James J. Harris.

Out of the hotly contested fight for the nomination for the office of Sheriff of Fulton county, on the Democratic ticket came James Harris victorious. His two opponents were both very worthy and able men but all could not win. Jim got the most votes, therefore he was nominated.

We have in this man the right kind of material for the office which he seeks. He is a man of good judgment and is honest in purpose.

If elected there is no doubt but that he will conduct the business of the office to the best interests of the people. Jim is a whole

For Prothonotary

H. Wisbart Wink is right in the prime of life; he is a man of good character; he is a self-made man. Through his own patient and persevering efforts, he has succeeded in getting such an education as makes him rank among the most successful teachers. He has had to earn every dollar that he has spent for this education, and every dollar that he possesses. If he should not be elected prothonotary next Tuesday, it will be because he does not get votes enough. Your vote will help him to win. Is there any good reason why he should be turned down? The office would come mighty good to a worthy man. If he was not capable to fill the office, that would be another matter. He is capable. Why not give Wisbart a lift?

For Associate Judge

To the Voters of Fulton County: Owing to the fact that the time is short, and that I will not be able to make a house-to-house canvass, I want to take this opportunity, if you think I am worthy to fill the office of Associate Judge, to ask you to give me your support at the election next Tuesday. If elected, I promise to do what is right so far as lies within my power, and it shall be my constant endeavor to treat all men alike—whether rich or poor, bond or free, and to work for the best interests of all the people in the County.

Useful Machine.

Speed madness is the bane of automobiling. The automobile is a highly useful machine. In a sense it is the twentieth century epitomized. The get there spirit the ease and comfort of transportation, the scientific application of motor power to free road vehicles, all are combined in the "horseless carriage." For business, for pleasure, as a means of convenient and reasonably rapid transit it is far in advance of any other vehicle ever designed. From year to year it is being improved in quality and cheapened in price. In a few years it will have become the poor man's carriage, relatively speaking, so that any man who formerly was able to maintain a family "hack" and team may own and operate his family automobile.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Number One. A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof—

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and coordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas, number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be approved by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.
