McCONNELLSBURG, PA., OCTOBER 5, 1911.

NUMBER 3

BARTON--PEIGHTEL.

Miss Lucy Peightel, a Popular Teacher, Became Bride of Sebert N. Barton Last Week.

ARE NOW AT HOME IN ALTOONA.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolf near McConnellsburg, on Wednesday, September 27, 1911, when their daughter Lucy Luella became the bride of Sebert N. Barton, of Altoona. Immediately after the clock struck the noon hour, the bride and groom, preceded by Miss Ada Barton, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid and Ally E. Deshong, as groomsmen, entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Ella Barton, another sister of the groom, and took their places before a beautiful bower of evergreens and Golden-rod. The ceremony which made this happy young couple husband and wife was performed by Rev. Chas. F. Weise of the Three Springs charge.

The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of cream silk poplin, and carried a lovely bouquet of bride's roses and ferns. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful gown of pale blue silk and carried a bouquet of Carnations and ferns.

Immediately after congratulations were tendered to these young people, an elegant wedding dinner was served to the bridal party, and about twenty five guests who were present to witness the ceremony.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts which consisted of cut glass, silverware, China ware, linen and numerous other articles of which she is very proud.

The bride is an accomplished young lady, having taught successfully several terms of school in the public schools of this county. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Barton of Crystal Springs. He is an industrious and enterprising young man and bids fair to make his mark in the world. Both are well known throughout the county and their many friends join in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous married life.

In the evening the calthumpian band made its appearance and gave them a treat to some most excellent music.

Since October 1st, they have been at home to their friends in Altoona where the groom has an excellent position.

$620,000,000 Worth Of Eggs.

To stimulate a movement for the proper care of the egg product and thereby vastly reduce the $45,000,000 loss annually sustained by farmers and other egg producers, the department of agriculture has been conducting an investigation during the last year, the results of which have just been announced. The loss is due to improper handling on the farm and at the country store.

Incidentally, it is pointed out that the products of the American hen aggregate a total value of $620,000,000 annually—a sum equal to the value of the hay crop, the wheat crop, the combined value of oats and potato crop, and nearly nine times the value of the tobacco crop of 1908.

Rev. J. B. Stansberry, D. D., P. E., will speak at the City A. M. E. church, at 7 o'clock, p. m., October 8th. The church will hold its sixth year's anniversary exercises, beginning October 9th and continuing until the 16th. Monday and Tuesday evening, Rev. Marshal Williams of Chambersburg will speak, and Wednesday evening Rev. W. D. McKinsey of Mercersburg. Revs. Hann, Royer, and Napper have been invited to speak Thursday, Friday and Sunday the 16th. Everybody invited.

OCTOBER COURT.

Unusually Large Number of Persons in Attendance. Sheriff Harris On Trial Now.

The regular sessions of the October term of court began Monday afternoon with President Judge S. Mc. Swice and his associates Humbert and Hoop on the bench.

As usual, the constables were called first and made their returns.

List of grand jurors called and reported. D. M. Kendall, of Ayr township was appointed foreman. After having been sworn and the usual instructions given by the Court, they retired to their room and began their work.

The following accounts were taken up for confirmation:

First and final account of Jacob Rotz and P. Luther Finiff, administrators of the estate of Nathaniel Rotz, late of Tod township, deceased. Confirmed.

Supplemental account of Joseph B. Mellott, administrator of Isaac Fink, deceased. Confirmed.

Account of George W. Wagner, administrator of the estate of Amanda J. Cook, late of Dublin township, deceased. Confirmed.

First and final account of Banner Bishop, administrator of Geo. W. Bishop, deceased. Confirmed.

Inventory and appraisal in estate of R. F. Gallaher, deceased. Ordered to be filed unless exceptions be filed within twenty days.

Estate of T. E. Fleming, deceased. Order for sale of real estate awarded.

Estate of James Doran, deceased. Return of writ of partition. Usual rule on heirs awarded returnable at January term.

