Proper Time to Seed Alfalfa.

I am receiving inquiries as to whether it is still safe to seed alfalfa; from which I judge that some readers got a wrong impression from my article on the subject.

The established practice with successful alfalfa growers in the east is to seed during August; and our experience here shows that any time during the whole month, and even during the first week of September, is safe. We have tried this question out purposely, seeding as late as October 1st; but the later seedings were badly hurt. No August seeding has been seriously hurt by frost, even during the very hard conditions of last winter and spring.

The point I was trying to make is that perhaps the established practice of seeding in August, while it is bringing good results, is not the very best practice. Indications are that the early July seedings, for reasons I will discuss later at length, is going to give even better results. Just now I wish to correct a wrong impression.

By all means go ahead and seed any time during the present month. Conditions this August are better than they were during any of the three preceding years; yet seedings during those years were all right.

I have just received a fresh supply of inoculating material and of circular letters telling how to use it; and will be very glad to mail, without expense, to those who wish to use it. Do not make the mistake of seeding without inoculation. It is a vital necessity.

Alfalfa in its second year yielded badly this summer, during the very dry weather. We cut it; and it is now recovering finely. No stands will have to be turned under this year, so far as examined or reported.

Schellsburg, Pa., Aug. 10, 1911.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Con cord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequaled for lagrippe, asthma, hay-fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Trouts Drug Store.
