Solves A Deep Mystery.

'I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheun atism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as her. For several years she practicalthough made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jauntice and to rid the system of kidney was proud of his daughter's talent for poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equil. Try them. Every bottle is guar anteed to satisfy. Only 50c at Trout's drug store.

During the year 1910 the Fulton House entertained 736 automobile parties, and in 1909, four hundred forty nine. When it is considered that there are two other good hotels in town, some idea may be formed of the automobile travel through McCon nellsburg. Of course, this does not include the many cars that passed through, probably calling at the house for refreshments. Those having the power to establish a State road across the Keystone state, need look for no better argument for the route through the southern portion of the State.

SCARCITY OF LEATHER.

A Condition for Which the Automobile Industry is Largely Responsible. When the scarcity of hides and skins is referred to it is hardly understood by the layman, who perhaps does not know that the world is being scoured in all corners for all available skins and hides. More races are constantly becoming civilized and the increase of our hide and skin supply is not in proportion to that of the

The amount of leather used in the manufacture of novelties of all kinds has increased to a great extent within a few years, says the Shoe Retailer, but in no line has the use of leather broadened so extensively as in automobile manufacture.

Any one who is at all familiar with an automobile knows that there is a considerable amount of leather used in its construction, in upholstery and otherwise. This means a large draught on the leather market, which is perhaps more noticeable in the high price of spready steers, the hides of which are extensively used for that agaries of Borneo has more than once demoralized the superstitious natives and astonished whites. Some years ago a party of English engineers found it necessary to survey a tract of low lying country, which was almost impenetrable, and to blaze the trail natives were employed to work at night, others during the day. The 176 former came into camp one night stating that they could not go through a portion of the bush or forest, strange "spirits" on the trees telling them that evil would befall them if they continued. The "spirits" proved to be a magnificent display of phosphorescence emanating from agaries growing upon the dead limbs of the trees. These vegetable fire bodies were traced for a considerable distance, producing a most remarkable exhibition, the light in some places being so brilliant that it was difficult to believe that the forest was not afire. To test the brilliancy the men held papers near the most brilliant portions and read by the light.

> Mary Harriman as a Country Girl. Mary Harriman has as keen an instinct for guarding the cents as her father demonstrated in his business career. As the manager of the 30,-600-acre farm in Arden, N. Y., she works with an eye to profit. The responsibility of the farm is not new to ly held control, her father seldom interfering, and then doing little more than offering a suggestion. Harriman management. They were a familiar sight driving together over the farm, Harriman, as a rule, holding the reins over one of his fast trotters. Miss Harriman cares more for her farm than for society. She is a keen judge of a horse, and seldom gets the worst of a trade.

To Breaking One Neck, $2. The "line-up" man was a facetious soul. The woman for whom he was putting up a pulley clothes-line was exacting. She ordered it put in a certain place, which it was almost impossible for him to reach. He hesitat-"If I have to put it there, lady," he said, "I'll break my neck." Still she did not relent. "All right, lady," he consented, with a cheerful grin, "but it'll cost yer $2 extry if I break my neck."

The Test. But of the three sorts, namely, those who acquire greatness, and those who have greatness thrust upon them, only the first are anywise certain to know what the different forks are for at the fashionable dinners inevitably given in their honor from time to time.-Puck

Mr. George Hershey, of Lickaccident a few days ago that might have proven very serious. He was in the woods cutting timber. A tree in falling caused a limb to fly back and strike Mr. Hershey on the head, almost crushing his skull. He received prompt surgical attention and is now getting along well.

NO TIPS IN FINLAND.

Maid's Surprise on Receiving Money from Mistress' Guests.

A country where there are no tips and where small services are rendered to the stranger without hope of reward would seem hard to find-yet such a country is Finland.

So far the tourist has not appeared in any great numbers, and consequently the commercial spirit which his advent always marks has been absent. As an example of this, Mme. Aino Malmberg, a Finnish lady, who is paying a visit to this country, tells an amusing story. Two English friends whom she had met while over here had been staying with her at her house in Helsingfors, and on leaving gave the maid a tip.

She was very much astonished and did not know what it meant. Seeing Mme. Malmberg's son coming downstairs, she ran to him and said, "They gave me money. Did they give you any?" Hearing that they had not done so, she was much mystified. "I cannot understand why they should give it to me and not to you, when they know you much better than me," was her perplexed comment on the Osawatomie and Pottawatomie.

The spelling of the two words Osawatomie and Pottawatomie causes considerable confusion to this day; but that is the way maps have them now, and that of course makes them "official."

Osawatomie, famed in Kansas history, is located between the Osage River and the Pottawatomie. It is named from these streams. In the early days two "s's" were frequently used in its spelling, but the impropriety of their use was shown and pointed out by the school teachers by simply explaining the word's derivation.

The name of Pottawatomie, though, had about ten different spellings, according to an old settler of that com-"The tribe of Indians," he said, "left the State and did not leave us the correct spelling of the word. So we people along the creek finally got together and decided to spell the word the shortest way possible-Pot-a-wato-mie. Now they are using two 't's' on the maps, and I guess that is the way to spell it-now. We spelled it the shortest way, and I have often thought that we were the original simplified spellers."-Kansas City Journal.

Sermons In Ancient Times.

Augustine's sermons lasted about 18 minutes, but in that ancient day it was no uncommon thing to have several at the same service. When two or more bishops were present it was usual for them and the presbyters to preach one after the other, reserving the last place for the highest dignatary. Some consolation, however, was to be found in the fact that applause was permitted and many of St. Chrysostom's sermons were hailed with the "tossing of garments and waving of handkerchiefs."

A Personal Matter.

Clarence was usually so restless and fidgety in church that his mother was obliged to reprove him from time to time. One Sunday he was so quiet and well-behaved that his mother noticed it, and spoke approvingly, "What a good little boy Clarence was in church to-day," she said. Mamma was so proud of him.

"Well," said Clarence, "I had to be, The choir looked right at me, and sang over and over again. 'Please be still, please be still!" "-Youth's Com-

Happy Eskimos.

Eskimos are all children, contented, peaceable, honest and hospitable, without rulers and without ambition for fame or power. They live almost entirely on raw animal food, and this explains the absence of a number of diseases which are common to civilization. Sait water contains todine, and all sea animals, as well as all who eat them uncooked, absorb more or less of this fickle substance.

Capital Punishment.

Capital punishment prevails in all the States and Territories of the Union except Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Kansas and Maine, It was abolished in Iowa in 1872, and restored in 1878. It was also abolished in Colorado, but was restored in 1901. In New York and Ohio execution is by electricity.
