DON'T NEGLECT YOUR KIDNEYS.

Kidney troubles are too serious to neglect. Slight ailments are often forerunners of dangerous kidney illness and should be treated without delay. T. M. Harley, 315 E. 5th St., Rome, Ga., says: "Years ago I had an attack of gravel that nearly killed me. I recovered but it was the forerunner of similar attacks. The urine became scant and irregular in passage and my back throbbed until I could scarcely stand the pain. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and was helped from the start. I gradually improved and when I had used eight boxes, I was entirely cured."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by druggists and general storekeepers everywhere. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A New Sensation.

Little Jean had visited one of the large summer amusement parks for the first time, and with the courage possessed only by those girls whose playmates are boys and girls older than themselves, she had not hesitated when invited to take a ride on one of the "thrillers" that abound in such places.

To her mother, on her return from the park, she confided the emotions she had experienced as she swept round the curves of the "figure eight" with her elder brothers.

"Mamma," she said, "when I felt just as if I had freckles on my stomach!"—Youth's Companion.

Lead in Salt Industry.

The six leading states in the salt industry are Michigan, New York, Ohio, Kansas, Louisiana and California, and in 1909 these six states produced salt valued at $7,714,557. The salt from these states is obtained from rock salt, sea water and natural brine—in other words, from all the known sources of salt.

HEART RIGHT. When He Quit Coffee.

Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble.

The reason is obvious. This is a serious matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his dear ones. Often the heart trouble is caused by an unexpected thing and can be corrected if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical invalid, suffering from heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings."

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my ill-health, till on applying for life insurance I was rejected on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether and having been attracted by the advertisements of Postum I began its use."

"The change in my condition was remarkable. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nervousness disappeared, and, most important of all, my heart steadied down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the Life Insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum worked the change." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the Little Book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

STATE CAPITAL CHAT

HARRISBURG CORRESPONDENCE

State School Board Named.

The members of the first State Board of Education have been named by Governor Tener, being selected from the members of the commission which drew the school code under which the board was created.

Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is to be ex officio president of the board. The members of the new board are:

Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, Philadelphia, named for six years.

David B. Oliver, Pittsburg, five years.

Dr. George M. Phillips, West Chester, four years.

John S. Rilling, Erie, three years.

William Lauder, Riddlesburg, two years.

James M. Coughlin, Wilkes-Barre, one year.

Dr. Brumbaugh is Superintendent of Public Schools of Philadelphia, David B. Oliver is president of the School Board of Pittsburg; John S. Rilling, a lawyer of Erie, James M. Coughlin, superintendent of schools in Wilkes-Barre; Dr. George M. Phillips, principal of the West Chester State Normal School, and William Lauder, a merchant of Riddlesburg.

Each member of the board had a direct part in drafting the new school code. The six colleagues of Superintendent Schaeffer are appointed respectively for one, two, three, four, five and six years, their terms of office beginning July 1. Annually thereafter the Governor will appoint one member of the board for six years.

The members are to serve without compensation, other than payment of the expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as members of the board.

The board will be required to recommend school legislation to the Governor and General Assembly; to equalize educational advantages of the different parts of the State; to encourage agricultural education, manual training, domestic science, etc. The board will also be expected to prescribe rules for the construction and equipment of school buildings.

The offices of the Board of Education will be in the State Capitol, but it may meet elsewhere when it is deemed necessary to do so. The board is authorized to employ such assistants and incur such other expenses as it finds necessary for the performance of its duties, but is confined within the limits of the appropriations made for its use.

Locusts in All Sections.

State Zoologist Surface announces that the seventeen-year locust has now appeared in all parts of Pennsylvania where they will occur this year, and there is, consequently, no need of any further delay of pruning in order to avoid the ravages, and no need of keeping trees covered for protection from them in regions where they have not yet appeared.

According to schedule, these peculiar insects appeared in the mountainous and hilly regions of Pennsylvania, from the Susquehanna River to Harrisburg, eastward to New Jersey. In some places they were very abundant. Mr. Surface is engaged in seeking information as to the exact localities in which they were present, so that these can be charted on maps for future practical use. This information should be sent to him together with specimens. In some regions of the State persons who planted young fruit trees, followed the directions of Prof. Surface in delaying pruning until after the locusts had deposited their eggs, so that the injured branches could be cut away without concentrating the injury into a small area.

