Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Titles in England.

Forty or fifty years ago few people in England had titles. There were only a few decorations which entitled their owners to put the prefix "Sir" before their names. We all of us looked down with lofty contempt upon the counts and barons that were so plentiful in continental countries. Now we can do so no longer, for probably there is no other country in the world where the traffic in titles is so open and so indecent as in England. What the number of our decorations is I do not know, and I imagine that few do Every few years some new one is created and an Englishman with a taste that way can easily manage to exhibit bimself covered with metal disks and bits of ribbon like some successful cow at an agricultural show. These embellishments may flatter the vanity of their wearers, but they do not increase the respect that is felt for Englishmen.-London Truth.

'My heart got 'rickety' and beat so fast and so hard that I could scarcely breathe, while my skin got thick and dingy, with yellow blotches on my face, caused by the condition of my liver determined to experiment and see, So I quit coffee and got a package of Postum which furnished my hot morning beverage. After a little time I was rewarded by a complete restoration of my health in every respect.

"I do not suffer from billousness any more, my headaches have disappeared, my nerves are as steady as could be desired, my heart beats regularly and my complexion has cleared up beautifully—the blotches have been wiped out and it is such a pleasure to be well again." STATE CAPITAL CHAT

Fight on "Full Crew" Law. Injunction proceedings to restain the State Railroad Commission from enforcing the provisions of the "full crew" act of June 19, 1911, were brought in the Dauphin County Court here, by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Court is asked to perpetually restrain the commission, which is charged with enforcement of the law, from entering suit for fallure to comply with the terms of the statute. This proceeding, which is the first to be brought to test the constitutionality of the new law which the railroad companies strongly opposed, was entered by John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, and Lyman D. Gilbert, of this city, counsel for the company, the papers being sworn to by W. W. Atterbury, fourth vice-president. In the bill in equity filed, the law is declared to be unconstitutional and void because it is not a valid exercise of the police power possessed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania; is in violation of the terms of the constitution prohibiting special laws regarding labor; is confiscatory in character and against the Constitution of the United States, because it would interfere with interstate traffic. The law went into effect Wednesday, July 19.

Education Board Organizes.

The State's new Board of Education, named by the Governor under the provisions of the school code, organized here and outlined its preliminary work. Dr. N. S. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction is ex officio president, and Dr. G. M. Phillips, of West Chester, was elected as secretary. All of the members were present except David B. Oliver, of Pittsburg, who was prevented from attending by illness in his family, and Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Philadelphia. John S. Rilling, of Erie, and James H. Coughlin, Wilkes-Barre, were named as a committee to formulate the rules and a committee was also named to secure the services of an architect, as numceived by the board. Under the code plans for new school buildings are to be submitted to the board, which may suggest changes. Mr. Rilling and Mr. Phillips were chosen to attend to this subject.

Later on in his address Rev. Mr. Eaton announced that the ghosts he had seen were in his mind's eye, that they were "subjectively" but not "objectively" real.

"We can generally trust our fivsenses," declared the pastor, following his astounding introduction, but not always. There are moments when we cannot tell whether what we experience has its origin within the soul or whether it comes to the soul through the senses from without. The apostle Paul could not always tell concerning himself. He said that he was once caught up to paradise, to the third heaven, and he couldn't tell whether he was in the body or out of the body.

"Ghosts are in the mind's eye. They are subjectively real, but objectively they are not real at all. But whether real or not they exert a mighty influence over the minds of some people.

"The study of phosts is a study of the science of mind. It is pursued in our day under the terms of psychology, mental phenomena, subconsciousness, automatic expression, psychotherapy and other similar terms. There is a vast amount of thinking and of real investigation in recent years upon the mysterious thing we call the soul.

"The growth of language is a sign of mental activity. The many and differing terms used in describing mental processes show the activity of thought.

"Suppose some one who had been dead for 100 years should suddenly come to earth and with only the knowledge of terms that were familiar to him when he was formerly on the earth and some one would try to talk to him in the terms familiar with us today-X-ray, ether, an air-line road. phone, wire, cable, wireless, liquid air, trolley, biplane, monorail-what con fusion would result. PIMPLES SO DISFIGURING HE SHUNNED FRIENDS

"I was bothered with pimples and blackheads in the worst way for over four years. My face and arms were completely covered with them. The pimples would come out on my face and fester all up. They would scab over, and make my face sore, besides being so disfiguring that I shunned my friends. I tried facial cream balms and benzoine with no effect.

"One night I asked a friend what was good for pimples, and he advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which I did. I would wash my face first with hot water and Cuticura Soap, and then put on some Cuticura Ointment, let It stay on five minutes, and then wash my face again with the Cuticura Soap. It would draw the blackheads out as nice, and the pimples, oh say, it was one grand relief to go among my friends and be jolly again. After using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, my face is as smooth as if there never had been a pimple on it. I cannot speak too highly of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I hope others will profit by them as much as I have. I know they will after giving them just one trial." (Signed) Arthur E. Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and all women treated by a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-n- million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases. Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them.
