Kid McCoy, the hero of 125 battles, is to open a sanitarium at Stamford. He said the other day to a New York reporter:

"I hope in my sanitarium to restore lots of grumpy middle-aged people to perfect health, and if I give them back perfect health I'll give them back youth and gayety and romance. If middle age is stupid, if middle age is prosaic, it is only because the health of middle age is poor.

"The woman," he continued, "who sends her grumpy mate to my establishment will no longer have to make the bitter complaint of Mrs. Blank."
"My husband, 15 years ago," said Mrs. Blank, "used to kiss me every time we passed through a tunnel. But now—"

"She gave a bitter laugh."
"Now," she said, "he takes a long pull at his traveling flask."

Failed to Scare Tim.
A plan was formed to scare a certain Tim Casey, living in a village near Belfast, on his returning from market by night past the churchyard. As he went by, the usual turnip, white sheet, and lantern of the conventional ghost were submitted to his gaze, with the customary weird howls. Tim, however, simply looked fixedly at the apparition for a moment and remarked: "Arrah, now, and is it a general resurrection, or are ye just taking a walk by yerself?"

SOUND SLEEP
Can Easily Be Secured.

"Up to 2 years ago," a woman writes, "I was in the habit of using both tea and coffee regularly.

"I found that my health was beginning to fail, strange nervous attacks would come suddenly upon me, making me tremble so excessively that I could not do my work while they lasted; I would sleep left me and I passed long nights in restless discomfort. I was filled with a nervous dread as to the future.

"A friend suggested that possibly tea and coffee were to blame, and I decided to give them up, and in casting about for a hot table beverage, which I felt was an absolute necessity, I was led by good fortune to try Postum.

"For more than a year I have used it three times a day and expect, so much good has it done me, to continue its use during the rest of my life.

"Soon after beginning the use of Postum, I found, to my surprise, that, instead of tossing on a sleepless bed through the long, dreary night, I dropped into a sound, dreamless sleep the moment my head touched the pillow.

"Then I suddenly realized that all my nervousness had left me, and my appetite, which had fallen off before, had all at once been restored so that I ate my food with a keen relish.

"All the nervous dread has gone. I walk a mile and a half each way to my work every day and enjoy it. I find an interest in everything that goes on about me that makes life a pleasure. All this I owe to leaving off tea and coffee and the use of Postum, for I have taken no medicine." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

ITALY DECLARES WAR ON TURKEY

Army of 40,000 Men for Tripoli and Navy Prepared to Crush Sultan's Feeble Squadron NAVAL ENGAGEMENT FOUGHT IN ADRIATIC

Blockade of the Entire Coast of Tripoli Ordered—Decision of the Turkish Government Not to Oppose Landing of Troops at Tripoli—Reply to Italian Ultimatum Was Conciliatory and Dilatory—Popular Indignation Intense in Turkey—Martial Law at Constantinople—Threatening Unrest in the Balkan States.

Rome.—Official announcement was made at Rome that a state of war exists between Italy and Turkey, owing to the failure of Turkey to meet the demands of the Italian note presented. The Italian Cabinet decided to proceed at once with the measures previously determined upon for the occupation of Tripoli and Cyrene. Tripoli was occupied and the Italian flag is now flying over the government buildings there.

The first blow in hostilities between Italy and Turkey was struck when an Ottoman destroyer was sunk by an Italian cruiser in the harbor of Prevesa in the Egeus and a force landed on Turkish soil.

When called upon to surrender the town and garrison of Tripoli the Turkish commander there resolutely declined.

A large number of the inhabitants of Italy oppose the war and many were shot down while making public demonstrations against it.

The Turkish squadron, which was lying off Beirut, sailed for the Dardanelles, thus practically placing it at the mercy of the Italians.

The Italian ultimatum is generally approved by the Vienna press, though some journals think Italy has acted overhastily. It is felt that Austria-Hungary should take no action in the Balkans except in conjunction with Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria.

