

MUNYON'S WORK TALK OF CITY

Big Success Shown by Numbers of Callers at Philadelphia
Headquarters.

LOCAL MAN TELLS OF REMARKABLE RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM IN YEAR'S TIME.

The apparent success with white, Professor James M. Munyon, the world-famous health authority, has been meeting with much discussion. Every street car brings dozens of callers to his Laboratory at 53d and Jefferson Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., and every mail brings thousands of letters from people inquiring about Munyon's Famous Health Cure. Professor Munyon's corps of expert physicians is kept busy seeing callers and answering the mail. Peculiar to these physicians prescribe no medicine at all for 50 per cent of the callers and mail inquirers. Health, vitality, health advice and rules for right living are given absolutely free. Medical advice and consultation absolutely free.

Munyon's followers seem to be numerous. Those who believe in his theories seem to think he possesses the most marvelous powers for the healing of all sorts of diseases. Munyon, himself, laughs at this. He says: "The hundreds of cures which you are hearing about every day in Philadelphia are not in any way due to my personal skill. It is my remedies, which represent the combined brains of the greatest medical specialists science has ever known, that are doing the work. I have paid thousands of dollars for a single formula and the exclusive right to manufacture it. I have paid tens of thousands of dollars for others of my various forms of treatment. This is why I get such remarkable results. I have simply bought the best products of the best brains in the world and placed this knowledge within the reach of the general public."

Among Munyon's callers yesterday were many who were enthusiastic in their praise of the man. One of these said: "For six years I suffered with rheumatism. My arms and legs were affected so badly that I could hardly work, and I could not raise my arms to my head. The pain was most severe in the back, however, and I was in perfect torture. I tried in many ways to get cured, or even to secure temporary relief, but nothing seemed to help me until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Munyon's Tric Acid Course. It was the most marvelously acting remedy I ever saw, within a week the pain had almost gone and inside of a month I considered myself entirely cured. I can now go out in the worst weather—cold, wet, or windy—without a shiver, and I have not felt any suspicion of a return of the disease. I think that every person who has rheumatism and does not take the Tric Acid Course is making a great mistake."

The continuous stream of callers and mail that comes to Professor James M. Munyon at his laboratory at 53d and Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa., keeps Dr. Munyon and his enormous corps of expert physicians busy.

Writes today to Professor James M. Munyon personally. Munyon's Laboratory, 53d and Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. Give full particulars in reference to your case. Your inquiry will be held strictly confidential and answered in a plain envelope. You will be given the best medical advice, and asked more questions. Remember there is no charge of any kind for consultation, or medical advice. The only charge Munyon makes is when he prescribes a medicine, which remedies you pay the retail selling price. It is immaterial whether you buy from him or from the nearest druggist.

To Cheer Her Up.
An old Scotswoman, who had put herself to considerable inconvenience, and gone a long way to see a sick friend, learned on arriving that the alarming symptoms had subsided.

"An' hoo are ye the day, Mrs. Crawford?" she inquired in breathless anxiety.

"Oh, I'm quite well now, thank ye, Mrs. McGregor," was the cheerful answer.

"Quite well?" exclaimed the visitor.

"An' after me haein' come sae far to see ye!"

Cautious Supervision.
"I'm afraid my work is going to be complicated," said the new teacher.

"In what way?"

"Mrs. Cumrox was looking through the text book on arithmetic and it occurred to her to suggest that I refrain from teaching her daughter any examples in improper fractions."

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Information and Gossip at Harrisburg.

Grand Jury Inquiry.

The Attorney General's Department has suggested to the county authorities now engaged in the inquiry into the lynching of Zack Walker at Catesville on August 13, that the Chester County Grand Jury be instructed to make the investigation. Messages to this effect are understood to have been sent from the Capitol to the officials engaged in the investigation, and they will likely take up the matter with the Judges of Chester County. The Judges have authority to order the Grand Jury to make a presentment of the case, and to do so that body may summon all of the citizens of the town before it. This method of getting information is considered by some State officials as a better means than the wholesale arresting of people because they were in the mob, with the hope of obtaining the names of ringleaders from them. The District Attorney would thus have opportunity to examine people under oath and could call upon the Attorney General to assist in the examination if he desired.

