Ballon Finally Escapes Gallows.

The State Board of Pardons announced that it had recommended for commutation to life imprisonment the sentence of John Ballon, condemned to be hanged at Norris-town April 25. Ballon's case is one of the most remarkable ever before the board, as the date for his execution has been fixed no less than six times and respites granted to allow proceedings. Ballon was convicted of murder near Norris-town with two other men, who were executed last year. It was claimed that Ballon's guilt had never been clearly proven and since December, 1909, efforts have been made to save him. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court and has been before the Board of Pardons since November.

BASEBALL IN JAPAN

Trip of University of Chicago Team Described.

Mainichi Denpo Predicts Pastime Will Become National Game in Mikado's Kingdom and Promote Better Feeling.

Chicago.—"Honorable baseball, of all games in the world the most refined, the most highly organized and the most active," is to become the national game of Japan.

Daily newspapers of the island empire, commenting with enthusiasm on the recent visit of the University of Chicago baseball team, declare this, and then go so far as to predict that the Mikado and Uncle Sam, hands clasped as fellow-fans, will never, never utter a harsh word except, perhaps, at the umpire.

The Mainichi Denpo, according to a translation sent to President Harry Pratt Judson, of the University of Chicago, by Montgomery Schuyler, charge d'affaires at Tokyo, and published in the current University of Chicago Magazine, had the following to say on the subject:

"The American people's own estimate of baseball may not be quite unreasonable if we take into consideration the fact that all foreign games adopted by our students baseball is the most popular and attracts the largest number of spectators, and that several international matches have been held. If baseball makes progress at this rate in this country, and if we do not have any new international game, then baseball will become the national game, as it is in America.

"Without reference to warship teams or professional teams, the contract of American and Japanese teams will, besides promoting the game itself, contribute much to a better understanding between the two nations.

"The University of Chicago team now visiting this country consists of students of good moral standing and excellent scholarship. They are real American gentlemen whose amiability is an object lesson to our students. We have been told that in the principal American colleges students of inferior scholarship can not join baseball team no matter how good players they may be. Following this example, our schools have adopted a rule where by those can not become members of the representative school teams. It will thus be seen that the evils that the enlightened public feared might attend the game of baseball have been prevented.

"If baseball matches can be held by Japanese and American students who cross the ocean, and if thus the students of the two countries cultivate friendship, then international baseball matches between Japanese and American students can no longer be regarded as sport pure and simple.

"We hope that baseball in this country will make sound progress among our students and that we may be able to have more international matches. It is natural to expect in this connection that the graduates of various schools will make it easier to have international matches. America will feel proud if one of her national games becomes an international game, in which

FOUR-TOED HORSE DISCOVERED

Philadelphia Scientist Makes What is Believed to be Important Discovery in Wyoming.

Philadelphia.—Joy over the finding of the skeleton of a four-toed horse believed to represent the very earliest American stage in the evolution of the equine race, pervaded the American Museum of Natural History.

The discovery is the last word in the important researches in which the institution has led the scientific world, and the descent of the horse is now traced down to the hypothetical five-toed animal, from which it is believed that it sprang. If it should be found that there is a rudimentary bone or splint in the feet of the skeleton which has been unearthed, the find will be of still greater importance.

The museum authorities received a letter from their expedition in charge of Walter Granger, telling of the finding of the fossil steed in Watach,

PAINT FALSE RIBS ON HORSE

Steed Used to Play Role of Rosinante Takes on Altogether Too Much Adipose Tissue.

Paris.—The managers of the Gayety theater have found themselves in a dilemma by the persistence with which a horse continues to put on flesh. The horse at one time was a candidate for the ax, but fate was kind. The managers of the Gayety were about to stage Massenet's new opera "Don Quixote" and they cast about for a horse that could play the role of Rosinante, the hero's charger.

Paris was ransacked for a looking man and miserable animal enough, and finally they found a worn out and decrepit steed. He duly made his first appearance in the part and was a great success. But the actresses of the Gayety, letting their pity get the better of their discretion, offered the horse food, which he greedily devoured in such quantities and to such good

Encourage the Boys.

When a boy presents an idea that is feasible, pat him on the back and encourage him, and he will develop a love for agriculture and become the pride of your heart in your declining years and will love the homes and the farms that you have worked so hard to pay for.

If farming has not paid in your case by all means give the boy a chance to begin without your handicap. "What was good enough for me is good enough for the boy," is a maxim unworthy of a New England farmer. Give the boy a chance at an agricultural education, and he will help you to stop the leaks and turn the past and present into a brighter future.
