Galbraith P. Rodgers, the first transcontinental aviator, was a student in the Mercersburg academy in the year 1897-98. He played guard on the football team. Mr. Rodgers received distinction recently by being the first aviator to fly across the continent. He left New York in September. He flew to Los Angeles, a distance of 4141 miles, in 4860 minutes flying time.

These Trespass Notices.

The hunting season is on, and this has caused the posting of a large number of trespass notices. It is the exceptional man who has no regard for the rights of property owners that causes so many "keep off" notices to be tacked up. The majority of hunters pass over fields and woods with no intention of doing damage, nor do they do any, but occasionally the man who is a hog under all circumstances takes a notion to hunt, and when he does so he is all hog, and everybody knows what a hog can do when turned loose. The property owner is obliged to guard against this hunting hog and in doing so the trespass notices necessarily stare the unobjectionable hunter in the face.

What a Boy Thinks of Hens.

Hens are curious animals. They don't have no nose, nor no teeth, nor no ears. They swallow their vittles whole, and chew it up inside of 'em. The outside of hens is generally put into pillers and made into feather dusters. The inside of a hen is sometimes filled up with marbles and shirt buttons and such. A hen is very much smaller than a good many other animals, but they'll dig up more tomato plants than anything that ain't a hen. Hens is very useful to lay eggs for plum-pudding. Bet your life I like plum-pudding. Skinny Bates ate so much plum-pudding once that it set him to the colery. Hens has got wings, and can fly when they are scart. I out my Uncle William's hen's neck off with a hatchet, and it scart her to death. Hens sometimes makes very fine spring chickens.

Underwent Surgical Operation.

Miss Jessie Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, of this place, underwent a surgical operation in a hospital in Pittsburg yesterday. Her sister Miss Zoe, who was with her at the time, wires her parents that the operation was successful, and her physician believes that Miss Mason will be perfectly restored to health. During the past two years, a tumor had been developing, which was gradually undermining the young lady's health; and while she shrank from the thought of the surgeon's knife, her physician assured her that an operation was the only alternative.

Miss Mason has been engaged in the public schools at Vandergraft, Pa., as teacher, and took advantage of a two-weeks' vacation to go to the hospital.

Home Vs. Big City Paper.

Sometimes when the publisher in the smaller towns refuses to reduce the price of his publication, or perhaps increases the rate because it has been too low, he is confronted with the statement that a big daily from the city can be obtained almost as cheap. The reader forgets that it is the quality, not the quantity, that makes the publication valuable to him.

He may from day to day scan the columns of the foreign publication and not find one item of town or country interest, while in the home paper such matters are given prominence and are recorded with a regularity and completeness that places the reader in touch with all that is going on about him. A thousand and one things of deep concern are mentioned in the home paper that never see the light of day in the "big daily" upon which so much stress is laid. Yes, there is much reading in the latter publication, but the valued information wanted is not there, and hence it is cheap in comparison to the home paper that helps the reader toward making and saving money.

CLEAR RIDGE.

Miss Irene F. Kerlin spent the past week with her sister Blanche, Mrs. Bert Henry in the Cove.

Do most farmers appreciate the necessity of blanketing their horses? If you would really know how an unblanketed horse feels after violent exercise in cold weather, take a brisk run of a mile or so and then stand where the cold wind will strike you for half an hour.

Miss Inez Winegardner has been on the sick list, but is getting better again.

Quite a number of hunters from a distance have been registered at Hotel Baker.

Mrs. B. S. Winegardner and bright little boys, Clarence and Donald, spent a week recently with her sister Mrs. Bert Henry in the Cove. They have returned highly pleased with their trip.

Rumor says Mr. and Mrs. Baker are going to retire from the hotel work, in the spring. They are very popular and Mrs. Baker is a most excellent cook. We would like to see them continue the work.

We learn there will be no more auctions at this place until the holiday season.

A FAIR OFFER

Your Money Back if You're not Satisfied

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial, if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. That's a mighty broad statement, but we mean every word of it. Could anything be more fair for you?

A most scientific, common sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies, which are eaten like candy. Their active principle is a recent scientific discovery that is odorless, colorless, and tasteless; very pronounced, yet gentle and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. They do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping, or any inconvenience whatever. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

If you suffer from chronic or habitual constipation, or the associate or dependent chronic ailments, we urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Remember, you can get them in McConnellsburg only at our store. 12 tablets 10 cents; 36 tablets 25 cents; 80 tablets 50 cents. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. Leslie W. Seylar.

An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a nice appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enamel paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient portable heating device you can find. An automatically-locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.

Dealers everywhere. Ask yours to show you the Perfection Heater enameled; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of The Atlantic Refining Company (Incorporated)
