New Association Gaining Many Members.

FAITH'S CURATIVE POWER

NOTED HEALTH EXPERT GIVES REASON FOR BIG SUCCESS IN MEDICINE

Tremendous success has attended the organization of the new Munyon "Hope Club." Professor Munyon claims that he has secured more converts than he even anticipated, and says that his "Hope Club" is growing so rapidly that it is estimated that the total membership of the association throughout the United States is now well over the half million mark.

In a statement for publication, Prof. Munyon said: "I want to talk to every sick, ailing and despondent person in this city. I want to preach my new creed to them. I want to tell them about my new philosophy of health, which is the fruit of a lifetime of study and experience in dealing with sick folk. I want to sound the Great Truth that I have learned that there is more curative power in an ounce of Hope than in pounds of drugs. That sick people should not take medicine except as a medium through which the great curative power of Hope may be made effective. Medicine is necessary in the present state of the world's progress because they give a patient physical support and strength and renewed vigor with which to brace up the will power. One knows, from the action of the proper medicine, that he or she is feeling better by this inspired hope and faith, which completely overcomes the disease. I think that probably a million persons at least in the United States have declared themselves cured by my medicine, and I know that these people have had the best remedies medical science has to offer. I have always contended that if there is any virtue in medicine, my followers should have the best, but I truly believe that more than one-half of those who have been lifted to health, from the bondage of chronic illness, through taking my medicine, have been really cured by the knowledge that they had the utmost in medical lore at their command, and the Hope inspired faith. I am not in any sense a practicing physician. I employ at my laboratories in Philadelphia a large staff of expert physicians and chemists, and I have many other physicians in various cities of the United States detailed to give free advice to the sick and afflicted. My headquarters are at Munyon's Laboratories, 331 and Jefferson Sts., Phila., Pa., and I have there a staff of daily registered physicians and consulting experts, and to all who desire it I offer the best medical advice absolutely free of charge."

Write today, addressing Prof. J. M. Munyon personally, and your letter will have a special cure.

Not in Circulation There.
An error of a new clerk in the mailing department of an eastern publisher was responsible, the other day, for the mailing of a prospectus to a world-famous statesman, who had been dead for some years. The letter was returned a few days later with the following indorsement: "In Heaven, 1911. Gentlemen: As your publications are not permitted to circulate here, I believe it would be useless for me to subscribe for them. Yours respectfully," and here followed the name of the famous statesman.

An Exacting Situation.
"Doctor," said the nervous man, "is there any way of teaching a person to talk in his sleep?"

"I never heard of any," replied the physician. "How could such an accomplishment be of benefit?"

"It's either that or insomnia for me. My wife is one of the best suffragette speakers before the public. She always rehearses her orations at home, and I've got to say 'hear! hear!' or 'that's the stuff!' at least once every ten minutes."—Washington Star.

This One is on Hugh.
"When I came into the Union station the other morning, after traveling all night," said Hugh Reilly, at the Commercial club, "I went into the barber shop. 'When you spend the night in a sleeping car,' I said to the barber, 'it doesn't improve your personal appearance, does it?'"

"Well," said he, as he looked me over, "I don't know how you looked when you started, but perhaps you're right."—Washington Herald.

The Climatic Autocrat.
"What I should like," said the self-indulgent person, "would be to have wealth enough to permit me to live in a cool place in summer, and regulate the temperature according to my own fancy in winter."

"You don't need wealth. What you want is the job of janitor."

Be sure your sorrow is not giving you its best, unless it makes you a more thoughtful person than you have ever been before.—Phillips Brooks.

Laws to Stop Flood Disasters.

After an all-day session the State Water Supply Commission announced that it would have further inquiry made into the causes of the breaking of the Bayless dam at Austin and would recommend legislation to give it full authority over all dams in the state, existing or to be built. The position of the commission was indicated by this statement:

"The Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania at its meeting today after careful hearing and consideration of the facts submitted to it by three members of that body who have been on the ground since the disaster, as well as the report of its chief engineer, who was in Austin fifteen hours after the break, has decided to recommend to the Governor and Legislature the enactment of legislation as will preclude the probability of such occurrences.

"This recommendation concerning legislation will include dams heretofore constructed, as well as any future obstruction that may be placed in any stream. In the judgment of the commission such legislation is absolutely essential, as under existing law it is possible to place obstructions in streams not heretofore declared public highways without the knowledge of the Water Supply Commission, or any other State or public official."

The commission also directed a further careful investigation of the destroyed dam, its original design, method of construction and character of foundation.

Start Work on "Narrows."

Work was begun Wednesday by contractors of this city on the first section of what is destined to be the State's main highway between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, passing through the famed Lewistown "Narrows."

