Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by all dealers.

Profit in Sweet Peas.

How a high school boy developed into an enterprising business man, specializing in the cultivation of sweet peas is entertainingly told in the April number of Popular Mechanics Magazine. Placed in charge of the home garden, he planted a small patch of sweet peas for table flowers. They grew so luxuriantly that thousands were given to neighbors or thrown away. A neighbor suggested that he sell those he didn't use. A florist agreed to take all he would bring, giving him instructions about preparing them for sale. That year he received nearly $100 for his flowers. Last year he cleared $800, meantime studying up on sweet pea culture.

He had been planting ordinary home grown seed, but this year he bought seed in California, planted early and late varieties, picked his flowers with more care arranged them according to colors, made his bunches neat and uniform and at the height of the season sold as many as 25,000 blossoms a day. They were tied in bunches of 28.

At the season's end the plants were allowed to go to seed, and this seed he sells to dealers for home pea patches. Now the young florist is building a greenhouse to grow sweet peas in winter and further increase his income. Next year he will have about two acres in sweet peas and expects to clear $5,000.

She now has bonnets, aprons, handkerchiefs, &c., enough to last her a long time. The surprise was sprung on her by her niece, Ada Gracey, of Taylor township.

A. Nelson and J. H. Kendall. On this policy, Mr. Nelson had paid into the Company less than $800, making a clear gain to his estate of over $1200. How to Prevent Injury by Spraying Solution.

An extensive York county fruit grower recently wrote to State Zoologist, H. A. Surface, asking how to avoid, and how to treat injury to the hands by coming in contact with strong spraying solution. This is a very timely topic, and some persons will find it quite applicable to their own need. The answer of Professor Surface was as follows:

"Replying to your letter concerning the injury to the hands of your men who use the lime-sulfur. I can say that this can be avoided if you will direct the men to get cheap gloves of any kind, and drop them right into melted tallow or paraffin. I myself use cheap leather gloves, although I have been told by those who have used them, that cloth gloves treated in this way are likewise made impervious to the liquid.

The hands should be rubbed with vaseline, as should also the neck and face, or exposed parts of the body, before the men start to spray. They should also protect themselves by goggles, such as can be had for ten cents at almost any notion store.

If the apparatus is in the proper working order, and proper precautions are taken, they can spray without getting the liquid on their hands. I have sprayed all day, using a strong liquid, without injury to my hands. To do this I wish to be sure, first, that I have a good hose, a good washed stop cock, and a good extension rod, and, next, that there is a disk of thick leather, like sole leather, about as large as a man's hand, around this rod toward the top, to turn away any spray liquid that may run down from the nozzles. This is to serve as a drip disk, and I like it better than the tin drip disk soldered firmly in place around below the nozzle, as it being pliable permits the operator to use the rod among the brush without catching and tearing.

While the lime-sulfur solution is injurious to one's hands if they are constantly soaked will not give trouble if the operator will take but reasonable precautions. It is a strong material, and must necessarily be strong in order to do its work of killing the scale. Where one has been injured by the material burning his skin, it is best to apply some healing ointment or vaseline, and bandage the part, so as to prevent further wearing upon the place where the skin has been made thin by the liquid.

You can spray any trees until the blossoms are opening, but you can not spray after the blossoms have expanded, without danger of destroying your fruit crop."

Saved Child From Death.

"After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson, of Richardson's Mills, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had a bad cough all the time. We tried many remedies without avail, and doctor's medicine seemed useless. Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." For coughs, colds, hoarseness, lagrippe, asthma, croup and sore lungs, its the most infallible remedy that's made. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Trout's drug store.