Estate of Joseph Hoopgardner, deceased. Return of Rule on Heirs. Heirs called. J. Luther Hoopgardner, one of the parties in interest appeared and offered a bid agreeing to take the real estate containing 100 acres at $1495. Decree of Court made accordingly.

Estate of George C. Elias. Petition asking permission to pay money into court for Mrs. Emily Gates and Lavina Gates. Order made as prayed for.

Petition of Ralph W. Johnston, minor child of J. Findlay Johnston, deceased for appointment of guardian presented. John F. Kendall appointed Bond in the sum of $2,500.

Petition of Walter Johnston. John F. Kendall appointed guardian. Same bond as that of Ralph.

Petition of Susannah Kerns, minor child of Robert A. Kerns, deceased asking permission to pay for support of child, expense incurred in securing person, and to invest the funds of said ward at a less rate of interest. Order made as prayed for.

Commonwealth vs. Andrew Fisher and Leshe Harr. Motion was presented to the Court asking that the proceedings in the case be quashed. On the 11th day of May, 1911, George Magsam and John Magsam were engaged in selling milk to customers in McConnellsburg. As they were passing along the street near the City Hotel about 11 o'clock in the evening, "the wagon was stoned being hit twice," so said the indictment; but as that legal instrument failed to state that the Magsam brothers were in the wagon at the time of the stoning, there was nothing left for the Court but to quash the proceedings, as it is not a criminal offence to stone a wagon.

Commonwealth vs. Logue McKee was taken up at 4 o'clock. Logue McKee, a bright looking young man of about 25 years of age was on trial charged with carrying concealed deadly weapons. It developed that Logue and a young Mr. Layton had some misunderstanding at Isaac Layton's sale in Whips Cove on the 23rd of last March, and that they got over into a field and proceeded to settle the matter in a sociable game of "fisticuff." Before entering upon the encounter, Logue had removed his coat, and after they had exchanged blows a revolver dropped from Logue's pocket and it was picked up by a bystander.

After the Commonwealth had closed its side of the case, Logue went on the stand and testified that he had put the revolver in his pocket the evening before, as he started to the postoffice at Emmaville; that he had taken the gun along for the purpose of shooting polecats; and that he had forgotten to remove the revolver from his pocket before going to the sale, and that he did not know that he had it with him at the sale. The revolver was a .32-cal.

The fact that the defendant admitted having the revolver at the sale the only question for the jury was: Did he carry the weapon for the purpose of doing harm?

The next case was that of the Commonwealth vs. William Lockard, charged with shooting with intent to kill.

J. Calvin Foster, the victim of the shooting was the first to be called. Mr. Foster is a farmer living in Wells Valley. He had been constable of Wells township. He had occasion to arrest Mr. Lockard. Before he arrested him, he had some controversy with Mr. Lockard about hallowing at him. Lockard called him mean names—swore at him. On the night of July 12th, Lockard called him names as he was passing along the road. On the morning of July 13th Foster went to plough

Miss Maude Armstrong.

Miss Maude Armstrong, daughter of Mrs. E. C. Armstrong better known here as Lizzie Peffer, and now widow of the late Rev. R. L. Armstrong, died Saturday afternoon September 23, 1911 at her home in Lock Haven, Pa. She had been ill for a period of five weeks and her death was due to a complication of diseases. Miss Armstrong was a former clerk in Rothrock Bros., grocery store in that city and resigned her position some months ago on account of ill health.

Deceased was a lady of pleasing disposition and her demise will cause sincere regret among her friends. She was a faithful and consistent member of Trinity M. E. church and of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. E. A. Bartlett, and when her health permitted was a regular attendant.

Deceased is survived by her mother, two brothers and one sister, Rev. W. L. Armstrong, of Coalport; Ira and Miss Mary, the latter two of this city.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. W. P. Shriner, D. D., pastor of Trinity M. E. church, assisted by Rev. R. J. Allen, pastor of East Main Street M. E. church and Rev. R. J. Knox, of South Williamsport, on the following Tuesday morning, and interment was made in Highland cemetery.

