DEATH'S HARVEST.

(Continued from first page.) Lutheran Church for many years and was very useful in the work of that congregation. Although she had been unable to move about for over a year and gradually became so weakened that she could not feed herself, she maintained her wonted cheerfulness and hoped to regain health and strength up to within a few weeks of her decease.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held at the house at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, her pastor officiating. The interment was in Union Cemetery. Besides her mother, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Adam Lauer, Fort Loudon, and by the following brothers, George F., Dayton, and James R., Franklin county, and Samuel, Rowe, William, and Jacob in this county.

ELIZABETH PRICE BLAKE

Elizabeth Price Blake, wife of Samuel Blake, died June 10, 1911, at her home near Orbisonia.

Mrs. Blake was in delicate health for a number of years, and was a long and patient sufferer, always leaning on the arm of Jesus, ready and willing to submit to the Lord's will.

Mrs. Blake was a daughter of Joseph Price and was born in Hill Valley, Huntingdon county, December 5, 1836 where she resided with her parents until 1884. At that time her parents moved to Laidig, this county, where her father still resides. Besides her husband, she is survived by the following children: Mrs. E. C. Bernhardt, Wilkensburg, Pa.; and Aida, Bruce, Joseph and Estella at home; also, the following brothers and sister: Bruce Price, Indianapolis, Ind.; Alton Price, Laidig, Pa.; Forest Price, Great Falls, Mont.; Mrs. Howard Metzler, Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. Mattie Heefner, Allensville, Pa.

She was a true and faithful wife and loving mother, and we are sure she has gone to that heavenly home where there is no more sorrow or pain—where she will have happiness throughout eternity. "A."

MRS. KUHN.

Mrs. Rose S. Kuhn widow of the late Capt. N. W. Kuhn of this place, died at her home in Harrisburg last week. The remains were brought to Mercersburg on Saturday forenoon and interment made in Fairview cemetery.

Rev. Allen of the M. E. church conducted the services.—Mrs. Kuhn resided in Mercersburg until a few years ago when she moved to Harrisburg. She is survived by three children, two sons and one daughter: Oscar is employed in a printing office in Philadelphia, Wilbur and Vera who will make their home now with their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Yeakle in Harrisburg.—Mercersburg Journal.

DAVID HAUMAN.

At the age of almost ninety years, David Hauman, died at the home of his grandson, Roy M. Sipes, in Licking Creek township Sunday, June 11, 1911, of a complication of diseases incident to advanced age. The funeral took place on Monday, the services being conducted by Rev. T. P. Garland, of Needmore.

For a long number of years, Mr. Hauman had been a consistent member of the Christian church, and was a good citizen. He is survived by two daughters, Florence, wife of Adam Wible and Lou wife of George Strait.

MRS. BREWER.

Georgianna, wife of Mr. Clarence Brewer, near Covalt post office in Thompson township, died at her home Sunday morning, June 11, 1911, of tuberculosis, aged 28 years, 11 months and 11 days. The funeral services of which were conducted by Rev. J. S. Webster, of the Presbyterian church Hancock, Md., was held on Monday, and interment was made in the cemetery at the Tonoaway Baptist Church.

Mrs. Brewer was a daughter of Henry and Ellen Sensel, of Hancock, and she was a devout member of the Episcopal church. Realizing the utter hopelessness of recovery from the dreadful malady with which she was afflicted, she bore her suffering with true Christian fortitude, and selected for use at her funeral the following hymns: "Asleep in Jesus," "Death is Only a Dream," and "Going Down the Valley." At the Tonoaway Church, the Joseph Edwards spent a few days last week in Morrisons Cove. Jesse Laidig has bought an "E. M. F. 30" automobile. Charlie Rotz, chauffeur for Allen Cutsball of Three Springs drove the auto from Three Springs to Jesse's home.

Wilson McDaniel is having a lot of lumber hauled from his mill in Licking Creek township to the Wells Valley railroad.

Mrs. J. E. Lyon and daughters Ruth and Clara, and Lesie Ritchey called Sunday afternoon to see Daisy Hoover who has not been in good health for some time.

Last Thursday was a pleasant day especially in the forenoon, one such as Lowell spoke of when he said: "Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune, And over it softly her warm ear lays." On that day a number of persons carrying small bundles might have been seen entering the home of John W. Laidig, and the members of the family had donned holiday attire instead of the every day working clothes. And why? Well, because Mrs. Laidig for the first time in her life could look back upon a half century of a busy and useful life, and the member's of her family had invited a number of relatives and friends to help celebrate the day. As it was a genuine surprise there was an absence of chicken, cakes, and pies for dinner, but plenty of other nourishing and digestible food. Mrs. Laidig received a number of presents both useful and ornamental, also a lot of post cards. During the day, besides the members of the family, there were present the following persons:

Mrs. James Foreman and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Hiram Laidig and daughters Susie, Ruth, and Flossie; Mrs. Daniel Laidig; Mrs. Margaret Stevens, Grace Berkstresser, Mrs. Radisill Lamberson, Mrs. James E. Lyon and daughter Clara, Mrs. David Hershey and little daughter, Mrs. Hiram Clevenger, Mrs. Ellen French, Mrs. William Heefner, Mrs. Elliott Kirk, Mrs. Martin Laidig, Dr. McClain and wife, Mrs. A. J. Laidig and little son, Miss Bertha Wagner, James A. Stewart and wife, and Mrs. Eliza Hoover. Toward evening all present left for their respective homes wishing Mrs. Laidig many more pleasant birthdays.