In Berlin Italy's action is generally censured, and it continues to be asserted that England is in reality responsible for the present crisis.

In Rome it is not believed that hostilities will be prolonged, and an early peace is expected.

Cable advices from Constantinople indicated that Turkey decided not to Albanian revolt in Turkey.

At the moment of their departure the mine ship Minerva went ashore, but suffered only slight damage. She carries 150 torpedoes, besides mines.

General Canova will be accompanied with an expeditionary corps commanded by General Bireccio and General Count Gerardi. The first force to be dispatched will consist of 25,000 men and altogether 40,000 troops will be landed in Tripoli.

Regiments Leaving All Chief Towns.
From all the chief Italian towns regiments are departing every day for Palermo, Naples, Brindisi, Syracuse, Catania, Messina, Taranto, Genoa, Ancona and Venice, where they will be embarked in transports. The warships will convey the transports to the Tripoli coast, and this army will be established in Tripoli.

Public indignation against Italy in Turkey is described as intense. Constantinople has been placed under martial law, as a precaution against rioting. A change in the ministry is regarded as likely. At the same time it is reported from Italian sources that the Albanians are petitioning

BRITISH TORPEDO SECRET OUT.

Washington.—The British navy is equipped with a torpedo said to be effective at 10,000 yards, or nearly three times the range of the most powerful projectiles now used in the United States Navy. This information was brought to Washington by an American naval expert who recently discussed developments in torpedo craft and the relative methods of target practice.

STATE CAPITAL CHAT

State Doctors Indorse Dr. Wiley.
The Medical Society of Pennsylvania ended its sixty-first annual meeting at the State Capitol, after Dr. James Tyson, of Philadelphia, the newly-elected president of the organization, had taken his place as the chairman. The society selected Scranton as its place of meeting in 1912, indorsed the work of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley as an enforcer of the pure food laws, and enlisted itself in the campaign to stamp out disease growing out of the social evil.

The closing session was marked by half a dozen papers on such vital subjects as the care of the insane and cancer, one of the exhibits in the latter series being a moving picture showing of a stomach demonstrating the methods of assimilation.

One of the most notable papers of the meeting was by Dr. Chevalier Jackson, of Pittsburgh, who described the manner in which a lack of food removed from the lung of a young woman who was suffering from tuberculosis. The lack was allowed eleven years ago. The woman who was thought to be dying is rapidly improving in health.

Before the eye and ear section of the society, Dr. William Blair, of Pittsburgh, aroused general and complimentary discussion by a paper on preventable blindness. Dr. Blair declared that forty thousand persons in the United States were needlessly blind and that one-third of the cases were due to carelessness.

The work of the welfare department of the Carnegie Steel Company, at Pittsburgh, was given high praise by the speaker. He referred to the inclosure of emery wheels with glass, and the use of wicker work spectacles, and said that as a result of such preventive measures the number of eye accidents in an army of 34,000 men had been reduced to a minimum, hardly thought possible a few years ago. "What one concern has thought it possible to work out on a practical basis toward such a distinctly humanitarian end, I feel that the State should take as a starting point for legislation to the end that the adoption of similarly effective devices shall become mandatory in all branches of labor."

Several of the speakers referred to the new school code's provisions for medical inspection as steps in the right direction.

The delegates elected as trustees: Dr. William T. Staples, West Chester; Dr. Frederick L. Van Sickle, Olyphant, and Dr. A. P. Hill, Montgomery. The trustees re-elected: Dr. T. H. Davies, Pittsburgh, as president, and Dr. C. L. Stevens, Athens, as secretary.