Mrs. A. W. Brown, of Waynesboro, passed through town last Monday on her way to visit friends in the northern part of the County.

Had Nice Visit.

After having had a delightful visit of four weeks, Mrs. Joseph Sipes, of Licking Creek township has returned to her home. While away, she visited her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Mellott, in Pittsburg; Oliver Sipes, at Turtle Creek; her brother Simon Evans, Blairsville, Pa.; her brother Joseph Evans at Bellwood, Pa.; Dr. I. W. Carter, Altoona; her son J. W. Booty in Bedford; her sister, Mrs. Amanda Wolford, Buffalo Mills, and many other friends and acquaintances at the various places named. As the FULTON COUNTY NEWS goes into nearly all of the homes mentioned, Mrs. Sipes wishes to thank her friends again for the very pleasant visit she had.

Fell From Chestnut Tree.

Herbert Deibaugh aged 12 years, an adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Frazier, near Everett climbed into a chestnut tree during the noon hour while at school one day recently, and when about twenty-five feet up, he lost his balance and fell headlong to the ground and died almost instantly. The boys had been warned by the teacher not to climb the trees.

Card of Thanks.

I desire in this way to express my gratitude to the Democrats of Fulton County who so cordially supported me for the nomination for County Treasurer at the primaries last Saturday, and trust that if elected to the office I shall prove worthy of the confidence thus bestowed.

SAMUEL A. HESS.

LIQUOR PEOPLE PULLED.

Bedford Druggists and Physicians Charged with Violating Liquor Laws.

Two colored men, three druggists, one hotel proprietor two liquor agents and one doctor in Bedford, and one man in Everett, have been arrested for violating the liquor laws. Three of the party are in jail because they could not get the necessary bail, and the rest are awaiting trial at the November court. The informant charges that he bought liquor from the druggists without a prescription, with the same prescription several times, and that he obtained liquor for other than medicinal purposes. It may be remembered that Bedford county is a dry county, Judge Woods having refused all licenses last spring. The Anti-saloon people are determined to see that the law is obeyed. The maximum fine penalty for the offences is $5,000 fine and a year's imprisonment, and the minimum, $500 fine and three months imprisonment.

Death of Edward E. Smith.

The funeral of Mr. Edward E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Smith, occurred from the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon. The church services lasted a half hour and the body was then taken to Warfordsburg for interment.

At the grave the Masonic fraternity took charge of the services and Mr. Smith was laid to rest with all Masonic honors. About a hundred Masons and Eastern Star ladies came down from Cumberland on a special train. These were joined at Hancock by members of James W. Bowers Lodge and members of the Berkeley Springs Masonic Lodge. The Masonic escort when in double marching line reached from the Masonic Temple to the Methodist Church, and the escort was followed by a large body of Odd Fellows also in double line. Not half of the people were able to get into the church and the funeral in carriages was the largest seen here in late years. Mr. Smith was held in high esteem by the Masons, Odd Fellows and Eastern Stars, his fraternal brothers and sisters. The Masons were in Masonic dress and presented an imposing appearance.

The floral contributions were the finest ever seen in Hancock. From his railroad friends came a fireman's floral shovel with the handle broken, several Masonic designs, an Eastern Star design and a profusion of flowers from his individual friends—there were two automobile loads of them in all.

Just a week ago Sunday Mr. Smith was killed. He was a fireman on an oil fuel passenger train in Arizona. The engineer last saw him sitting on his side of the engine cab. He turned to look out ahead of his engine, when he looked back Mr. Smith was gone and his remains were found along the track when the train had come to a stop. It is supposed that he had stepped out on to the side of the engine for some purpose and fell off accidentally.

The deceased is survived by his parents and a large family of brothers and sisters.

The Odd Fellows lodge also conducted their burial service at the interment.

Vaughn Gordon.

Vaughn Gordon, aged 6 months and 20 days, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Gordon, of Newville, Pa., died last Saturday morning. The remains were brought to Mercersburg by rail last Saturday evening, thence to Mr. B. F. Simpson's in Thompson township. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and interment was made in the graveyard at Antioch church.