Convention in Sign Language.

A convention which in its proceedings surpassed any gathering held in this city in decades, was held here by Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf. About fifty delegates, most of whom are graduates of the State and other deaf and mute institutions, were in attendance. All the addresses, discussions, prayers and reports were offered in the sign language. A. U. Downing, of the Western Pennsylvania Deaf and Mute Institute faculty, acted as interpreter for the reporters. The principal address of the convention was delivered by the president, James S. Reider, Philadelphia; C. O. Dentzer, pastor of All Souls Church, Philadelphia; Rev. B. R. Allabugh, Wilkingsburg, and Rev. F. C. Smilleau, of Williamsport. During the convention subscription to the society's home at Doylestown were raised and an effort made to establish a $25,000 endowment fund.

Permit to Build New Bridges.

The State Water Supply Commission announced that it had approved the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the construction of two bridges and for extension of banks along four streams in the State, the operations covering the largest submitted to the commission by any one company in many months. The bridges will span the Susquehanna River near Montgomery, Lycoming County, where a sixteen-span bridge will be built, and the Schuylkill near Douglassville. The extensions will be along the Allegheny in Warren County and along the Kiski-minetas in Westmoreland County. The company's application to construct a new bridge over the Schuylkill at Roversford was held under advisement as were the Clarion River Water Company charters.

Women For School Directors.

Names of the two women whose nomination and election as school directors will be urged by the Civic Club of Harrisburg were announced, after an extended session of the club behind closed doors. The names will be sent to the chairman of the various city committees, who will be asked to work for their election regardless of politics. The selections are Mrs. Thomas M. Jones, who has been active in educational and literary work, and Mrs. Frederick L. Morgenthaler, who has been prominent in movements for school improvement.

To Build State Road.

Thirteen firms bid for the construction of the first section of a main highway to be built under the Sprull highway law when Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow opened bids for the building of eleven miles of road through the Lewistown "narrows" between Lewistown and Mifflin. The contract will be awarded Wednesday. The road will be paid for entirely by the State.

Blight in Three More Counties.

Reports received by the Chestnut Tree Blight Commission indicate that the tree pest has made its appearance in three more counties this month, having been found in South Center, Adams and Snyder Counties. These counties will be included in the campaign to exterminate the pest which will be directed from Philadelphia.

Water Charters Approved.

The State Water Supply Commission has approved charters for the Lenni Heights Water Company, Middletown Township, Delaware County, and Hop Bottom Water Company, Hop Bottom, Susquehanna County.

Trolley Charter Granted.

A charter was granted to the Lebanon & Cambelltown Street Railway Company to construct a trolley line in Lebanon County. The capital is $300,000 and M. S. Hershey is president.

Discover Infantile Paralysis.

Inspectors of the State Department of Health have discovered two cases of infantile paralysis in York County, a short distance from York Haven, where two cases were reported a short time ago.

Altoona. — Resolutions deploring the virulent criticism of Dr. Harvey Wiley and hoping that "no technical fault" may cut short his useful career, were adopted by the Blair County Medical Society.

PUGNACIOUS PHILLIE PLAYER REINSTATED

Sherwood Magee, Star Outfielder.

The suspension against Sherwood Magee, outfielder of the Philadelphia National League baseball club, has been lifted and he will be allowed to get into the game again with his club. President Lynch of the National League, in making the announcement, said that the player's future good behavior will be the determining feature.

Magee was indefinitely suspended as a result of his assault on Empire Finneran during a game with St. Louis in Philadelphia on July 10.

MANAGERS WHO ARE LIONIZED

Chance, McGraw, Jennings and Mack Have Been Particularly Fortunate in Getting Winners.