The Harrisburg company has the contract for four and a half miles in Perry Township, Mifflin county, and a Punxsutawney man the Juniata country, end of six and three-fourths miles. The contract price on the first is $99,000 and on the second $129,000.

Part of the road will run through a fine forest, over four miles having been cut so that it will be above all danger of high water in the Juniata river. The road will be over twenty feet wide and of Telford asphaltic macadam, the Telford being of eight by five inch stone blocks covered by three inches of macadam mixed with asphalt.

The road will be uniform and well equipped with drains to carry off any water coming down the hillsides. Big cuts will be made and telegraph and telephone poles removed for some distance.

The road has been prepared for grading by a corps of men from the State Highway Department and will be constructed under the supervision of Engineer George H. Hiles, Philadelphia. The grading will be pushed and some concreting may be done this fall.

Good Freight Movement.

The freight movement over the Pennsylvania Railroad through Harrisburg was 169,746 cars, the best of any September in three years, and was a very fair showing considering the business being handled.

Full Crew Law Hearing Set.

Attorney-General John C. Bell announced that the argument on the full crew law contest would be heard in the Dauphin County Court probably on October 26 and 27. It was originally set for October 11.

Buller Visits McCall.

Fish Commissioner Nathan R. Buller made an inspection of the conditions at McCall's Ferry dam, where complaints have been made about the fishways and the fishing conditions. The Commissioner stated that he would prepare a statement on the results of his observations.

Prohibitionists State Ticket.

Burton L. Rockwood, chairman of the Prohibition State Committee, announced that the Prohibitionists had named complete tickets in fifty-six counties of the State. Tickets will be named by committees in other counties and a campaign in the interest of the party candidates started in every county.

Heavy State Receipts.

State Treasury receipts Monday aggregated $483,235.58, the largest of any day in a month. One of the largest payers was the Standard Oil Company, which paid for State taxes on stock of subsidiary companies $238,000, while the Pittsburgh Coal Company paid $94,357.16; the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, $40,600.

State Seeks Highway Bids.

The State Highway Department asked for bids for the construction of the third section of road to be built under the Sprout mill highway law. It is located in Moreland township, Montgomery county, and is to be 6,500 feet long. Bids will close October 26. The department has let the contract for construction of 5048 feet of road in Salladasburg, Lycoming county, to the Juniata Paving Company of Philadelphia, at $13,225.40.

STRUGGLING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF WORLD

RIGHTS OF A RUNNER

Cobb Declares Spikings Are Results of Attempt to Block.

Greatest of Baseball Players Says He Would Not Intentionally Injure Fellow Player—Football Tactics Are Used.

"I hate to be referred to as a brute," says Ty Cobb, greatest of ball players, and now in the zenith of his grand career. "It isn't very pleasant for a fellow to be called a rough performer and a deliberate crippler of his fellowmen. I wouldn't intentionally hurt another player for twice my salary, and yet, whenever somebody bumps up against these spikes or mine, they all say I do it intention ally, and discuss which would be the better way—to eliminate the spike or to eliminate T. Raymond Cobb.

"Let's have a little understanding about this thing and, also, let's go back into baseball history a little way. Long ago there were players, some of them much slower and heavier than myself, so I am told by veterans who knew them, players who, despite this bulk and slowness, stole more bases to the season than I do nowadays. I find from the old guides that there were dozens of men who made good baserunning records, say from thirty to seventy a season, and that this wasn't considered at all remarkable. And yet I fail to find in the old newspapers mention of many collisions, or many cases where basemen were spliced by the sliding runners.

"What does all that mean? Simply this: that in those days everybody recognized the right of the base runner to a clear field and a fair chance to steal the next cushion if he had the speed and skill. Nowadays the infielders think that the way to stop a runner is to use football tactics; to step way over on the side of the base nearest to the approaching stealer and block him off from reaching the bag. They receive you on their shins or feet, they strive to check your slide so that it will be a physical impossibility for you to arrive at the base, and then they bring down the ball for the putout.

"It's worst of all at the home plate, for there the armored catcher, with a big body protector and shinguards, meets you as you come in and squats on you or on the base path, so that you can't butt through or squirm past his huge bulk. As a result of these tactics nobody dares to slide head-first nowadays. Duff and McCarthy, who were great base runners in the olden times, have told me that in their day the acme of perfection was to one side and reaching out a hand to touch the base. The man who tried that now would get his hand spiked or his neck broken.

"Now, under all baseball law and the logic of common sense, the base runner has a right to try for his base with a clear field and no football blocking. I believe that, and I insist upon it. Furthermore, I don't want to play hog. Half that base is mine, and I claim that half whenever I go after it.