Inspection of Dairy Farms Begun.
State inspection of the dairy farms of Pennsylvania, which was placed in charge of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board a few months ago, was formally inaugurated by Dr. C. J. Marshall, State veterinarian, who has been assured of assistance and support from veterinarians and dairy owners in all sections of the Commonwealth. The plan is to have every veterinarian aid in the work of securing cleanliness in the surroundings and healthfulness in the cattle, it being recognized by the State officials that there are comparatively few dairies in the State that could be rated as excellent. The inspection will be in charge of State agents, under the appropriation made by the last Legislature to the board, and it is the idea to obtain the most complete data possible about every farm or dairy that is supplying milk to the public.

New Method in Distribution of Fish.
Adoption of new methods in the distribution of fish from the State's hatcheries was announced by State Fish Commissioner Buller, and hereafter all applications for fish fry will have to be made upon a new form of blank. These blanks are now being prepared and will be sent to all applicants as rapidly as possible. The idea in making the change is to obtain better results in the distribution. Applicants will be required to furnish complete information as to the locality where the fish are to be planted and the shipments will be followed up to see how the distribution is made, so that there will be a minimum of waste.

Attempt To Kill Game Wardens.
State Game Commission officials are investigating a report sent out from Fulton county, to the effect that attempts were made to kill four game wardens in Fulton county. The attacks were reported as made on wardens who were endeavoring to restrain hunters. Wardens Joseph Kennedy and Ralph Ross reported that in the woods of Fulton county near the State line, they had been fired on by a man named McCormick, a hunter who escaped into Maryland.

Governor Approves Pardons.
The pardons recommended by the State Board of Pardons were approved by the Governor. He also approved the commutations of Geo. L. Marlon, Luzerne, and John R. Edwards, Cambria, who had been sentenced to be hanged.

Lesson in Good Manners.
When the "Boy Scouts" movement was at its height, three of the youngsters journeyed from Baltimore to Washington to be introduced to the president. When Mr. Taft shook hands with them, one of the little fellows stuck out his left hand.
"Why do you give me your left hand?" asked the president.
"That's the way you Boy Scouts shake hands," said the boy with pride.
"Well," commented Mr. Taft dryly, "the sooner you Boy Scouts learn better the nicer you Boy Scouts will be."—The Twice-a-Month Popular Magazine.

A REMARKABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA

Munyon's Stomach Treatment
Performing Miracles.

MUNYON TELLS YOU
HOW TO GET WELL
FREE OF CHARGE

"A few days ago I received a letter from a young man, who states he is 25 years of age, and has occupied several important positions, but owing to indigestion and inability to sleep he has been unable to concentrate his mind upon his work and has consequently been discharged on the ground of neglect of duty. He goes on to say that he is a young man of steady habits, but for years he has suffered from dyspepsia, which has so affected his nerves that he is unable to sleep, and that it is not neglect upon his part, nor lack of interest in his work, but simply physical weakness. He asks my advice in this matter."

"For the benefit of a large number of those similarly situated I propose to answer this letter publicly, hoping that it may be the means of helping many who may be affected in this way."

"In the first place, the stomach must be made well before the nerves can be made strong. The nerves must be made strong before one can sleep well. No one is capable of doing his best who is in any way troubled with insomnia or any form of nervousness. The greatest general has been men of great nervousness and indomitable will. They have had perfect digestion, being able to eat well, and digest all they ate."

"It is said that Napoleon lost the battle of Waterloo because of a fit of indigestion. Grant's enormous reserve power was due to a well stomach. Abraham Lincoln said that he did not know that he had a stomach. Grover Cleveland, it is said, could work 18 hours a day, eat a hearty meal at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, go to bed and sleep soundly until 9 o'clock and get up refreshed, ready for a new day's work."

"The latter part of the history of healthy manhood. Who thinks for one moment that he would be the President of the United States today had not been a dyspeptic or affected with some nervous ailment? I claim that two-thirds of all the failures in professional and business life are due to weak and disturbed stomachs."

"No business house would care to employ a dyspeptic representative to sell goods for them on the road. One-half the men who stand behind counters to-day, carrying from $100 to $10,000 worth of goods, never get beyond these figures for the reason that they are physically weak. They lack the nerve to never let a commanding strength that come from a good, sound stomach."