Troops' Names Changed.

General orders issued from National Guard headquarters changes the designations of the two cavalry squadrons. The Philadelphia troops, now known as Squadron A, are to be known as the First Squadron, and the Harrisburg, New Castle and Tyrone troops as Second Squadron, instead of Squadron B.

Beetle Attacks Alfalfa.

Officials of the State Agricultural Department were stirred by a report of a beetle attacking alfalfa crops in Cumberland county. The investigations of State Zoologist H. A. Surface show that the blister beetle, a species of the potato beetle family, is responsible for the damage and he will prepare a remedy.

Escheat Act Explained.

An opinion was given by Attorney General John C. Bell establishing rules for compensation in escheat cases under the act of 1911. It holds that an informer who presented notice prior to the approval of the act, shall be entitled to one-third of the estate under the old act, instead of one-fourth, as under the new. The escheator, provided he was named before the new act, is to get but 5 per cent, instead of 15, as under the new.

Preliminary steps were taken at a conference between ex-Governor William A. Stone, president of the Capitol Building Commission, and George Gray Barnard, the sculptor, to turn over the statues to the State.

SAVE ALFALFA CROP

New Bug Being Imported to Kill Injurious Weevils.

Government Brings Italian Insect Over in Storage Vaults and It Revives Under Utah Sunshine — Work is Experimental.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Swept from the alfalfa crops in sunny Italy; frozen stiff and transported in cigar-box-like cages in the cold-storage vaults of a liner across the Atlantic ocean to New York, and then transferred again to the refrigerator compartment of a transcontinental train and hurried to Utah, is the experience of the alfalfa weevil parasites which, it is hoped, will save the alfalfa crops of Utah and all Intermountain farmers from the ravages of the alfalfa beetle.

The parasites are now coming to life again in the sunshine which filters through the windows of the United States entomology experiment station in the Utah capital, and they will be used in a series of experiments planned by the government with a view to helping the farmer in his fight against one of the most destructive pests of recent years.

The work is under the immediate supervision of A. H. Kirkland, special agent of the government in the alfalfa weevil investigation. Mr. Kirkland is in charge of the campaign waged by the government against the destructive gypsy moth in Massachusetts, and was signally successful in fighting that pest. He has been through the practical as well as the technical features of such work, and is now employed by the government to supervise such investigations as are under way in Utah.

The work locally with the Italian parasites and the alfalfa weevil is purely experimental. The idea is to have the parasites lay their eggs on the alfalfa, while propagating the parasites. When it is known that the weevil's eggs, in which the parasites' eggs are to be laid, are only about the size of a pin point, it can be readily understood that the men in charge of the work are called upon to use great skill in watching developments in such minute forms of life.

Mr. Kirkland, in telling of the work, says: "We cannot promise, of course, that the means we have undertaken to eradicate the alfalfa weevil pest will be successful. We are hopeful, however. At any rate, the government is enough interested in the farmers of Utah and other states to tell us to proceed with our experiments, and we shall do all we can to get the best results from this work."

"The alfalfa weevil is a native of Europe and western Asia. In those countries, however, its ravages are kept down by a parasite. It is that parasite we have brought from Italy to experiment with in this country. "There is no telling how long ago the weevil was introduced into the United States. It may have been brought over in hay used as packing or something of that sort. At any rate it got here, and when it reached Utah it found conditions just right for propagation."

The Italian parasites were shipped from Portici, Italy, by a government agent sent there for the purpose of gathering them. Twenty boxes were Kirkland having come on with them received in Utah last month. Mr. Kirkland having come on with them from New York, and more will be received during the course of the work.

Black Bass Chews Tobacco

New Yorker Discovers Fish That Strikes at Cigar Butts and Has Taste for Nicotine.

Bartlett, N. Y.—John J. Flanagan, manager at Bartlett, has as one of his proteges a black bass which uses tobacco. The fish, being an intelligent one, does not smoke cigarettes. But it chews.

Mr. Flanagan got acquainted with the habits of the bass about a month ago. The bass' favorite loafing ground is near a power-house. Always when Mr. Flanagan goes to the power-house, he flings the cigar he happens to be smoking away, so that there will be no danger of fire.