Managers of losing baseball teams are not to be envied. They are held responsible for failures and are subjected to an endless amount of severe criticism, some of it warranted and the rest of it uncalled for. Because they cannot make inferior players show championship caliber and because they have no desirable timber with which to make strengthening deals they become targets for abuse from impatient fans and heartless critics. Nobody seems to realize that it requires time to build up a winning ball club, and for that reason an unsuccessful team handler is a phenomenon if he can survive the fusillade of adverse comment that inevitably comes his way.

John McGraw, Frank Chance, Hugh Jennings and Connie Mack do not know the meaning of the word abuse. They have been fortunate enough to have winning teams ever since they became major league managers. If they make deals for players that do not pan out fans and critics readily gloss over the mistakes and make plausible excuses that perpetuate a feeling of confidence. If their teams lose a string of games the slump is attributed to hard luck, the umpires or dumb ball playing by the men who take orders from the bench. These managers are lionized year in and year out and are entitled to live in continual peace because of the results they produce. It is a truth that cannot be denied that Mack, McGraw,

Jennings and Chance possess sterling managerial ability that other team leaders are unable to boast of, and that their winning teams are developed by real skill and sound judgment. But it is also true that these successful managers have been extremely lucky in getting what are known as "the best of the breaks," the equivalent of a constant smile from old Dame Fortune.

Joe Tinker has turned into a camera fiend. Meanwhile Pittsburg's little team is coming along.

The secret of Marquard's great success this summer is his control.

Wheat, the Brooklyn outfielder, is an Indian, and hails from Kansas City.

Will Lajoie and Cobb battle again this year for the American league leadership?

One of the Pittsburg papers is still calling on the Pirates for more ginger in their play.

Poor Fred Tenney is having about as unpleasant a season of it as he ever had in his career.

Connie Mack sees nothing but easy sailing ahead of the champions from now on to the end of the season.

Mathewson has not had any the best of the Cubs this season. His old time hoodoo is not working on them, this year.

Jack Compton of Dayton, who was bought by the Reds the other day, was with the St. Louis Americans five years ago, when he was just a youngster then.

Scopps Carey and Tommy Leach are playing great games for the Pirates — and it is a toss-up which one is the best.

Roger Bresnahan, Cardinal leader, is in a hospital suffering injuries to his left ankle received when he was struck by a foul tip.

Cashion is a college youth. He plays ball in the summer and football in the fall. He is a giant in stature, being more than six feet and weighing 185 pounds.

Chick Frazer, former Chicago Cub, recently released by New Orleans, has signed to play with the West Ends in Chicago, the team he pitched into the city championship last year.

One of the peculiar things of baseball occurred recently in a game at Corpus Christi, Tex., when three Laredo players got hits in succession, yet none of them reached third base.

Three of Ping Bodie's brothers are playing ball with a semi-professional team on the Pacific coast, where the White Sox star first attracted attention by his fencebraking proclivities.

Pitcher Tom Lessard has not been sold to Cincinnati in exchange for McQuinn and Juul as reported. Cash was paid for the red twirler. Lessard may go to Cincinnati if the price on him is met. He is suffering from hay fever now.

CARDINALS DO WELL

St. Louis National League Team Playing Brilliantly.

Stanley Robison's Fondlest Dreams of Winning Club Finally Realized, but Too Late for Him to Enjoy Pleasure.

There is a bit of tragedy in the wonderful showing the St. Louis Cardinals are making in the thrilling race in the National League. For the man who would have taken the keenest delight in their wonderful sprint and who would have found more enjoyment than any other man in the world in these days when the Cardinals are upon the lips of fans the country over, is dead and robbed of the ambition of his life, writes Bill Bailely in the Chicago American.

Just another of those peculiar freaks of fate which abound in this game of baseball.

For Stanley Robison, game all the way through, stuck when his friends advised him to drop the Cardinals. For years it was his ambition to land his club in the first division. He failed. Bresnahan came and Robison took renewed hope.