"No one cares to bear a dyspeptic preacher. No matter how pious he may be he is bound to reflect his bilious and feeble condition upon his hearers, and to inoculate his hearers with his melancholy feelings."

"No one would think of entrusting an important legal case in the hands of a dyspeptic lawyer, any more than he would care to entrust the very life, or that of a dear one, in the hands of a physician who is nervous, irritable or a dyspeptic. Men must be strong, with strong nerves and vital manhood in order to render a clear, clear-cut decision either in medicine, law or business."

"I believe that more than half of the divorces can be traced to ill health. I want every dyspeptic to try my stomach treatment, for it corrects nearly all forms of indigestion and nervousness. It makes old stomachs almost as good as new. Its marvelous power for restoring food and getting the best out of it makes for good rich, red blood. This, in turn, strengthens the nerves, builds up the general system, and will surely prolong life and make it a pleasure to live and do the things allotted to us."

Red Cross Christmas Seals.
A statement denying the recent reports about the abandonment of the Red Cross Christmas seal sale has been issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The statement declares that not only will the sale be held this year, as in the past three years, but that it will be conducted on broader lines than ever before. The only order issued by the postoffice department which bears on the sale of Red Cross seals was sent out on July 1, and prohibits the use of the mails to letters and packages bearing non-postage stamps on the face, and also to any mail bearing seals which resemble postage stamps, if used either on the face or back. The Red Cross seal to be used this year has been submitted to the postoffice department and approved, and thus may be used, but only on the back of letters and packages. The design to be used this year depicts a pretty winter scene enclosed in a heavy red circle. The corners are white, thus giving the effect when affixed to a letter or a package of a round seal.

TOO MUCH FOR SMALL BRAIN

Big Word Meant an Effort, but This Little Girl Made Brave Attempt.

This incident occurred just after a Jewish holiday. It was in a third grade school in Cleveland in a district of Russian and Hungarian Jews. The teacher was explaining the meaning of the word judicious. She asked the children to give her stories about the word.

After several had given illustrations about the judicious use of money, the teacher said: "Now give me a story about something judicious, without money in it." A little girl finally volunteered. She said:

"On our holiday we had roast goose and a whole lot of other Jew dishes."

Thousands suffer from headache, dizziness, and weariness without suspecting their kidneys. James W. Clay, 666 W. Fayette St., Baltimore, Md., says: "I suffered almost constantly from pains in my back and head and was laid up for a week at a time. I could scarcely walk and experienced added annoyance from irregular passage of kidney secretions. After using all kinds of medicine, without relief, I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and received a perfect cure. I have had no trace of kidney trouble since."

The Simple Life.
Anna Maria Wilhelmina Pickering, in her "Memirs," edited by her son, tells a Yorkshire incident which contains a great deal of human nature. Variety spices life; the plain is monotony, until its extent entitles it to the name of prairie or desert, and it gains interest through vastness.

There was an old couple in the village whom I used often to see. One day, when I found them sitting, one on each side of the fire, the old man said to me:

"Well, I ails'd and me, we've been married night on 60 years, and we've never had one quarrel."
The old woman looked at me, with a twinkle in her eye, and said:

Cement Talk No. 8

The appearance of any place can be greatly improved by using concrete wherever possible. If you have a nice home, whether in the city or in the country, you can add greatly to its attractiveness by building not only the sidewalks, but the steps, curbs, fence-posts, cisterns, foundations, driveways, cellars and so on, of concrete. Build of concrete and use UNIVERSAL Portland Cement. Concrete is cheap, easy to use, clean, fire, rat and rot proof. Concrete is the simplest building material and the most durable. You need only UNIVERSAL cement, sand, gravel or crushed stone. But remember to use UNIVERSAL—it is the best cement. It is always of uniform color and of great strength. Ask your dealer for it.
