scarcity of hides and skins is referred to it is hardly understood by the layman, who perhaps does not know that the world is being scoured in all corners for all available skins and hides.

The amount of leather used in the manufacture of novelties of all kinds has increased to a great extent within a few years, says the Shoe Retailer, but in no line has the use of leather broadened so extensively as in automobile manufacture.

Any one who is at all familiar with an automobile knows that there is a considerable amount of leather used in its construction, in upholstery and otherwise. This means a large draught on the leather market, which is perhaps more noticeable in the high price of spready steers, the hides of which are extensively used for that purpose.

Phosphorescent Forests.

The phosphorescence of certain agaries of Borneo has more than once demoralized the superstitious natives and astonished whites. Some years ago a party of English engineers found it necessary to survey a tract of low lying country, which was almost impenetrable, and to blaze the trail natives were employed to work at night, others during the day.

The former came into camp one night stating that they could not go through a portion of the bush or forest, strange "spirits" on the trees telling them that evil would befall them if they continued. The "spirits" proved to be a magnificent display of phosphorescence emanating from agaries growing upon the dead limbs of the trees.

Mary Harriman as a Country Girl. Mary Harriman has as keen an instinct for guarding the cents as her father demonstrated in his business career. As the manager of the 30,000-acre farm in Arden, N. Y., she works with an eye for profit. The responsibility of the farm is not new to her.

Capital Punishment. Capital punishment prevails in all the States and Territories of the Union except Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Kansas and Maine. It was abolished in Iowa in 1872, and restored in 1878. It was also abolished in Colorado, but was restored in 1901. In New York and Ohio execution is by electricity.

One Thing Yet to Learn. We have learned how to telegraph without wires and fly without gas bags, but the antidote for a common ordinary cold still mocks the foiled searchings of the human race.—St. Louis Republic.

Can't Eliminate Him. This country has given up shirt-sleeve diplomacy and quit electing presidents who were born in log cabins, but the man who picks his teeth in public continues to be visible.

NO TIPS IN FINLAND.

Maid's Surprise on Receiving Money from 'Mistress' Guests.

A country where there are no tips and where small services are rendered to the stranger without hope of reward would seem hard to find—yet such a country is Finland.

So far the tourist has not appeared in any great numbers, and consequently the commercial spirit which his advent always marks has been absent. As an example of this, Mme. Aino Malmberg, a Finnish lady, who is paying a visit to this country, tells an amusing story.

Osawatomie and Pottawatomie. The spelling of the two words Osawatomie and Pottawatomie causes considerable confusion to this day; but that is the way maps have them now, and that of course makes them "official."

Osawatomie, famed in Kansas history, is located between the Osage River and the Pottawatomie. It is named from these streams. In the early days two "s's" were frequently used in its spelling, but the propriety of their use was shown and pointed out by the school teachers by simply explaining the word's derivation.

The name of Pottawatomie, though, had about ten different spellings, according to an old settler of that community. "The tribe of Indians," he said, "left the State and did not leave us the correct spelling of the word. So we people along the creek finally got together and decided to spell the word the shortest way possible—Pot-a-wat-omie. Now they are using two 't's' on the maps, and I guess that is the way to spell it—now. We spelled it the shortest way, and I have often thought that we were the original simplified spellers."—Kansas City Journal.

Sermons in Ancient Times. St. Augustine's sermons lasted about 18 minutes, but in that ancient day it was no uncommon thing to have several at the same service.

A Personal Matter. Clarence was usually so restless and fidgety in church that his mother was obliged to reprove him from time to time. One Sunday he was so quiet and well-behaved that his mother noticed it, and spoke approvingly.

Happy Eskimos. Eskimos are all children, contented, peaceable, honest and hospitable, without rulers and without ambition for fame or power. They live almost entirely on raw animal food, and this explains the absence of a number of diseases which are common to civilization. Salt water contains iodine, and all sea animals, as well as all who eat them uncooked, absorb more or less of this fickle substance.

Capital Punishment. Capital punishment prevails in all the States and Territories of the Union except Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Kansas and Maine. It was abolished in Iowa in 1872, and restored in 1878. It was also abolished in Colorado, but was restored in 1901. In New York and Ohio execution is by electricity.

An Eye for Business.

A suburban citizen who was talking with a group of friends remarked:

"Our undertaker but at Lonesomehurst is very anxious that another should come to the town."

"You don't mean that he actually desires a competitor?" was asked in surprise.

"Oh, no," was the explanation. "But he knows he can't last much longer, and he wants to get professional rates."—Harper's Weekly.