He flung his cigar into the water by the power-house one day and the bass made a rush for it and grabbed it, disappearing under the water. Mr. Flanagan thought little of that at the time, for on certain days bass will strike at nearly anything, while on other days the most alluring bait will not tempt them. A day or two later he flung another cigar butt into the water and the same fish rose to it and nabbed it.

After this had happened a dozen times, Mr. Flanagan was forced to the conclusion that it was not mere random hunger on the part of the bass, but a genuine taste for tobacco. Several times shreds of the cigar,

ANGLER IS DUCKED BY EEL

Winsted, Conn., Man Captures Specimen Six Feet Long After Being Pulled Under the Water.

Winsted, Conn.—"By John Rogers," exclaimed Joseph Rogers when pulled into deep water in Highland lake. "I'll get that darned whopper yet," he said to his comrades in a boat as he floundered in water many feet deep. And he did, but not without a struggle.

The "whopper" was one of those large, strong, hungry eels which have been in Highland lake so many years that they dare to tackle any human trespasser. Rogers was standing in one end of the craft holding a steel rod when he was pulled overboard. He held on to the steel rod with one hand and kept himself afloat with the other until his companions reached him. The eel was six feet long.

Beat Is Lonesome; Policeman Resigns.

Newark, N. J.—After three hours' service as a Newark policeman Patrolman Daniel F. Haggerty found his beat so lonesome that he telephoned in his resignation and went home.

Girl Saves $5,200 on $1 a Day.

Worcester, Mass.—Relatives of Miss Marguerite Hudon, who died after working as a shop clerk seventeen years at $1 a day, found bank deposits in her name aggregating $5,200. Her total earnings had been $5,304.

Some of the summer boarders, after observing Mr. Flanagan's bass came to the conclusion that a natural taste for tobacco might be inborn with fish, just as it is with deer and goats. They experimented on several other fish, notably a number of catfish. The catfish, however, when put into a tub on shore, and fed small portions of navy plug chewing tobacco, became very sick at the stomach, showing every sign of nausea, and mewing pitifully. This, and other research along the same lines, with dog fish and pickerel convinced them that the black bass who hangs around the power-house is unique in his habits.

much torn and raveled, have risen to the top of the water half an hour or so after the fish has grabbed them, thus showing that the intelligent bass really tried to smoke the cigar, but being handicapped by certain natural disadvantages, contented itself by merely chewing the weed.

Beer Barrels Save Life.

New York.—If Felix Haddell, a five-year-old patient in an uptown hospital, lives he can thank a pyramid of beer barrels in the rear yard of his tenement-house home. He fell five stories from the roof the other night while playing leapfrog and struck the apex of the beer-barrel pyramid. The barrels rolled away under him, breaking his fall, and he slid down gradually.

MADE BANK ACCOUNT GOOD

Why Uncle Reuben Could Not Meet Debt He Acknowledged as an Obligation.

Uncle Reuben, the village white-washer and man of all work, was a frequent borrower of small sums from his neighbor, Colonel Arkwright, and as a rule he repaid these little debts at the appointed time; but on one occasion, when he had been accommodated with a loan of two dollars and a half, which he promised to return in a few days, he allowed two or three weeks to pass without making any mention of his indebtedness, and, in fact, seemed to avoid his creditor. But one morning the colonel unexpectedly encountered him at the post office.

"Hello, Uncle Reub! Didn't you borrow a little money from me several weeks ago?"

"Dat's right, cunnel," said the old man. "I sholy did."

"You told me you'd pay it back in three or four days. Have you had had luck?"

"No, suh," responded Uncle Reuben. "I'll tell you how it was, cunnel. I hadked jes' two dollahs an' a half of havin' ten dollahs to put in de savin's bank, an' I used it for dat. Hit's all right, cunnel. I won't foight it." Youth's Companion.

"Is there nothing you could do for your baldness?" Ben, by the way, is on forty. "No, lad!" he replied with decision. "Fifteen years ago I was courtin' strong, and I tried lots o' things. But about that time 'prince of Wales—Edward, you know—came to open 't new hospital, and I said to myself as soon as I saw him liftin' his hat to 't crowd, 'Ben, my lad, that can give it up as a bad ' job, and save thy brass. Shocking!

Miss D., a teacher of unquestioned propriety in all its branches, was in the throes of commencement, and to the best of their ability was entertaining some young men—the suitors of her fair pupils.