BURNT CABINS.

Mrs. Harry McGowan had an operation performed in the Chambersburg hospital for a tumor. She is getting along nicely. Childrens day services were well attended. A very creditable program was rendered. R. W. Wagner has returned from Virginia, and located in our town. He says the saw-mill business is dull. Oats looks fine; wheat has some fly in it; and corn is growing nicely since the rains came. Quite a number of our people attended the show in Chambersburg Monday. We think E. M. Gelvin deserves the title of "Dr." He operated on two bad cases of stock last week, and both are doing well. The festival which was to have been held here last Saturday evening had to be postponed on account of the rain. John Brown found two of his young cattle dead in the woods. Grandma Comerer was out in the country visiting her daughter Mrs. W. J. Cline last week. John North was visiting in the northern part of the county last Sabbath.

members of the choir of the Hancock Episcopal Church, rendered very impressively the hymns, "O Lamb of God," "Weary of Earth," and "Nearer My God to Thee." The large number of sorrowing friends that attended her funeral bore evidence of the high esteem in which Mrs. Brewer was held. Besides her husband and parents, she is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Harry Souders, Plum Run; Elmer, Timber Ridge, Md.; and Charles, Maudaline, Bertha, Mary, and Rebecca at home.

Glad He's Livin'.

Ogden, Iowa.—In looking over the "NEWS" I was glad to see there was one person in Brush Creek that was still alive. I had began to think they were all dead, or had moved away. Well, the crops are doing well here in Iowa. Corn is looking fine. Most people are ploughing their corn the third time; and some, the fourth. The average farmer here has from 60 to 100 acres of corn. I am on a farm of 200 acres we have 45 acres of oats and 95 of corn. We have our corn worked three times—all but 20 acres and some of it is too big to plough again.

Well, maybe some people think there is no hills out here—that it is all level—but they are mistaken. There are hills here, almost as big as any in old Fulton; but they are not plenty. The land is mostly very near level. The country here is pretty thickly settled. We have four neighbors within a half mile, and several within a mile. Well, I would like to see some thing about Brush Creek every week. There will always be one that will be glad to read it. I forgot to say that work is plenty here and wages from $25 to $35 dollars a month and your horse kept—if you have one. C. O. BARTON.

END.

H. H. Bridenstine and daughter Alice, of Everett, spent a few days in this Valley last week. Ethel McIntyre is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Schenck. Arthur Foster and wife, of Altoona, visited his brother and sister last week. Miss Rebecca Edwards returned to Juniata on Wednesday. Horton was critically ill at his home in Shippensburg. A. S. Edwards and wife visited relatives recently at Coalmont, Broad Top City, and Robertsdale. John and Charles Schenck will move their saw mill next week near Six Mile Run where they have about a year's sawing. Elmer Anderson and wife of Kearney spent Sunday with the latter's parents. Marian and Laura Edwards spent Friday in Hopewell. Cherry and strawberry picking seems to be the order of work just at present. George Chamberlain spent Sunday with his parents at Six Mile Run.

Mad Dog Scare.

Wells Valley people were made to take to the tall timber last week on account of a report getting out that a mad dog was running at large. The dog belonged to W. R. Foster, and he fears that some of his stock may have been bitten. Last Friday Charlie Deshong got his eye on the dog near the Brethren church and sent the hydrophobic canine to dog-heaven via the shotgun route. Harry A. and R. Holmes Thompson, of Tyrone, reached here Sunday evening, in answer to a telegram announcing the critical condition of their mother, notice of whose subsequent death appears elsewhere.

Surprise Party.

Tuesday morning morning of last week as Mrs. Jacob Sharpe was ironing she was surprised to see a number of buggies and carriages approaching her home, when it suddenly dawned upon her that it was her birthday. She, at once, extended a cordial welcome to her friends and neighbors who had assembled to congratulate her on her birthday. She received many beautiful birthday cards and presents. Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Jacob Sharpe, wife and daughter Verda; Easton Stinson and wife; George Mock and wife; Bert Henry, wife and daughter Mary; Samuel Wilson and wife; William Kelso and children Nina and Ralph; Mrs. Clarence Gobin and children Charles, Katherine and Ivan; Mrs. Elmer Glunt and sons Pierce and Harry; Mrs. Frank Wible and sons Bruce, Reed, Oscar and Orlando.