"I don't slide past the bag, nor even over the boundary of the half that's mine. If the baseman stands where he belongs, on the half-base that is his, or on the farther side, he won't get spiked, and he has a fair, even chance, if he is active with his hands, to touch me out. That's square enough, isn't it?"

"If the baseman deliberately comes over the base, standing in the road so that I have no chance to slide in except by violent contact with him, whose fault is it if he gets the spikes? Think it all over and then decide; am I a brute, a butcher or a reformer? I think that I'm a real reformer, correcting abuses and trying to bring back certain phases of the game to their condition in the earlier days."

Players Have Idols.

Sherwood Magee of the Phillies saw Hans Wagner in action for the first time when the Pirates played an exhibition game against the Warrenton (Pa.) team. Magee was only eleven years of age at the time, and Wagner was playing with Warren. The Pirates were then under the leadership of Connie Mack. Another member of the Warren team was Claude Ritchey, the former Pirate star, and this year with the Colonels.

Al Kaiser, now with the Boston Nationals, saw Ritchey play with the Cincinnati Reds many years ago. Al Kaiser was only a kid at the time, but at the beginning of this season played on the same team with the veteran who was his idol long ago.

BIG SLUGGERS STRIKE OUT

Tyrus Cobb, Larry Lajoie and Honus Wagner Have All Fanned Three Times in Single Game.

Those discussing the relative merits of the big league batsmen, Ty Cobb, Larry Lajoie and Hans Wagner, can no longer remark in any argument against Cobb that the world's greatest ball player has been fanned three times in one game while Lajoie and Wagner never underwent that torture. Manning, who used to pitch for the New York Highlanders, set down Tyrus three times in a game played in New York. That was some time ago. Still, Wagner and Lajoie never experienced the same displeasure until recently, and a peculiar coincidence was that both Larry and Hans fanned three times on the same afternoon.

George Suggs, former Tiger, pitcher for Cincinnati, handed it to Hans, while Ed Walsh, who won fame this season by pitching a no-hit no-run game, struck out Larry in three out of four times at bat.

Best Southpaw Pitcher.
John McGraw says Marquard right now is a better left-handed pitcher than the famous Rube Waddell. Marquard, he declares, has greater speed and better control than Waddell, while his department of the field makes him vastly more reliable. As Marquard is a horse for work it will not be surprising if McGraw, near the end of the race, if necessary, uses him in every other game, with Mathewson as alternate.

The Giants' manager hasn't the same confidence in Wiltsie, Ames and the other New York pitchers.

AROUND THE BASES

Cleveland has signed a Baskette and Cincinnati a Bagby. Buckeye forever. Chance seems to have a couple of O'Tooles in Cheney and Charley Smith.

Hildebrand, the Great Falls (Mont.) pitcher drafted by the Reds, is having his first season in professional ball, and he made his entry by pitching a no-hit game for the Great Falls team.

The mid-season training stunt of the Pirates—a two days' rest at West Baden—may be all right, but remember what happened to the Phillies after Fogel took them to Atlantic City?

Tom O'Brien, who comes from Denver to Boston with Casey Hagerman, is hailed as the Marty O'Toole of the Western league, and Denver fans will be greatly disappointed if he falls in this time up.

First Baseman Fred Hunter, for whom Pittsburgh turned over to Kansas City about $12,000 worth of players, has been released to the Indianapolis club of the American association. The deal is said to be an outright sale for nothing but cash.

President C. H. Ebbets of the Brooklyn club has filed an objection to the action of the national commission the other day in limiting each club to 40 players. Ebbets says that in trying to build up his Brooklyn club he needs more than that number and wants the clubs to vote on the proposition before the proposed new rule is made effective.

Fred Tenney, at present manager of the Boston club, was elected vice-president and director of the club at a meeting of the board of directors. Tenney's promotion to the vice-presidency probably means that he will look after the business interests of the club next year and Johnny Kling, the former Cub, who many think is now managing the club, will be selected as leader.

"POP" ANSON WAS EASY MARK

Captain Refused to Play Game With Louisville on Receipt of Fake Telegram Signed "Hart."

"Pop Anson was always an easy mark for the practical joker," said Walter Wilmot in a laughing bee the other day. "One time the old White Stockings were playing at Louisville. A firm in that city was making a ball known as the Bateman. The players didn't like the ball—which the Louisville club was then using—because it would get soft so quickly. So on the morning of the third day Jim Ryan took a sending blank and in his own handwriting fixed up the alleged telegram from Chicago addressed to Anson:

"Don't play today if Bateman ball is used."

