Pleasant Social Event.

Sunday, November 26th in this year of grace, 1911, was Mr. L. B. Mellott's birthday; so the thought occurred to his sister-in-law, Mrs. George C. Mellott of Webster Mills, that to invite, on the sly, a few of his neighbors and friends to forgather at his home near Sipe's Mill, Pa., might be the means of bringing about a very pleasant social occasion.

Accordingly the invitations were issued, and the people in the neighborhood of which Mr. Mellott has not long been a resident, responded to the extent that there was assembled a jolly company, and the surprise was complete.

To any one who has ever been so fortunate as to be present on one of these occasions the telling about the dinner would be superfluous, so we shall leave this to your imagination and envy.

Neither need it be said there was a full quota of gifts. The guests were, Charles Bard wife and daughters, Cleo and Ruby; Mrs. D. D. Hann and sons Jacob, Judson, and Charlie; Geo. C. Mellott, wife and son Harold; Howard Truax and wife; Mrs. Milton Mellott; Mrs. Elizabeth Mellott; John Hollinshead and wife; W. R. Palmer, wife and daughter, Nell; and Ray Mellott.

WHIPS COVE.

My! My! Mr. Editor, if you could just spare the time to shoulder your camera and come down to Whips Cove and take some snap shots of those of our good people who are wearing high and lofty smiles, peculiar in those whose homes the Stork has made a recent visit, what a preservation that would be! A little dishwasher was left at C. T. Laytons. Our good neighbor, Sherman Truax says his pantaloon are much too small since that big boy arrived last Wednesday night.

Was In It.

L. L. Cunningham, of New Grenada, who is visiting in the home of his son in law in Altron, Ohio, had an experience on Tuesday of last week that he will not soon forget. He was leisurely walking along one of the principal streets looking at the displays in the shop windows, when—boom! went something, and the air was at once filled with flying debris, and stench of sewer gas. It was like a young earthquake, and destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property, besides injuring many people. The trouble came from an explosion of a sewer man right in the heart of the town. L. L. is congratulating himself that he escaped so well.

ACT ON FIVE MORE

Amendments—Next State Legislature to Decide on Matter of State-wide Importance.

Five proposed amendments to the constitution of Pennsylvania will be laid before the general assembly of 1913 and if they are passed by that legislature will be submitted for the approval of the voters that year. These five proposed amendments were approved by the legislature of 1911 and under the requirements of the constitution must be twice passed by the legislature before going to the people.

The most important of the amendments and which will probably figure considerably in the campaign of 1912 when half of the members of the senate and all of the members of the next house of representatives will be selected, is that proposing that the general assembly may authorize the borrowing of $50,000,000 for improvement of public roads.

This amendment, which is designed to provide the funds for the construction of the state's system of main highways, was generally favored in last legislature and it is not believed that it will be seriously opposed in the coming session because of the sentiment in favor of good roads. It is the idea to issue bonds as required.

When the proposition passes the next general assembly a special election might be called for the purpose of voting on the amendment and the enabling legislation passed so that the money be made available in 1913.

CHILDREN INJURED

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in McConnellsburg only at our store.—The Rexall Store, Leslie W. Soyler.
