The annual picnic at Shade Gap, known as the G. A. R. picnic, will be held on Saturday, August 5th, in McDonald's Grove. This gathering annually, brings its thousands of picnickers from several counties, and is probably the greatest affair of the kind held in Huntingdon county.

Because Marion looks and reads too much like "Merion," a town near Philadelphia, the post-office department at Washington is anxious to change the name and has written the Marion, Franklin county, postoffice about it. The citizens of that place do not favor the change and are protesting against it.

Last Friday the State Department of Health had an officer in Huntingdon taking samples of milk from each dealer serving patrons in that city. He had the samples packed in ice and they were forwarded to Harrisburg for analysis of their contents. The law prescribes a certain standard of purity for milk which the department insists on maintaining.

Mr. Evans is now a resident of Weyers Cave, Va., where he has a nice business. He and his wife have been visiting Mrs. Evans' parents at Clear Ridge and friends in the western part of the state for several weeks. He was gladly received by his many friends in this place.

Figures compiled from reports of Fourth of July celebrations all over the United States show that the movement for a safe observance of the day resulted in the smallest number of casualties ever recorded. Statisticians at Chicago announce that 24 persons were killed and 881 injured, compared with 131 and 2,725 in 1910 and 496 and 3,983 in 1908. In Boston there was not a single casualty nor injury as a result of the celebration, which was of a patriotic and inspiring nature, although safe and practically noiseless.

James C. Noaker, of Jacksonville, Cumberland county, was killed in the harvest field last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Noaker was one of the prominent merchants of that village, also the owner of two farms adjacent to the town, which he supervised. He was raking the wheat stubbles, with two bronchos hitched to the rake; he stepped off the rake, walked away a few steps, when the horses took fright and ran away. He made an attempt to catch them as they passed him, but only got hold of the harness when he was jerked loose, thrown on his head and had his neck broken.

Must Pay for Paper.

Taking a paper out of the post office makes the recipient liable for the bill. O. D. Austin, a Missouri publisher, sent his paper to Charles Burge. The latter paid for it twice and then refused to pay again. He said he ordered it stopped. But the court of appeals holds that the mere acceptance of the paper created a liability. It adds: "the preparation and publication of a newspaper involves much mental and physical labor as well as an outlay of money. One who accepts the paper by continuously taking it from the post office received a benefit and pleasure arising from such labor and expenditure as fully as if he had appropriated any other product of another's labor, and by such act he must be held liable for the subscription price."

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malaria and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50c at Trout's drug store.

VEGETABLE COMPOUND

It has been estimated by careful observers among the medical profession that of those who seek the services of a physician fully three-fourths are women. Many of these, of course, stand more or less in need of surgical treatment. Many of them, and probably the majority, will be greatly benefited by medical treatment alone.

Physicians experienced in the treatment of diseases of women have proved that certain remedies produce excellent results in the peculiar troubles from which women suffer.

With scientific understanding of the diseases to be treated and of the action of the drugs most useful in the treatment of these diseases Rexall Vegetable Compound has been devised. It is prepared to meet the wants of those women who suffer either from painful menstruation or from troubles incident to the change of life, or who, during pregnancy, stand in need of remedies to preserve the tissues of the generative organs in a normal condition.

HOW VEGETABLE COMPOUND IS MADE

In order that our patients may see this preparation intelligently we here explain just why Rexall Vegetable Compound has been made as it is.

Black Haw, Cramp Bark, Squaw Vine and Blue Cohosh are of proven value in lessening irritation and allaying muscular tissues of the uterus. Unicorn Root is efficient as a menstrual stimulant and is of value in painful menstruation accompanied by scanty flow.

Golden Seal is noted for its stimulating effect upon mucous membranes. Together with Cinnamon Bark it is incorporated in Rexall Vegetable Compound for the purpose of stimulating the intestinal tract to the expulsion of gases that might intensify the pain attendant upon painful menstruation.

USEFUL—SAFE

All these drugs are carefully selected and scientifically combined in a preparation that has proved to be of splendid service in the treatment of the conditions in which it is indicated. This remedy is neither designed nor intended to act as an abortion agent. In fact, its use will tend to prevent the dangers of abortion when due to unusual uterine sensitiveness.

Rexall Vegetable Compound should be found to give splendid service in the treatment of Internal Spasmodic Pain, Hysterical Convulsions, Cramps, Flatulent and Bilious Colic; particularly for those disorders of the generative organs which cause such distressing reflex symptoms, as Painful Menstruation, Ovarian Colic and Uterine Pains, and Pains in the Back and Loins due to excessive sensitiveness of nervous mucous and muscular tissues of the parts affected. Its tendency is to render the monthly periods normal in time and amount; to correct tardy menses, its action being to preserve at the normal the tissues of the female generative organs. Rexall Vegetable Compound will be found of value during the period of Pregnancy, and of special value in the relief of the suffering incident to the Change of Life. Of service also in Leucorrhoea, Menstrual Headache and in Constipation. It contains no narcotic or habit-forming drugs.

DIRECTIONS

In order that those who stand in need of Rexall Vegetable Compound should receive the full benefit therefrom we draw particular attention to the following advice:—

For Painful Menstruation Rexall Vegetable Compound should be taken about one week before the expected monthly period and should be continued throughout the entire period and for one week thereafter. In fact, it would be well, if, in the beginning of treatment, the patient should take the preparation continuously for two or three months. Thereafter, if the painful periods continue in any degree, the treatment should be given as suggested above. Rexall Vegetable Compound will give better results either given in, or followed by, a glass of hot water. Its effect is enhanced if the patient should take hot baths at the time expected for the beginning of Menstruation.

For treatment of the "dragging" pains and pains in the back and loins that are so common, particularly to women who have borne children, Rexall Vegetable Compound should be taken over periods of several months. These pains are due in most cases to weight of an abnormally heavy uterus dragging upon sensitive ligaments. The effect of the Remedy will be increased in these cases by the regular use of hot douches, taken in a reclining posture. It is important in all these cases that the bowels should be kept regular and free. For this purpose Rexall Orderlies may be used.