Every spring he went into the game absolutely convinced that "this is my year." The close of the race found him disappointed. He was just as hopeful this year. Absolutely certain that this was the year for the Cardinals. It was and is.

But Robison never saw his hopes realized. He didn't live to see his ambition fulfilled. Wanting a winner all his life, he died in the spring of the summer that put the name of his team upon the lips of the fans of both leagues and made them the wonder of baseball men.

Mr. Robison was certain that this would be the big year for the Cardinals. He spent a great part of the winter in Chicago, where he was treated by physicians. He often visited the Cub headquarters and one day he was fanning.

"You know baseball requires patience," he was saying. "I have been many years developing a winner in St. Louis. If I hadn't been a patient man I would have quit long ago. Because I certainly have had my disappointments."

"John T. Brush once told me that it required seven or eight years to build up a ball club. If that is correct I am about due. It took me a long time to find the right manager. Bresnahan was the man I wanted and when I got him I really began to build up my team."

"The end of the season will find the name of the Cardinals upon the lips of baseball people the country over. My team will be the surprise of the race."

"And when my team finishes up there I will have been repaid for the years of disappointment and the lean years. If everything goes well this year the rest will make no difference."

"Everything went well" for the Cardinals. Their name was upon the lips of the fans. They ceased to be a disappointment. The lean years were no more.

The tragedy lies in the fact that the man who suffered most keenly the disappointments and who bore the brunt of the lean years was not here to enjoy the sweets of victory, was not here to pluck the fruits.

COBB PAYS FOR CRUSHED HAT

Star Detroit Centerfielder Compels Fan to Take $5 to Replace Headgear He Had Spiked.

Ty Cobb, in a recent game with the Athletics at Philadelphia, displayed a little human touch that endeared him to the local fans. It was in the first game of the double-header that Cobb leaped over the right field ropes and pulled down a long drive of Murphy's. After the catch it was thought that Cobb had spiked some person in the bleachers.

Two innings later Tyrus went to the same spot in the bleachers and from the press box it looked as if he was having an argument. Instead, Tyrus was handing $5 to the man whose hat he had spiked when he jumped over the ropes.

Ty had taken a good look at the hatless fan and while the Athletics were having their turn at bat sneaked off to the club house and his locker and dug up a $5 bill. On his second visit to the bleachers he forced the five on the surprised fan.

Looking for Hovlik.
Pitcher Hovlik, the new Sox player, seems to be the man Manager Duffy has been looking for all season. A big fellow with plenty of speed and good control and a fair amount of good judgment can get a permanent berth on the pay roll at Comiskey park.

Pat Moran as Scout.
After Pat Moran's catching days are over, his usefulness to the Phillies will not end. Manager Doolan says he intends to utilize Patrick as scout.

WORLD FAMOUS SCIENTIST PRAISES DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Guido Blenio, who was awarded a gold medal at the International Exposition, Turin, Italy, in 1909, in competition with 142 chemical experts from all over the world was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and strongly recommends them. When visited by our representative at his New York office, Mr. Blenio said: "I did not realize what a hold Kidney trouble had on me until I applied for life insurance. The doctor refused to pass me and advised me to take treatment at once. I had heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. I improved rapidly and in a short time had no symptom of kidney disease remaining. I again applied for insurance and this time was promptly accepted."

Cement Talk No. 3

Concrete is the hardened rock-like product made by using some brand of Portland cement with sand, gravel or broken stone and water. The cement is the material which binds the sand, gravel or broken stone together; this binding action is produced by water. The terms "Cement" and "Concrete" thus have different meanings, although they are frequently used interchangeably. While cement is only one of the materials in concrete, it is perhaps the most important. To insure the best results in concrete work, the highest grade of Portland cement should be used. The concrete worker must first assure that he has the best cement if he will make certain that the work UNIFORMITY is printed on each sack of cement that he buys.