"This fake message was signed 'Jim Hart,' and Anson took it as an order from his boss that had to be obeyed. He did refuse to play and there was a big rumour.

"When we got back to Chicago Mr Hart met us at the station.

"Why didn't you play Tuesday?" he demanded.

"Because they wanted to use the Bateman ball," said Anson.

"What has the Bateman ball got to do with it?" howled Hart.

"Why, I simply obeyed your telegram," said Anson meekly.

"I sent you no telegram," shouted Hart, now in a rage.

"Anson fished out the fake message and flashed it in Hart's face.

"And you fell for that, did you?" sneered Hart. "Why, didn't you know our club will be fined $500 for not playing that game? And so it was Anson hunted high and low for the man who wrote him that message, but I don't think he knows to this day it was old Jimmy Ryan."

WALSH NOT GOOD AS JOHNSON

So Declares Danny Murphy of the Champion Athletics—Even Towers Over Mathewson.

Johnson, Walsh, Greer, Clontze, Ford. That's the ranking order of the American league boxmen outside of the Athletic pitchers, according to Danny Murphy, the heavy stickler of the Athletics.

He says that Walter Johnson, right, is the best pitcher he ever faced in his life, and he doesn't bar the impeccable Mathewson when the latter defeated the Mackmen in the 1905 world's series. Walsh, he says, is the funniest pitcher to face, as you know what is coming. The miner of Meriden, Danny says, only has a fast one and a spitter, but the fielding behind him makes him invincible. This is due to the fact that you cannot whale the spittball upward, but must keep it on the ground and it rolls along indolently at that.

Gregg is a corker, according to Murphy, who states that the Portland plasterer knows how to mix his stuff up better than any pitcher he has seen break into the league for some time.

Cicotte and Ford are both dangerous men, Danny asserts, and he claims that when they are right they have as much on the ball as anybody in the business.

Murphy couldn't run game or heard of Walsh's no hit no run game of recent date.

High Ball Seldom Used.

It is a noticeable fact that the most successful pitchers these days are those who seldom pitch a high ball, and yet there was a time when the high ball had the batters guessing. Today, however, the pitcher with the high ones does not last long. The batters have mastered this delivery and the pitchers have been forced to change their style of pitching entirely. There are decidedly few players these days who hit the low balls, and very few who cannot hit a high one. Most of the long hits made during a season are on balls that are pitched above the waist. Not only is it easier to follow the course of a ball which is pitched on about a level with the waist line, but the swing in most instances is more natural.

Special Ground Rule Costly.

The special ground rule made on the Polo grounds to accommodate John T. Brush's automobile, which is anchored on the right field foul line, cost Cincinnati a game against the Giants recently. Marsans hit a drive which bounded under the auto. Under the rule it was good for but two bases and but one run was allowed to score. Ordinarily it would have been good for three bases, two runs would have scored and Marsans would have been on third, from where he could have scored the winning run on the next play.

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try It Free

Simple Way for Any Family to Retain the Good Health of All Its Members.

The editors of "Health Hint" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in Spohn's Pink Eye, Epsom Salt and Cathartic Syrup, have the best claim to attention from constipated people.

Its success in the cure of stomach constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to begin do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Giveller of St. Milwaukee, Wis., Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Chicago, Ill., and thousands of others. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor.

WANTED TO BE AN AVIATOR

Missouri Girl Evidently Very Much in Earnest in Her Desire to Navigate the Air.

Mr. Claude Grabame-White, the famous English aviator, is constantly besought by young women to teach them to become aviators. Many make application by letter. One of these letters reached him the other day from a point in Missouri. Cleared of its errors in grammar, spelling and capitalization, it read something like this:

"Oh, Mr. Grabame-White, teach me to be a 'pliner.' I saw one of them at Kansas City and I think it is just heavenly. I would like to run a Wright monoplane or a Bleriot biplane, but if you have a better flyer I would try that. I think I would look cute running a baby flyer. Pa says he wouldn't mind my having a baby one. Couldn't you bring one out here for a week or so and show me how to run it? I assure you a good time."

Mr. Grabame-White was compelled to decline the young woman's kind invitation.

WHERE DOCTORS FAILED.

Terrible Kidney Trouble Cured After Physicians Gave Up Hope.

Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, 642 Beckley St., Camden, N. J., says: "I became so bloated I could not button my dress. My head ached terribly and I was so dizzy I had to grasp something to keep from falling. A retention of kidney secretions set in and I often went 48 hours without a passage. Three physicians treated me but I gradually grew worse. As a last resort I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and when I had used seven boxes, I was a well woman. I have had no return of kidney trouble during the past three years."
